Zimsec History Papernov 2014 A Level Pgf:

COVID-19 Lockdowns and the Urban Poor in Harare, Zimbabwe Johannes Itai Bhanye, Fortune Mangara, Abraham R. Matamanda, Lameck Kachena, 2023-12-09 This book focuses on the socio economic impacts of the COVID 19 pandemic and associated lockdowns on the welfare of the urban poor in the city of Harare Zimbabwe. The authors look through the lenses of the urban health penalty, the right to the city, complexity theory and distributive justice theory. These four theories help situate the COVID 19 pandemic and its impacts on the urban poor in the theoretical foundations that raise issues of how the poor are affected by disease health pandemics due to their living conditions. Uniquely, the authors use remote ethnography tools such as rich texts, video diaries and photo uploads to provide evidence-based stories of how COVID 19 mobility restrictions have affected poor urbanites in Harare. The book concludes that the COVID 19 pandemic mandatory lockdowns have deepened social and spatial inequality among the urban poor, threatening their right to the city. The socio economic impacts can upsurge poverty, increase unemployment and the risks of hunger and food insecurity, reinforcing existing inequalities and breaking social harmony in the cities even past the COVID 19 pandemic period. These socioeconomic impacts must be considered to make just cities for all from a right to the city perspective. The authors recommend that mandatory COVID 19 lockdowns should not only be treated as a law and order operation but as a medical intervention to stem the spread of the virus, backed by measures to safeguard the livelihoods of the urban poor while also protecting the economy. This means governments should provide social safety nets to informal sector operators whose income-generating activities are affected the most during the time of emergencies like COVID 19. Planners and policymakers should re-envision pandemic resilient cities that are just, equitable, resilient and sustainable.

Military Assistance on Request and the Use of Force Erika De Wet, 2020-03-26 In countries such as Syria, Iraq, South Sudan and Yemen, internationally recognized governments embroiled in protracted armed conflicts and with very little control over their territory have requested direct military assistance from other states. These requests are often accepted by the other states despite the circumvention of the United Nations Security Council and extensive violation of international humanitarian law and human rights. In this book, Erika De Wet examines the authority entitled to extend a request for or consent to direct military assistance as well as the type of situations during which such assistance may be requested, notably whether it may be requested during a civil war. Ultimately, De Wet addresses the question of if and to what extent the proliferation of military assistance on the request of a recognized government is changing the rules in international law applying to the use of force.

Paramilitary Groups and the State under Globalization Jasmin Hristov, Jeb Sprague, Aaron Tauss, 2021-12-30 This book examines the phenomenon of paramilitarism across Latin America and the Caribbean, Eastern Europe, Africa and Asia, offering a nuanced perspective while identifying key patterns in the way paramilitary violence is implicated in processes of capital accumulation, state building and the reproduction of social power. Paramilitary violence, a key modality of coercion in the era of globalization, has been pursued by states and dominant classes in the Global South to reproduce or extend their power over subaltern groups Paramilitary groups are responsible for atrocities including extrajudicial executions disappearances torture rape and forced displacement The book integrates empirically rich investigations into an emergent theory of political violence capturing the relationship between parastatal armed actors capital and the state The analysis sheds light on globally relevant phenomena such as the end of the Cold War the shifting role of US hegemony and evolving nature of the nation state The book is suitable for academics graduate and upper year undergraduate students and policy makers in development human rights and violence prevention Given its interdisciplinary subject it appeals to scholars from a wide range of disciplines including political science sociology political anthropology development peace and conflict security and terrorism international relations and global studies New Millennium Woes and Livelihood Struggles in Africa Peter Thomas,Ngonidzashe

Marongwe,2021-05-19 One of the oldest survival pursuits undertaken by the weak and the downtrodden people across the world has been begging Going back to the ancient Christian biblical times up to the present epoch as well as across varying spatial settings in situations of trouble and tribulations parts of various communities have resorted to beggary to either overcome immediate adversities or longer term calamities Drawing on insights from two polar theoretical lenses of Social Constructionism and Social Deconstructionism and guided by a pithy study of the begging across the African continent especially by Zimbabweans this book troubles the various contours related to the subject of begging Inter alia the book considers the concept of begging the causes of the prevalence of begging across the world and particularly among Zimbabweans the challenges and benefits associated with the pursuit of alms the impact of begging in foreign lands as well as some of the strategies that beggars employ to maximize their collections and or profits What can be discerned from the book is that for many begging is one of the last resort undertakings with low pickings However from a utilitarian perspective begging has helped to sustain the impoverished livelihoods of Zimbabweans both inside and outside the borders of the country since the advent of a debilitating crisis experienced from the turn of the new millennium On the whole this book seeks to provoke further researches on an important socio economic area that affects many African communities but has so far been scantily researched The book is handy for students and practitioners in economic history African studies economics risk and disaster management social anthropology political science and development studies Minerals Yearbook

Mpho Ngoepe, Sindiso Bhebhe, 2023-12-06 Indigenous Archives in Postcolonial Contexts revisits the definition of a record and extends it to include memory murals, rock art, paintings and other objects. Drawing on five years of research and examples from Zimbabwe, Botswana and South Africa, the authors analyse archives in the African context. Considering issues such as authentication, ownership and copyright, the book considers how murals and their like can be used as extended or counter archives. Arguing that extended archives can reach people in a way that traditional archives cannot and that such archives can be used to bridge the gaps identified within archival repositories, the authors also examine how such archives are managed and authenticated using traditional archival principles. Presenting case studies from organisations such as Gay and Lesbian Memory in Action Archives (GALA) and heritage projects such as the Makgabeng Open Cultural Museum, the authors also analyse Indigenous family praises and songs and explore how such records are preserved and transmitted to the next generation. Indigenous Archives in Postcolonial Contexts demonstrates how the voices of the marginalised can be incorporated into archives. Making an important contribution to the effort to decolonise African archives, the book will be essential reading for academics and students working in archival studies, library and information science, Indigenous studies, African studies, cultural heritage, history and anthropology.

The Wealth of (Some) Nations Zak Cope, 2019-03-20 In this provocative new study, Zak Cope makes the case that capitalism is empirically inseparable from imperialism historically and today. Using a rigorous political economic framework, he lays bare the vast ongoing transfer of wealth from the poorest to the richest countries through the mechanisms of monopoly rent, unequal exchange and colonial tribute. The result is a polarised international class structure with a relatively rich Global North and an impoverished, exploited Global South. Cope makes the controversial claim that it is because of these conditions that workers in rich countries benefit from higher incomes and welfare systems with public health, education, pensions and social security. As a result, the internationalism of populations in the Global North is weakened and transnational solidarity is compromised. The only way forward, Cope argues, is through a renewed anti-imperialist politics rooted in a firm commitment to a radical labour internationalism.

Reimagining God and Resacralisation Alexa Blonner, 2019-05-14 This book shows that widespread resacralisation has been taking place, which is producing new ways of perceiving God and the divine. The last century has seen unmistakable changes in religious practices and the concept of spirituality right across the world. There was a broad expectation for much of the twentieth century that religious worldviews would eventually succumb to the challenge of secularist materialism, but this process of secularisation has yet to occur as predicted. The book begins by contrasting theories of secularisation and resacralisation. Throughout the book, conceptual threads or new religious themes related to this resacralisation are discussed in terms of three main categories: reimagining God's nature, substance and location; reimagining human value and purpose; and reimagining modes of redemption. Finally, the book considers how these threads are moving in various different directions and what the religious future might hold. This is a bold examination of contemporary spirituality that will appeal to academics and scholars of religious studies new religious movements and the sociology of religion International Law and Transitional Governance Emmanuel H. D. De Groof, Micha Wiebusch, 2020-04-28 This volume examines the role of international law in shaping and regulating transitional contexts including the institutions policies and procedures that have been developed to steer constitutional regime changes in countries affected by catalytic events The book offers a new perspective on the phenomenon of conflict related transitions whereby societies are re constitutionalized through a set of interim governance arrangements subject to variable degrees of internationalization Specifically this volume interrogates the relevance contribution and perils of international law for this increasingly widespread phenomenon of inserting an auxiliary phase between two ages of constitutional government It develops a nuanced understanding of the various international legal discourses surrounding conflict and political crisis related transitional governance by studying the contextual factors that influence the transitional arrangements themselves with a specific focus on international aspects including norms actors and related forms of expertise In doing so the book builds a bridge between comparative constitutional law and international legal scholarship in the practical and highly dynamic terrain of transitional governance This book will be of much interest to practitioners and students of international law diplomacy mediation security studies and international relations

Regulating and Combating Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing Nkechikwu Azinge-Egbiri, 2021-03-01 This book analytically reviews the impact of the global anti money laundering and counter terrorist financing AML CFT framework on the compliance trajectory of a number of jurisdictions to this framework The work begins by examining the international financial sector reform and its evolution to inculcate the global framework for AML CFT regulations It challenges the resulting uniform AML CFT due to its paradoxical impact on the compliance trajectory of African countries and emerging economies ACs EEs This is done through an examination of the pre conditions for effective regulation and compliance drivers for ACs EEs that reveals the behavioural impact of the AML CFT standards on the bloc of countries Through the application of agency theory it explores the relationship between ACs EEs on the one hand and the international financial institutions that formulate disseminate and facilitate compliance with the global framework for AML CFT standards on the other The remaining chapters review empirically the compliance pressures and resulting compliance trajectory of ACs EEs with the AML CFT standards The final part of the book provides a detailed explanation of the compliance challenges of ACs EEs and the legitimacy concerns that facilitate this This book offers a new direction on the impact of global AML CFT standards on ACs EEs and contributes to the understanding of the conditions under which the global standards are likely to facilitate proactive compliance within these blocs of countries As such it will be a valuable resource for academics researchers and policy makers working in this area Software Engineering Application in Informatics Radek Silhavy, Petr Silhavy, Zdenka Prokopova, 2021-11-16 This book constitutes the first part of refereed proceedings of the 5th Computational Methods in Systems and Software 2021 CoMeSySo 2021 The CoMeSySo 2021 Conference is breaking the barriers being held

Cooperatives Jutta Gutberlet,2016-05-12 Solid waste is a major urban challenge worldwide and decisions over which technologies or methods to apply can have beneficial or detrimental long term consequences Inappropriate management of solid waste can lead to damaging environmental impacts particularly in the megacities of the Global South Urban Recycling Cooperatives explores the multiple narratives and interdisciplinary nature of waste studies drawing attention to the pressing social economic and environmental challenges related to waste management The book asks questions such as how do we define waste and our relation to it who is involved in dealing with waste and what power interactions become manifest over issues of accessing and managing waste In recent years informal cooperatives have emerged devoted to recycling household and business waste before reclassifying it and redirecting it to the authorities Hence these workers are able to reclaim significant amounts of natural resources and thus contribute to the saving of resources and lessened waste management expenditures With particular reference to the Brazilian megalopolis of S o Paulo this book describes this paradigm shift in the general understanding of waste as unwanted discard towards the recognition of waste as a resource that must be recovered for reuse or recycling It would be of interest to students and policy makers working in international development and waste management The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

Transformative Sustainable Development Kei Otsuki, 2014-12-05 Recent debates about sustainable development have shifted their focus from fixing environmental problems in a technocratic and economic way to more fundamental changes in social political processes and relations In this context participation is a genuinely transformative approach to sustainable development yet the process by which participation leads to transformation is not sufficiently understood This book considers how the act of participating in sustainable development projects can bring about social transformation that is considered to be fair and just by the participants and non participants in a broader societal context Drawing on ideas from social theory and applied anthropology the book proposes a reflexivity based framework to analyse participation as a type of social action underpinned by primary experience Development projects have a transformative effect when participants are given the opportunity to reflect on their experience share the reflection with others and open new space for collective deliberation and change The book applies this framework to assess community based participatory projects in the Amazon African slums and rural settlements and disaster stricken areas in Japan It also outlines potential institutions of governance to institutionalize the change by referring to current food governance drawing out lessons with international relevance This book will be of interest to students of sustainable development environmental policy and development studies as well as practitioners and policy makers in these fields

Reconceptualising education support services in South Africa Johnnie Hay, Macalane J. Malindi, Thabo Makhalemele, 2022-02-10 Inclusive education has been phased into South Africa since 2001 but relies heavily upon adequate support services to support learners and teachers experiencing barriers to learning and development This book focuses on the different levels of support provided in South African education from School based Support Teams to District based Support Teams through to special and full service schools and how these could be reconceptualised to provide improved support to learners and teachers Current research indicates that inclusive education is being implemented in varied and fragmented forms across the country and the point of departure of this work is that education support services need to be improved and reconceptualised to ensure better support for inclusive education

Handbook of Water Resources Management: Discourses, Concepts and Examples Janos J. Bogardi, Joyeeta Gupta, K. D. Wasantha Nandalal, Léna Salamé, Ronald R.P. van Nooijen, Navneet Kumar, Tawatchai Tingsanchali, Anik Bhaduri, Alla G. Kolechkina, 2021-06-12 This book provides an overview of facts theories and methods from hydrology geology geophysics law ethics economics ecology

engineering sociology diplomacy and many other disciplines with relevance for concepts and practice of water resources management. It provides comprehensive but also critical reading material for all communities involved in the ongoing water discourses and debates. The book refers to case studies in the form of boxes, sections or as entire chapters. They illustrate success stories but also lessons to be remembered to avoid repeating the same mistakes. Based on consolidated state of the art knowledge, it has been conceived and written to attract a multidisciplinary audience. The aim of this handbook is to facilitate understanding between the participants of the international water discourse and multi-level decision-making processes. Knowing more about water but also about concepts, methods and aspirations of different professional disciplinary communities and stakeholders professionalizes the debate and enhances the decision-making.

Sustainability in Developing Countries Susan Osireditse Keitumetse, Luc Hens, David Norris, 2020-10-08. This book illustrates an alternative approach to state of sustainability reporting by presenting cross-sectoral and multi-disciplinary discussions on sustainability issues in the context of a developing country, Botswana. The book volume illustrates how academic publishing can supplement African governments' existing forms of reporting on sustainability by providing on-ground detailed descriptions and experiences relating to achievement of the various sustainable development goals (SDGs). In addition, this process involves increases and enhances diversity of stakeholders that report on sustainability. Furthermore, the approach resonates with the UN's recommendation to build local strategies for implementation of the 2030 agenda for sustainable development. Conventional reporting on sustainability by most African countries is an exercise that is customarily the preserve of designated government ministries. While this form of reporting provides a consistent platform for tracking sustainable development goals, it can also benefit from juxtaposition with in-depth descriptions and experiences provided by academic publishing. Academia through publishing provides a framework for on-ground situation analysis as well as in-depth descriptions of African country's grass root experiences, thus allowing for temporal tracking of sustainable development milestones. As this volume illustrates, experiences from the various contributors on this volume highlight different points of departure towards achieving the 2030 agenda. Topics covered include biodiversity, water management, world heritage, environment, education, tourism, gender, institutional approaches to achievement of SDGs, as well as contribution of non-governmental organisations (NGOs) amongst others.

Carbon Conflicts and Forest Landscapes in Africa Melissa Leach, Ian Scoones, 2015-06-05. Amidst the pressing challenges of global climate change, the last decade has seen a wave of forest carbon projects across the world designed to conserve and enhance forest carbon stocks in order to reduce carbon emissions from deforestation and offset emissions elsewhere. Exploring a set of new empirical case studies, Carbon Conflicts and Forest Landscapes in Africa examines how these projects are unfolding, their effects, and who is gaining and losing. Situating forest carbon approaches as part of more general moves to address environmental problems by attaching market values to nature and ecosystems, it examines how new projects interact with forest landscapes and their longer histories of intervention. The book asks what difference does carbon make What political and ecological dynamics are unleashed by these new commodified marketized approaches and how are local forest users experiencing and responding to them The book s case studies cover a wide range of African ecologies project types and national political economic contexts By examining these cases in a comparative framework and within an understanding of the national regional and global institutional arrangements shaping forest carbon commoditisation the book provides a rich and compelling account of how and why carbon conflicts are emerging and how they might be avoided in future This book will be of interest to students of development studies environmental sciences geography economics development studies and anthropology as well as practitioners and policy makers
