Exploring Film through Bad Cinema David C. Wall, 2025-08-08 Exploring Film through Bad Cinema offers an overview of the practice of film analysis through a specific focus on the concept of bad cinema within a series of broad cultural and historical contexts Providing a wide ranging discussion of film from multiple perspectives including history aesthetics and criticism this broad theoretical engagement illustrates the ways in which the registers of value that we apply to film are inseparable from the wider discourses of taste that shape our culture While loosely chronological it is largely thematic in arrangement as it applies the traditional methods of film studies to in depth discussions of some of the most notoriously and compellingly bad films in cinema history Situating its analysis of a wide variety of films and filmmakers in terms of period genre and issues such as the emergence of narrative cinema canon formation and the politics of cultural hierarchy it provides an in depth consideration of the multiple and complex social and aesthetic discourses that shape our qualitative assessments of film Designed for both the lay reader and student of film Exploring Film through Bad Cinema engages with a wide range of topics from film history and film theory to postmodernism exploitation and cult cinema This theoretically and historically sophisticated analysis will appeal to researchers and scholars in film studies as well as cognate disciplines such as screen studies visual studies and cultural studies

An Introduction to Film Studies Jill Neldes, 2003 An Introduction to Film Studies has established itself as the leading textbook for students of cinema. This revised and updated third edition guides students through the key issues and concepts in film studies and introduces some of the world's key national cinemas including British, Indian, Soviet and French. Written by experienced teachers in the field and lavishly illustrated with over 122 film stills and production shots, it will be essential reading for any student of film. Features of the third edition include full coverage of all the key topics at undergraduate level, comprehensive and up-to-date information and new case studies on recent films such as Gladiator, Spiderman, The Blair Witch Project, Fight Club, Shrek and The Matrix. Annotated key readings, further viewing website resources, study questions, a comprehensive bibliography and indexes, and a glossary of key terms will help lecturers prepare tutorials and encourage students to undertake independent study. Individual chapters include Film form and narrative, Spectator audience and response, Critical approaches to Hollywood cinema, authorship, genre and stars, Animation forms and meaning, Gender and film, Lesbian and gay cinema, British cinema, Soviet montage, Cinema French, New Wave, Indian Cinema.

Reframing Faith in Balkan Documentary Film Milja Radovic, 2025-09-24 Reframing Faith in Balkan Documentary Film presents the first systematic study of the cinematic representations of religion in the early documentary film on the Balkan Peninsula from 1896 to 1939. By looking at faith through the concept of frame, this book sheds new light on the historical realities of the period as seen by the filmmakers and facilitates rediscovering the world of lost religious communities on the territory of Yugoslavia. Placing film language at the heart of scientific research and introducing the frame as a method of analysis, this book proposes novel ways of reading history as written on the reel. This intricate and in-depth study will interest film historians, particularly those interested in Balkan and European cinema, as well as historians of the Balkans, religion and Eastern Europe.

An International Study of Film Museums Rinella Cere, 2020-12-29 An International Study of Film Museums examines how cinema has been transformed and strengthened through museological and archival activities since its origins and asks what paradoxes may be involved if any in putting cinema into a museum. Cere explores the ideas that were first proposed during the first half of the twentieth century around the need to establish national museums of cinema and how these have been adapted in the subsequent development of the five case studies presented here: four in Europe and one in the USA. The book traces the history of the five museums' foundation, exhibitions, collections and festivals organised under their aegis and it asks how they resolve the tensions between cinema as an aesthetic artefact, now officially recognised as part of humanity's cultural heritage, and cinema as an entertainment and leisure activity. It also gives an account of recent developments around unifying collections, exhibition activities and archives in one national film centre that offers the general public a space totally devoted to film and cinematographic culture. An International Study of Film Museums provides a unique comparative study of museums of cinema in varying national contexts. The book will be of interest to academics and students around the world who are engaged in the study of museums, archives, heritage, film history and visual culture.

The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory Edward Branigan, Warren Buckland, 2013-12-04 The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory is an international reference work representing the essential ideas and concepts at the centre of film theory from the beginning of the twentieth century to the beginning of the twenty first When first encountering film theory students are often confronted with a dense interlocking set of texts full of arcane terminology inexact formulations sliding definitions and abstract generalities The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory challenges these first impressions by aiming to make film theory accessible and open to new readers Edward Branigan and Warren Buckland have commissioned over 50 scholars from around the globe to address the difficult formulations and propositions in each theory by reducing these difficult formulations to straightforward propositions. The result is a highly accessible volume that clearly defines and analyzes step by step many of the fundamental concepts in film theory ranging from familiar concepts such as Apparatus Gaze Genre and Identification to less well known and understood but equally important concepts such as Alain Badiou's Inaesthetics Gilles Deleuze's Time Image and Jean-Luc Nancy's Evidence. The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory is an ideal reference book for undergraduates of film studies as well as graduate students new to the discipline.

 Graham Greene for many years he still possesses the original edition of The End of the Affair that he bought when it was published in 1951 After so much recent attention to Greene s life he believes it is time to return to his writings in this critical study Bergonzi makes a close examination of the language and structure of Greene s novels and traces the obsessive motifs that recur throughout his long career Most earlier criticism was written while Greene was still alive and working and was to some extent provisional as the final shape of his work was not yet apparent In this book Bergonzi is able to take a view of Greene s whole career as a novelist which extended from 1929 to 1988 He believes that Greene s earlier work was his best combining melodrama realism and poetry with Brighton Rock published in 1938 a moral fable that draws on crime fiction and Jacobean tragedy as the masterpiece The novels that Greene published after the 1950s were very professional examples of skilful story telling but represented a decline from this high level of achievement Bergonzi challenges assumptions about the nature of Greene s debt to cinema and attempts to clarify the complexities and contradictions of his religious ideas Although this book engages with questions that arise in academic discussions of Greene it is written with general readers in mind
