Still Counting Marilyn Waring,2018-12-06 Underneath the numbers a philosophical judgement is always being made based on values not facts Thirty years ago Marilyn Waring's groundbreaking book Counting for Nothing was released Waring explained through meticulous economic analysis how the success of the global economy rests on women's unpaid work Counting for Nothing became a phenomenon it was read and discussed around the world and even made into a film Today many people hope that the shift to a wellbeing approach moving beyond narrow economic indicators when assessing New Zealand's progress will mean women's work is finally valued fairly But what does Marilyn Waring make of it This short book provides an essential assessment of wellbeing economics from a leading feminist scholar

The Politics of the Dead in Zimbabwe, 2000-2020 Joost Fontein, 2022 Innovative and challenging study that provides fresh insights on the anthropology of death and postcolonial politics In 1898 just before she was hanged for rebelling against colonial rule Charwe Nyakasikana spirit medium of the legendary ancestor Ambuya Nehanda famously prophesised that my bones will rise again A century later bones bodies and human remains have come to occupy an increasingly complex place in Zimbabwe's postcolonial milieu From ancestral bones rising again in the struggle for independence and later land to resurfacing bones of unsettled war dead and from the troubling decaying remains of post independence Gukurahundi massacres to the leaky tortured bodies of recent election violence human materials are intertwined in postcolonial politics in ways that go far beyond yet necessarily implicate contests over memory commemoration and the representation of the past In this book Joost Fontein examines the complexities of human remains in Zimbabwe's politics of the dead Challenging and innovative he takes us beyond current scholarship on memory commemoration and the changing significance of traditional death practices to examine the political implications of human remains as material substances as duplicitous rumours and as returning spirits Linking the indeterminacy of human substances to the productive but precarious uncertainties of rumours and spirits the book points to how the incompleteness of death is politically productive and ultimately derives from the problematic entangled excessivities of human material and immaterial existence and is deeply intertwined with the stylistics of postcolonial power and politics Joost Fontein is Professor of Anthropology University of Johannesburg He was previously Director of the British Institute in Eastern Africa and Lecturer in Social Anthropology at the University of Edinburgh His books include Remaking Mutirikwi Landscape Water and Belonging James Currey 2015 shortlisted for the African Studies Association 2016 Herskovits Prize Southern Africa South Africa Namibia Lesotho Swaziland and Botswana University of Johannesburg Press

Corporate Governance and IFRS in the Middle East Muath Abdelqader, Tamer K. Darwish, Khalil Nimer, 2022-12-14 The rapid globalization of capital markets has increased attention toward examining the quality of the disclosure practices implemented by companies as internationalization and globalization are the most important motives of the harmonization of financial statements preparation and presentation Given the expansion of trade and the openness to foreign capital markets investment decisions became not limited only for local users but also international users may need to access the financial information The issuance of International Financial Reporting Standards IFRS to be used throughout the world aims to improve the comparability and understandability of financial statements and hence to enhance investment decisions through helping investors across the borders to invest in multinational companies Although fluid and under developed institutional arrangements remain central features of emerging markets ensuring effective corporate governance mechanisms would indeed support companies in complying with IFRS the latter imposes a challenge for companies operating in emerging markets This book evaluates the differences in the level of compliance with IFRS across the GCC states exploring the impact of corporate governance on the level of compliance with IFRS and presenting an empirical analysis of companies across the GCC It makes an important contribution by providing a detailed empirical analysis of the interplay between corporate governance and IFRS in emerging market setting and highlights the way for future research It will provide international business management and accounting and finance students and senior practitioners with a completely new and updated guide to the work in the field of corporate governance and IFRS compliance in emerging markets

A Non-Technical Guide to International Accounting Roger Hussey, Audra Ong, 2019-11-08 Business has become more international and more complex Whether you are a manager a student or someone generally interested in corporate financial information you want information and you want to understand that information Companies in all countries are required to generate financial information if for no other reason than to settle their tax obligations If you are interested in the larger companies such as those listed on a stock exchange they must make financial information public and the nature and type of that information is strictly regulated Companies must comply with accounting standards Many countries use the International Accounting Standards issued by the IFRS Foundation This is a not for profit international organization that has developed a single set of high quality global accounting standards These standards can be complex but this book explains clearly the main requirements
