

D089 - Study Guide Questions

Module 1 - The Economic Way of Thinking

1. What are the three fundamental questions every economy must answer? Give an example of a "What" question.
  - What to produce? – Using scarce resources to produce one thing requires giving up another. Increasing education services may require decreasing healthcare services.
  - How to produce – Should I hire a few skilled employees or several unskilled? Should I produce in the country or use foreign plants?
  - For Whom to produce? – Who will get it? A decision to have one person or group receive a good/service means it will not be available to someone else.
2. What do economists mean when they say that people "think at the margin"?
  - Is the additional benefit gained from one more unit greater than the cost of the additional unit.
3. According to the 10 Principles of Economics, what determines a nation's standard of living?
  - The ability to produce goods/services. The more productive a society is, the better the people live.
4. Using the 10 Principles of Economics, explain why trade is beneficial?
  - Trade can leave everyone in a better place. It allows people to concentrate on what they do best and exchange their ability with others to supplement their own needs.
5. How does printing money impact prices?
  - Printing too much money causes prices to rise. Inflation is directly related to excessive government printed currency circulating. The more money a government prints, the less the money is worth, thus making goods/services more expensive.
6. What are the differences between the Traditional and the Market economy?
  - A Traditional economy is based on customs handed down through generations and is mostly based on hunting, fishing, gathering, and agriculture. It usually involves bartering instead of currency.
  - A Market economy is where production is owned and operated by private businesses or individuals who make self-interested decisions. Businesses supply goods/services based on supply and demand. This demand is composed of the purchase decisions of households that act in their own self-interest. Decisions are determined by market forces, not the government.
