

The following is an incomplete table of values for  $y = 12 + 2x - x^2$ .

$x$	-3	-2	-1	0	1	2	3	4	5
$y$	-3	$p$	6	12	15	12	$q$	4	-3

- (a) Find the value of  $p$  and the value of  $q$ . [2]
- (b) Using a scale of 2 cm to represent 1 unit on the  $x$ -axis and 2 cm to represent 2 units on the  $y$ -axis draw the graph of  $y = 12 + 2x - x^2$ . [4]
- (c) Use your graph to find
- the roots of the equation  $12 + 2x - x^2 = 0$ ,
  - the gradient of  $y = 12 + 2x - x^2$  at  $x = 1$ ,
  - the equation whose roots are  $-1$  and  $3$ , giving your answer in the form  $12 + 2x - x^2 = k$  where  $k$  is an integer. [4]

University of Alberta Canada      Saving the News Martha Minow, 2021 In Saving the News Martha Minow takes stock of the new media landscape. She focuses on the extent to which our constitutional system is to blame for the current parlous state of affairs and on our government's responsibilities for alleviating the problem. She further outlines an array of necessary reforms including a new fairness doctrine regulating digital platforms as public utilities using antitrust authority to regulate the media, policing fraud and more robust funding of public media.

Civil Society and the Party-state in Zimbabwe Zenzo Moyo, 2024-08-21 The book utilises Gramsci's concepts of hegemony, counter-hegemony, organic intellectuals and integral state to interrogate how modes of engagement between the state and civil society have contributed to a polarised polity in Zimbabwe and in turn how this has impacted democratisation processes. This was achieved by analysing intra-civil society interactions and state-civil society relations which established deep polarised relationships that can be traced back to the liberation struggle. It also interrogates ideologies that drive these polarised relations and how together with material benefits from donors and the party-state these relations impact ordinary people's modes of existence. One of the arguments that emerge from the book is that political polarisation in Zimbabwe has now morphed into an established political culture that has played a huge role in the retardation of democratic struggles. It uses ideas of entangled modernities and travelling theory to cast doubt on the belief that civil society is the missing key in the democratisation of developing countries.

The Oxford Guide to the Bantu Languages Lutz Marten, Ellen Hurst-Harosh, Nancy C. Kula, Jochen Zeller, 2025-08-19 This volume brings together leading scholars from Africa, Europe, the Americas and beyond to provide a detailed account of the languages of the Bantu family which cover an area from Cameroon and Kenya in the north to South Africa in the south. The Bantu family is part of the Niger-Congo phylum and one of the world's biggest language groups comprising around 500 languages. The family includes major languages with large numbers of speakers such as Zulu, Kinyarwanda and Swahili, the most widely spoken and taught African language as well as many community languages and several endangered languages. Bantu languages feature prominently in the complex and multilingual language ecologies that are characteristic of the linguistic situation in much of Africa and they provide rich evidence for the study of theoretical and comparative linguistics, language contact and language change. They play an important role in education, commerce, culture and artistic expression in the media and public discourse in governance and social justice and are central to the future of the continent and the well-being of its communities. The first part of The Oxford Guide to the Bantu Languages provides background and context with chapters exploring the history of research in the field, language and prehistory in Bantu-speaking Africa and typology and variation. Chapters in the second part offer broad comparative overviews of Bantu phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics and pragmatics. Socio and applied linguistics. Parts III-VII cover more specific topics in Bantu linguistics across a variety of subfields ranging from structural issues such as the augment and melodic tone to historical and sociolinguistic topics such as Bantu languages in the diaspora and language policy and standardization. The chapters in the final part offer individual structural overviews of a range of languages from across the Bantu speaking area The book will be an essential resource for students and researchers specializing in the Bantu languages and for typologists and comparative linguists more broadly

The Bantu Languages Mark Van de Velde, Koen Bostoen, Derek Nurse, Gérard Philippson, 2019-01-30 Written by an international team of experts this comprehensive volume presents grammatical analyses of individual Bantu languages comparative studies of their main phonetic phonological and grammatical characteristics and overview chapters on their history and classification It is estimated that some 300 to 350 million people or one in three Africans are Bantu speakers Van de Velde and Bostoen bring together their linguistic expertise to produce a volume that builds on Nurse and Philippson's first edition The Bantu Languages 2nd edition is divided into two parts Part 1 contains 11 comparative chapters and Part 2 provides grammar sketches of 12 individual Bantu languages some of which were previously undescribed The grammar sketches follow a general template that allows for easy comparison Thoroughly revised and updated to include more language descriptions and the latest comparative insights New to this edition new chapters on syntax tone reconstruction and language contact 12 new sketch grammars thoroughly updated chapters on phonetics aspect tense mood and classification exhaustive catalogue of known languages with essential references This unique resource remains the ideal reference for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students of Bantu linguistics and languages It will be of interest to researchers and anyone with an interest in historical linguistics linguistic typology and grammatical analysis Fifty Years

Challenge for Conserving Earth Ecosystems in the Long Term Monica M. C. Muelbert, 2024-12-24 National and international agencies need assessments of change in ecosystems and their drivers in order to sustain natural systems to maintain the delivery of services and to meet the challenge for conserving Earth ecosystems in the long term In marine systems change may arise directly from human activities e.g. fisheries indirectly from local or global activities cascading effects through food webs from fisheries or changing environments from climate change and/or ocean acidification or from naturally varying processes A particular challenge for managers is to identify how dangerous future climate change will be for ecosystems and their services and whether mitigation or adaptation may be needed in advance in order to achieve the conservation requirements For regions of international attention particularly those that have the attention of many management or policy oriented bodies a standardized process is needed to harmonize the scientific information on the status and trends in ecosystems used by the different bodies That process also needs to ensure the information is available in a timely manner For example assessments of change in habitats species and or food webs in the Southern Ocean are currently compiled separately for at least ten different international organizations or processes A Marine Ecosystem Assessment for the Southern Ocean MEASO aims to harmonize that information for policy makers This assessment began with an international conference in April 2018 <http://www.measo2018.aq> where it was agreed to undertake the first MEASO over 2018-2019 with the view to provide the outcomes to relevant bodies such as the Scientific Committee for the Conservation of Antarctic Marine Living Resources soon after

Contemporary Development Ethics from an African Perspective Beatrice Okyere-Manu, Stephen Nkansah Morgan, Ovet Nwosimiri, 2023-07-29 This book offers fresh academic insights reflections questions issues and approaches to development ethics taking into account African values and ethics Development ethics is an area of applied ethics that examines the moral issues involved in global social and economic transformation While it is a relatively new discipline there have been numerous scholarly publications on it from Western perspectives However only a few studies that focused on development ethics from the African perspective To address this gap the book seeks to answer critical questions such as What does development mean to Africans How can we measure development Who gets to decide and What constitutes just development in Africa With contributions from African scholars from diverse backgrounds the book covers various development themes such as Theories and approaches to development ethics in Africa Environmental Ethics and African Development Ethics Politics and African Development Migration and African development Gender Ethics and Socio economic Development in Africa Education Ethics and African development It is an essential resource for researchers lecturers and students interested in political philosophy and African culture studies

Beyond Constraint Shona N. Jackson, 2024-10-11 In Beyond Constraint Shona N Jackson offers a new approach to labour and its analysis by demonstrating the fundamental relation between black and Indigenous People s sovereign free and coerced labour in the Americas Through the writings of Cedric Robinson Walter Rodney C L R James and Sylvia Wynter Jackson confronts the elision of Indigenous People s labour in the black radical tradition She argues that this elision is an effect of the structural relation of antiblackness to anti indigeneity through which native and black bodies are arranged on either side of a split between unproductive labour and productive work necessary for capital accumulation and for how we read capital in political economic critique This division between labour and work forces the radical tradition to sustain the break between black and Indigenous peoples as part of its critical strategies of liberation To address this impasse Jackson reads the tradition against the grain for openings to indigeneity and a method for recovering lost labours

Power in Contemporary Zimbabwe Erasmus Masitera, Fortune Sibanda, 2018-04-20 In recent years the Zimbabwe crisis rendered the country and its citizens to be a typical case of failed states the world over Zimbabwean society was and is still confronted with different challenges which include political economic and social problems Attempts to overcome these challenges have thrown light on the power that rests within individuals and or groups to change and even revolutionize their localities communities states and ultimately the world at large Through experience individuals and groups have promoted ideas that have aided in changing mentalities attitudes and behaviors in societies at different levels This book brings together contributors from various academic disciplines to reflect on and theorize the contours of power including the intrinsic and or extrinsic models of power which pertain to individuals communities and or groups in order to transform society Reflections are on various groups such as political movements environmental movements religious groups advocacy groups gender groups to mention but a few as they struggle against marginalization discrimination exploitation and other forms of oppression showing their agency or compliance

Media Analysis and Public Health Lesley Henderson, Shona Hilton, Judith Green, 2020-06-29 This volume showcases new approaches to studying public health in traditional and emerging media suggesting that we need more analyses that focus on the production of media and on power dynamics as well as studies of audience reception of media messages The collection asks a variety of questions about the role of media in analysing public health Contributors ask who is influential in producing the stories we see in the press and on social media Who benefits and who is damaged by media debates on health topics They investigate the role of big business in seeking to shape public opinion and consumption in print and online media how issues such as hand washing come to be framed over time by newspapers how conflicts over immunisations get covered how health promotion messages do their work and the positive role of online media in helping foster drug safety Together they reach the conclusion that since mass media is a crucial element of civic society more in depth understanding of how it works and what impacts it has on public health is essential Given the crucial role of the media in shaping health debates pushing certain issues up the policy agenda defining problems for audiences and presenting potential solutions this book's analysis will be of interest to all those studying how the media shape policy as well as public health researchers with an interest in mass communication This book was originally published as a special issue of Critical Public Health

Inside the Whirlwind Jason Alan Carter, 2016-12-09 How would ordinary African Christians interpret the figure and book of Job the quintessential biblical book on suffering from contexts of extreme poverty tropical disease and rampant suffering How do African Christians culturally understand issues of theodicy and the nature of evil What role does the devil play in African Pentecostalism How does the biblical lament empower faith and foster hope for people living with HIV AIDS In what way does a theology of eschatological hope inform the spirituality and prayers of ordinary African believers in the midst of suffering Inside the Whirlwind offers insight on these fascinating questions Based upon the perspectives of Fang Christians in Spanish speaking Equatorial Guinea Central Africa the thematic and theological reflections on evil suffering and hope emerging from sermons and Bible studies on the book of Job offer a remarkable window to view the main theological issues shaping grassroots African Christianity in the twenty first century
