Finder, 2016-10-05 Volume XXIX of Studies in Contemporary Jewry takes its title from a joke by Groucho Marx I don't want to belong to any club that will accept me as a member The line encapsulates one of the most important characteristics of Jewish humor the desire to buffer oneself from potentially unsafe or awkward situations and thus to achieve social and emotional freedom By studying the history and development of Jewish humor the essays in this volume not only provide nuanced accounts of how Jewish humor can be described but also make a case for the importance of humor in studying any culture A recent survey showed that about four in ten American Jews felt that having a good sense of humor was an essential part of what being Jewish means to them on a par with or exceeding caring for Israel observing Jewish law and eating traditional foods As these essays show Jewish humor has served many functions as a form of insider speech It has been used to ridicule to unite people in the face of their enemies to challenge authority to deride politics and politicians in America to ridicule conspicuous consumption in Israel to contrast expectations of political normalcy and bitter reality However much of contemporary Jewish humor is designed not only or even primarily as insider speech Rather it rewards all those who get the punch line A Club of Their Own moves beyond general theorizing about the nature of Jewish humor by serving a smorgasbord of finely grained historically situated and contextualized interdisciplinary studies of humor and its consumption in Jewish life in the modern world Fifty Years of the Law Commissions Matthew Dyson, James Lee, Shona Wilson Stark, 2016-11-03 This book brings together past and present law commissioners judges practitioners academics and law reformers to analyse the past present and future of the Law Commissions in the United Kingdom and beyond Its internationally recognised authors bring a wealth of experience and insight into how and why law reform does and should take place covering statutory and non statutory reform from national and international perspectives The chapters of the book developed from papers given at a conference to mark the fiftieth anniversary of the Law Commissions Act 1965 The Cultural and Artistic Legacy of Oliver Mtukudzi Munyaradzi Nyakudya, Bridget Chinouriri, Pauline Mateveke, Ezra Chitando, 2022-09-10 This book delves into a critical and comprehensive analysis of Mtukudzi's legacy as an outstanding musician who anchored his music on cultural identity specifically through the artistic manipulation of language As a cultural worker his remit extended beyond performance This raised his stature to the levels of such African music icons as Fela Kuti of Nigeria Salif Keita of Mali and Miriam Makeba Hugh Masekela of South Africa all towering giants in African musical performance This volume examines how Mtukudzi artistically manipulated language to convey a timeless message of cultural identity fighting for the respect of rights for women children and all It unpacks how Mtukudzi subtly uses language to put across political views that speak truth to power harnessing Zimbabwean language to articulate and promote the nation s cultural heritage and to advocate for societal development and the promotion of rights of vulnerable groups The chapters in this volume are a mix of interdisciplinary Zimbabwean scholars of linguistics performance studies religion history communication and media studies unravelling Mtukudzi as a fighter for human rights and justice who subtly critiqued political systems and practices It concludes that Mtukudzi strove to be a cultural worker who used the power of language through music to contribute towards the rehabilitation of a battered African identity

Beyond Constraint Shona N. Jackson, 2024-10-11 In Beyond Constraint Shona N Jackson offers a new approach to labour and its analysis by demonstrating the fundamental relation between black and Indigenous People s sovereign free and coerced labour in the Americas Through the writings of Cedric Robinson Walter Rodney C L R James and Sylvia Wynter Jackson confronts the elision of Indigenous People s labour in the black radical tradition She argues that this elision is an effect of the structural relation of antiblackness to anti indigeneity through which native and black bodies are arranged on either side of a split between unproductive labour and productive work necessary for capital accumulation and for how we read capital in political economic critique This division between labour and work forces the radical tradition to sustain the break between black and Indigenous peoples as part of its critical strategies of liberation To address this impasse Jackson reads the tradition against the grain for openings to indigeneity and a method for recovering lost labours
