Shona A Level Novels:

Zimbabwe's Cinematic Arts Katrina Daly Thompson, 2013 This timely book reflects on discourses of identity that pervade local talk and texts in Zimbabwe a nation beset by political and economic crisis As she explores questions of culture that play out in broadly accessible local and foreign film and television Katrina Daly Thompson shows how viewers interpret these media and how they impact everyday life language use and thinking about community She offers a unique understanding of how media reflect and contribute to Zimbabwean culture language and ethnicity Now That the Dust Has Settled Athanasio Dzadagu, 2015-03-26 In this book I try to explore why one section of the Catholic Community connected with the late Archbishop Chakaipa was overtaken by great remorse when he died while another went into jubilation This leads me into the examination of what kind of person Archbishop Chakaipa was I do this in the context of his family background and his priestly and Episcopal ministries He was of the Unendoro clan with a history tracing back to Karanga roots In his Seminary years he wrote five Shona novels which became very influential in developing Shona literacy He earned enduring respect across the entire Zimbabwean nation for this achievement Within Church circles Archbishop Chakaipas name is synonymous with the policy of self reliance which was his signal achievement in the Archdiocese of Harare He was determined to see the development of indigenous Zimbabwean writers frustrated that the world of ideas in Zimbabwe was dominated by Eurogenic of European origin missionaries In his view such Eurogenic intellectual domination undermined Zimbabwean and African independence In the book I argue that while Archbishop Chakaipa was a hero indeed one deserving of canonisation as a Catholic saint true respect for him should also acknowledge his negative qualities

Jeanne-Marie Jackson, 2021-01-12 An ambitious look at the African novel and its connections to African philosophy in the twentieth and twenty first centuries The African Novel of Ideas focuses on the role of the philosophical novel and the place of philosophy more broadly in the intellectual life of the African continent from the early twentieth century to today Examining works from the Gold Coast South Africa Uganda and Zimbabwe and tracing how such writers as J E Casely Hayford Imraan Coovadia Tendai Huchu Jennifer Nansubuga Makumbi and Stanlake Samkange reconcile deep contemplation with their social situations Jeanne Marie Jackson offers a new way of reading and understanding African literature Jackson begins with Fante anticolonial worldliness in prenationalist Ghana moves through efforts to systematize Shona philosophy in 1970s Zimbabwe looks at the Ugandan novel Kintu as a treatise on pluralistic rationality and arrives at the treatment of philosophical suicide by current southern African writers As Jackson charts philosophy's evolution from a dominant to marginal presence in African literary discourse across the past hundred years she assesses the push and pull of subjective experience and abstract thought The first major transnational exploration of African literature in conversation with philosophy The African Novel of Ideas redefines the place of the African experience within literary history

Tales of the Nation Lene Bull-Christiansen, 2004 In light of the uses and misuses of history in Zimbabwean politics in recent years this research report focuses on how versions of the country's liberation war history have become a site of struggle over the definition of Zimbabwean national identity As identity politics often do Zimbabwean nationalism draws on a wide field of cultural symbols of identity and political discourses of inclusion and exclusion Therefore the report takes a cross disciplinary approach to the issue of national identity by mapping out the imaginary field of Zimbabwean nationalism This approach opens up the possibility of cross reading the political discourses of the President and the ruling party ZANU PF with opposing voices such as those in the works of the author Yvonne Vera This cross reading shows how Vera's novels and the political discourses participate in the struggle over Zimbabwean national identity by offering different versions of the nation's history in the form of patriotic history feminist nationalism or narratives of difference In this way the research report adds to our understanding of power and resistance in Zimbabwean politics of national identity

Postcolonial Resistance David Jefferess, 2008-01-01 Despite being central to the project of postcolonialism the concept of resistance has received only limited theoretical examination Writers such as Frantz Fanon Edward Said and Homi K Bhabha have explored instances of revolt opposition or subversion but there has been insufficient critical analysis of the concept of resistance particularly as it relates to liberation or social and cultural transformation In Postcolonial Resistance David Jefferess looks to redress this critical imbalance Jefferess argues that interpreting resistance as these critics have done as either acts of opposition or practices of subversion is insufficient He discerns in the existing critical literature an alternate paradigm for postcolonial politics and through close analyses of the work of Mohandas Gandhi and the South African reconciliation project Postcolonial Resistance seeks to redefine resistance to reconnect an analysis of colonial discourse to material structures of colonial exploitation and inequality Engaging works of postcolonial fiction literary criticism historiography and cultural theory Jefferess conceives of resistance and reconciliation as dependent upon the transformation of both the colonial subject and the antagonistic nature of colonial power In doing so he reframes postcolonial conceptions of resistance violence and liberation thus inviting future scholarship in the field to reconsider past conceptualizations of political power and opposition to that power
