Shona Set Books For Examination 2015 Zimbabwe:

Now That the Dust Has Settled Athanasio Dzadagu, 2015-03-26 In this book I try to explore why one section of the Catholic Community connected with the late Archbishop Chakaipa was overtaken by great remorse when he died while another went into jubilation This leads me into the examination of what kind of person Archbishop Chakaipa was I do this in the context of his family background and his priestly and Episcopal ministries He was of the Unendoro clan with a history tracing back to Karanga roots In his Seminary years he wrote five Shona novels which became very influential in developing Shona literacy He earned enduring respect across the entire Zimbabwean nation for this achievement Within Church circles Archbishop Chakaipas name is synonymous with the policy of self reliance which was his signal achievement in the Archdiocese of Harare He was determined to see the development of indigenous Zimbabwean writers frustrated that the world of ideas in Zimbabwe was dominated by Eurogenic of European origin missionaries In his view such Eurogenic intellectual domination undermined Zimbabwean and African independence In the book I argue that while Archbishop Chakaipa was a hero indeed one deserving of canonisation as a Catholic saint true respect for him should also acknowledge his negative qualities

Imagining a Nation Ruramisai Charumbira, 2015-09-29. In Imagining a Nation Ruramisai Charumbira analyzes competing narratives of the founding of Rhodesia, Zimbabwe, constructed by political and cultural nationalists, both black and white, since occupation in 1890. The book uses a wide array of sources including archives, oral histories and a national monument to explore the birth of the racialized national memories and parallel identities that were in vigorous contention as memory sought to present itself as history. In contrast with current global politics plagued by divisions of outsider and insider, patriot and traitor, Charumbira invites the reader into the liminal spaces of the region's history and questions the centrality of the nation state in understanding African or postcolonial history today. Using an interdisciplinary methodology, Charumbira offers a series of case studies bringing in characters from far flung places to show that history and memory in and of one small place can have a far reaching impact in the wider world. The questions raised by these stories go beyond the history of colonized or colonizer in one former colony to illuminate contemporary vexations about what it means to be a citizen, patriot or member of a nation in an ever globalizing world. Rather than a history of how the rulers of Rhodesia or Zimbabwe marshaled state power to force citizens to accept a single definition of national memory and identity, Imagining a Nation shows how ordinary people invested in the soft power of individual, social and collective memories to create and perpetuate exclusionary national myths. Reconsiderations in Southern African History Shona Interactive Sound Book Dialect Dialogue, 2021-01-14.
