1941-1945 Marlen von Xylander, 2023-10-01 In contrast to the Greek mainland the Nazis occupied most of Crete between 1941-45. After the German troops' defeat in North Africa, Crete was turned into a fortress. This study examines the goals, methods, and effectiveness of the German occupation policy, the reactions of the Cretan administration and of the population in particular, and also describes the opponents' combat operations. The study is based not only on written papers, documents, and files of Greek, Cretan, British, and German origin but also on letters, manuscripts, exposés, and interviews by and with contemporary witnesses. *A Manual of Materials, Aids and Techniques for the Teaching of Spanish to English-speaking Children: First grade. What has become apparent in the last ten years or so is a move towards an engaged re-appropriation of the arts institute in artistic performance practices and a more in-depth collaboration between institutes and artists in rethinking the functioning, the position, and the decision-taking structure of these organisations. Rather than the institutional critique in the field of the visual arts, in the performance sector the institute can often be considered as a focus point for the concerns of diverse players in the field: artists, producers, programmers, union structures, which helps them to address issues that otherwise could only be dealt with in fragmentary meetings and practices. This book addresses the crisis of the institute within a context of severe economic, political, and social crisis. In several contributions in this book, authors refer to the Occupy movement as a major source of inspiration for new instituent practices. As art theorist Gerald Raunig calls them, his essay deals with a pretty well-known example of such a radical takeover: the Teatro Valle Occupato in Rome. Memory and New Ways of Knowing Blanca Yaneth González Pinzón, Theresa Lillis, 2025-04-28 This book is a collaborative project which centres on the testimonios of more than 100 survivors of the harsh realities of the 80-year Colombian armed conflict, drawing on multiple disciplinary areas and practices: linguistics, philology, and linguistics, education, journalism, academia, art, and film, education, literature, human rights, sociology, urban geography, cosmogony, and grassroots activism. Using extracts from testimonios in multiple forms: oral, written, film, textiles, and mobilising the concepts of Testimony, Narrative, and Memory, the book explores how survivors of all ages configure and reconfigure their experiences, worldviews, and identities, striving towards the building of new knowledges which will help ensure the non-repetition of violence.
