Studying Disaster Risk Management At Unisa:

The Government of Disasters Lydie Cabane, 2023-09-22 This book examines the history of disaster management in South Africa showing how experts professionals and policymakers have crafted and implemented disaster policies from the mid twentieth century to the present day It assesses the ways in which states become concerned with disasters the extent to which disaster management contributes toward state formation and who and what disaster management protects It also considers the ways in which the politics of protection continuously shift as political regimes change In telling the story of how policies surrounding disaster protection have evolved in South Africa the book demonstrates how the security apparatus that shaped disaster management was re oriented in the twenty first century towards development alongside bureaucratic reforms that aimed to democratize the state By examining the wider context of the globalization of disaster management it also highlights the often unrecognised role of experts from Africa Latin America and Asia in shaping global disaster policies The book will appeal to scholars and students of disaster governance public policy state formation and African politics

The Sustainability Ethic in the Management of the Physical, Infrastructural and Natural Resources of Zimbabwe Chirisa, Innocent, 2019-05-27 Humanity has extensively exploited natural and physical resources since the Industrial Revolution in Europe A geological era now called the Anthropocene has been coined in environmental and developmental circles to mark the increased domination of humanity on Earth and its resources Today the ecological footprint on the fragile planet continues to increase Mass industrialisation like what China is doing and pushing for is one of the drivers for increased urbanisation that results in increased demand for land It is also the stimulus behind increased deforestation overfishing and pollution As the fragility of the Earth increases global bodies like the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change are pushing to reduce the Earth s temperature Human efforts to manage the problem cascade from a global to a regional to a national as well as to much localised scales Missing though are nuanced contributions at national and community levels which this book is an attempt to bridge The nagging sense of responsibility is what this book explores under the label of sustainability ethic As a case study the book examines the use of sustainability ethic in the management of the physical infrastructural and natural resources of Zimbabwe This ethic is built on pillars that include participation of people households in their pursuit for sustainable livelihoods appropriate technology tools and techniques for environmental protection It also hinges on stewardship and structures institutions policies and processes of governance and sustainability There are also the aspects of ethics laws and indigenous technical knowledge for sustainability capacity building and education plans and programmes for sustainability and population and demographic determinants processes and outcomes for sustainability The book is a timely contribution to an urgent global concern and climate change debate Disaster Management in Sub-Saharan Africa Roland Azibo Balgah, Jude Ndzifon Kimengsi, 2022-04-21 A combined analysis of all the chapters provides an interesting summary and information for creating disaster management policies for improved results in

SSA With an extensive glossary of terms and index the book lends itself to specialized academics and students but also to disaster management policy makers and practitioners

The Political Economy of Poverty, Vulnerability and Disaster Risk Management Mawere, Munyaradzi, 2017-11-29 Poverty remains a thorny and topical challenge and research topic to scholars and researchers on African development Scholars in the Global North have since the Second World War sought to research poverty and underdevelopment in Africa postulating what they think are the major causes of insipid and abject poverty in the continent but with little or no success on how to solve the poverty enigma Sadly little research and homework have been done by scholars in context in Africa on why there seems to be more production rather than eradication of poverty and vulnerability in Africa and among Africans This book is born out of the realisation for the need for both scholars on the ground and outside Africa to earnestly interrogate and reflect on the poverty situation that continues to haunt the people of Africa and rattle the conscience of the world at large With contributors from across the continent and beyond the volume offers a balanced and rigorous multi faceted analysis of Africa s poverty and vulnerability from a rich tapestry of perspectives The volume is handy to scholars and students in the fields of African and development studies as well as to students of Sociology Anthropology Political Science and Policy Studies

Climate Change Resilience in Rural Southern Africa Mark Matsa, Lazarus Chapungu, Godwell Nhamo, 2024-12-17. In rural Southern Africa, the livelihoods of millions are intricately linked to the land, water and ecosystems that are increasingly under threat from climate change. This intensifying threat has exacerbated pre-existing vulnerabilities, rendering the need for resilience building more critical than ever. Emerging scholarship on climate change strategies suggests that building resilience in human and environmental systems is the ideal strategy for combating the climate change-induced catastrophes. Rural Southern Africa has witnessed both isolated and coordinated efforts by various stakeholders to bolster climate resilience, yielding varying degrees of success. This book offers a comprehensive examination of the rural Southern African landscape, probing the intricate dynamics, prospects and challenges associated with building climate resilience. It examines how traditional knowledge, innovative practices including Artificial Intelligence and sustainable development strategies are converging to create resilient systems. The book further highlights the critical role of local communities in addressing climate challenges and offers actionable insights for a more resilient future. It emerged that some interventions have managed to build resilience of at-risk households, communities and systems, while others have faced significant challenges. In general, climate resilience building remains complex and lagging due to increased vulnerabilities induced by global disease emergencies such as COVID-19, increased poverty due to global recessions, poor governance, corruption and several other internal and external factors. Therefore, the need to increase cooperation amongst Southern African states to pursue common development goals cannot be overemphasized. Rich with case studies, expert analyses and systematic reviews, this book is an essential read for policymakers, researchers and those invested in the future of rural Southern Africa.

Religion and COVID-19 Vaccination in Zimbabwe Tenson Muyambo, Fortune Sibanda, Ezra Chitando, 2023-10-17. This book analyses the role of religion during the COVID-19 pandemic and vaccination rollout in Zimbabwe. Zimbabwe was listed by the World Health Organization (WHO) as one of thirteen African countries to have fully vaccinated more than 10% of its population against COVID-19 by the end of September 2021, but the country fell far short of the government's own target for achieving 60% inoculation by December 2020. This book analyses whether religion played a role in explaining why the government's pro-vaccine stance did not translate into high vaccination rates. Drawing upon various religions, including African indigenous religions, Christianity and Islam, the book considers how faith actors demonstrated vaccine acceptance, resistance or hesitancy. Zimbabwe offers a particularly interesting and varied case for analysis and the original research on display here will be an important contribution to wider debates on religion and COVID 19 This book will be useful to academics researchers and students studying religious studies sociology health and well being religion and development
