The Treasury of Knowledge, Book Six, Parts One and Two Jamgon Kongtru Lodro Taye, 2013-01-08 Jamgon Kongtrul's encyclopedic Treasury of Knowledge presents a complete account of the major lines of thought and practice that comprise Tibetan Buddhism. Among the ten books that make up this tour de force, Book Six is by far the longest, concisely summarizing the theoretical fields of knowledge to be studied prior to the cultivation of reflection and discriminative awareness. The first two parts of Book Six, contained in this volume, respectively concern Indo-Tibetan classical learning and Buddhist phenomenology. The former analyzes the traditional subjects of phonology and Sanskrit grammar, logic, fine art, and medicine, along with astrology, poetics, prosody, synonymics, and dramaturgy. The principal non-Buddhist philosophical systems of ancient India are then summarized and contrasted with the hierarchical meditative concentrations and formless absorptions through which the summit of cyclic existence can genuinely be attained. Part Two examines the phenomenological structures of Abhidharma, the shared inheritance of all Buddhist traditions, from three distinct perspectives corresponding to the three successive turnings of the doctrinal wheel.

Interchangeable Parts Victor Holtcamp, 2019-07-09 While Hollywood has long been called The Dream Factory, and theatrical entertainment more broadly has been called The Industry, the significance of these names has rarely been explored. There are, in fact, striking overlaps between industrial rhetoric and practice and the development of theatrical and cinematic techniques for rehearsal and performance. Interchangeable Parts examines the history of acting pedagogy and performance practice in the United States and their debts to industrial organization and philosophy. Ranging from the late nineteenth century through the end of the twentieth, the book recontextualizes the history of theatrical technique in light of the embrace of industrialization in US culture and society. Victor Holtcamp explores the invocations of scientific and industrial rhetoric and philosophy in the founding of the first schools of acting and echoes of that rhetoric in playwriting, production, and the cinema, as Hollywood, in particular, embraced this industrially infected model of acting. In their divergent approaches to performance, the major US acting teachers Lee Strasberg, Stella Adler, and Sanford Meisner demonstrated strong rhetorical affinities for the language of industry, illustrating the pervasive presence of these industrial roots. The book narrates the story of how actors learned to learn to act and what that process, for both stage and screen, owed to the interchangeable parts and mass production revolutions.
