Schmidt, 2019-12-12 An essential guide to contemporary marketing that demonstrates via case studies the move towards marketing techniques that better reflect consumer needs Brand management and development has traditionally been regarded as the responsibility of the organization they design produce and sell the brand before delivering it to customers Yet this approach can be needlessly restrictive as the connective power of the internet and the desire of consumers to focus on experiences has reshaped branding In this digital age development occurs beyond the limits of the organization so that in many ways brands are effectively co created by consumers Rather than lead manage and control contemporary managers have taken on the new tasks of listening connecting and participating in brand development The focus of this process has shifted to the intersection between the organization and its stakeholders leading to a new paradigm of brand management the co creation perspective Co Creating Brands is an accessible exploration of how co created brands produce value and how the success of this approach can be measured and assured The authors draw upon a wide array of international case studies and strategic models which clearly demonstrate how to both effectively deliver this method and how to deal with the situational challenges and obstacles that can occur If organizational leaders are willing to relinquish complete control of their brand and recognize the supportive culture of employees customers and stakeholders their brand can become an unstoppable marketing force

Franck Cochoy, Johan Hagberg, Magdalena McIntyre, Niklas Sörum, 2017-07-14 Contemporary consumer society is increasingly saturated by digital technology and the devices that deliver this are increasingly transforming consumption patterns Social media smartphones mobile apps and digital retailing merge with traditional consumption spheres supported by digital devices which further encourage consumers to communicate and influence other consumers to consume Through a wide range of empirical studies which analyse the impact of digital devices this volume explores the digitization of consumption and shows how consumer culture and consumption practices are fundamentally intertwined and mediated by digital devices Exploring the development of new consumer cultures leading international scholars from sociology marketing and ethnology examine the effects on practices of consumption and marketing through topics including big data digital traces streaming services wearables and social media s impact on ethical consumption Digitalizing Consumption makes an important contribution to practice based approaches to consumption particularly the use of market devices in consumers everyday consumer life and will be of interest to scholars of marketing cultural studies consumer research organization and management

The Imperial Mode of Living Ulrich Brand, Markus Wissen, 2021-01-26 Our Unsustainable Life Why We Can t Have Everything We Want With the concept of the Imperial Mode of Living Brand and Wissen highlight the fact that capitalism implies uneven development as well as a constant and accelerating universalisation of a Western mode of production and living The logic of liberal markets since the 19th Century and especially since World War II has been inscribed into everyday practices that are usually unconsciously reproduced The authors show that they are a main driver of the ecological crisis and economic and political instability The Imperial Mode of Living implies that people s everyday practices including individual and societal orientations as well as identities rely heavily on the unlimited appropriation of resources a disproportionate claim on global and local ecosystems and sinks and cheap labour from elsewhere This availability of commodities is largely organised through the world market backed by military force and or the asymmetric relations of forces as they have been inscribed in international institutions Moreover the Imperial Mode of Living implies asymmetrical social relations along class gender and race within the respective countries Here too it is driven by the capitalist accumulation imperative growth oriented state policies and status consumption The concrete production conditions of commodities are rendered invisible in the places where the commodities are consumed The imperialist world order is normalized through the mode of production and living
