Davis, 2017-08-08 In the 1960s and 70s a diverse range of storefronts including head shops African American bookstores feminist businesses and organic grocers brought the work of the New Left Black Power feminism environmentalism and other movements into the marketplace Through shared ownership limited growth and democratic workplaces these activist entrepreneurs offered alternatives to conventional profit driven corporate business models By the middle of the 1970s thousands of these enterprises operated across the United States but only a handful survive today Some such as Whole Foods Market have abandoned their quest for collective political change in favor of maximizing profits Vividly portraying the struggles successes and sacrifices of these unlikely entrepreneurs From Head Shops to Whole Foods writes a new history of social movements and capitalism by showing how activists embraced small businesses in a way few historians have considered. The book challenges the widespread but mistaken idea that activism and political dissent are inherently antithetical to participation in the marketplace. Joshua Clark Davis uncovers the historical roots of contemporary interest in ethical consumption, social enterprise, buying local, and mission-driven business while also showing how today's companies have adopted the language but not often the mission of liberation and social change.

Murray-Darling Basin, Australia Barry Hart, Neil Byron, Nick Bond, Carmel Pollino, Michael Stewardson, 2020-10-23. Murray Darling Basin Australia: Its Future Management is a much-needed text for water resources managers, water catchment, estuarine, and coastal scientists and aquatic ecologists. The book first provides a summary of the Murray Darling River system, its hydrology, water-related ecological assets, land uses, particularly irrigation, and its rural and regional communities and management within the Basin, including catchments and natural resources, water resources, irrigation, environment, and monitoring and evaluation. Additionally, the recent major water reforms in the Basin are discussed with a focus particularly on the development and implementation of the Basin Plan. Murray Darling Basin Australia: Its Future Management then provides an analysis of the next set of policy and institutional reforms, environmental, social, cultural, and economic, needed to ensure the Basin is managed as an integrated system, including its water resources, catchment, and estuary, capable of adapting to future changes. Six major challenges facing the Basin are identified and discussed, particularly within the context of predicted changes to the climate leading to an increased frequency of drought and a hotter and dryer future. Finally, a road map or blueprint to achieve more integrated management of the Basin is provided, together with some key lessons of relevance to others involved in the management of multijurisdictional river basins. Provides a consolidated account of the Murray Darling Basin system, an area of global relevance to those interested in rebalancing river systems where the water resources have been over-allocated. Offers a detailed analysis of the current system and its management with a focus on water and ecosystem management. Discusses a number of key challenges, particularly those related to climate change facing future reforms to the Murray Darling Basin Plan. Provides a blueprint for changes needed to ensure the Basin is managed as an integrated whole from catchment to coast.
