Now That the Dust Has Settled Athanasio Dzadagu,2015-03-26 In this book I try to explore why one section of the Catholic Community connected with the late Archbishop Chakaipa was overtaken by great remorse when he died while another went into jubilation This leads me into the examination of what kind of person Archbishop Chakaipa was I do this in the context of his family background and his priestly and Episcopal ministries He was of the Unendoro clan with a history tracing back to Karanga roots In his Seminary years he wrote five Shona novels which became very influential in developing Shona literacy He earned enduring respect across the entire Zimbabwean nation for this achievement Within Church circles Archbishop Chakaipas name is synonymous with the policy of self reliance which was his signal achievement in the Archdiocese of Harare He was determined to see the development of indigenous Zimbabwean writers frustrated that the world of ideas in Zimbabwe was dominated by Eurogenic of European origin missionaries In his view such Eurogenic intellectual domination undermined Zimbabwean and African independence In the book I argue that while Archbishop Chakaipa was a hero indeed one deserving of canonisation as a Catholic saint true respect for him should also acknowledge his negative qualities central theoretical and practical issues in post colonial Africa is the relevance nature and politics at play in the management of museum institutions on the continent Most African museums were established during the 19th and 20th centuries as European imperialists were spreading their colonial tentacles across the continent The attainment of political independence has done little to undo or correct the obnoxious situation Most African countries continue to practice colonial museology despite surging scholarship and calls by some Afro centric and critical scholars the world over to address the quandaries on the continents museum institutions There is thus an unresolved struggle between the past and the present in the management of museums in Africa In countries such as Zimbabwe the struggle in museum management has been precipitated by the sharp economic downturn that has gripped the country since the turn of the millennium In view of all these glitches this book tackles the issue of the management of heritage in Zimbabwe The book draws on the findings by scholars and researchers from different academic orientations and backgrounds to advance the thesis that museums and museology in Zimbabwe face problems of epic proportions that require urgent attention It makes insightful suggestions on possible solutions to the tapestry of the inexorably enigmatic amalgam of complex problems haunting museum institutions in Zimbabwe calling for a radical transformation of museology as a discipline in the process This book should appeal to policy makers scholars researchers and students from disciplines such as museology archaeology social cultural anthropology and culture and heritage studies
