The Creative Vision of Bessie Head Coreen Brown, 2003 This book is an exploration of the way in which Head's writing is her idiosyncratic response to her personal life Her desire to portray and yet subvert oppression political racist and sexist that she encountered in South Africa and Botswana led to a Romanticism born of her need to create an antithesis to what she perceived to be the reality around her Her eagerness to discover a haven in her adopted rural Botswana led to a Utopia of her own making a literary resolution imagined not actual A mental breakdown led to the creation of her greatest novel A Question of Power one which examines the depths of evil but allows also for the dawning of the heights of goodness The appendix contains many heretofore unpublished letters that help to explain the personal compulsion that provided for Head's creativity

Girl Zoo Aimee Parkison, Carol Guess, 2019-02-19 A dark yet playful collection of short stories that pushes boundaries and blurs the lines between the real and surreal Girl Zoo is an enthralling and sometimes unsettling collection of short stories that examines how women in society are confined by the limitations and expectations of pop culture politics advertising fashion myth and romance In each story a woman or girl is literally confined or held captive and we can only watch as they are transformed into objects of terror and desire plotting their escape from their cultural cages Taken as a whole this experimental speculative fiction invites parallels to social justice movements focused on sexuality and gender as well as cautionary tales for our precarious political movement Parkison and Guess offer no solutions to their characters captivity Instead they challenge their audience to read against the grain of conventional feminist dystopian narratives by inviting them inside the Girl Zoo itself Take a step inside the zoo and see for yourself We dare you Behind the bars a world of wonder awaits
