Zimsec O Level Mathematics:

The World of Science Education Femi S. Otulaja, Meshach B. Ogunniyi, 2017-09-12 Each volume in the 7 volume series The World of Science Education reviews research in a key region of the world These regions include North America South and Latin America Asia Australia and New Zealand Europe and Israel North Africa and the Middle East and Sub Saharan Africa The focus of this Handbook is on research in science education in mostly former British colonies in Sub Saharan Africa and the scholarship that most closely support this program The reviews of the research situate what has been accomplished within a given field in Sub Saharan Africa rather than an international context The purpose therefore is to articulate and exhibit regional networks and trends that produced specific forms of science education The thrust lies in identifying the roots of research programs and sketching trajectories focusing the changing face of problems and solutions within regional contexts The approach allows readers to review what has been done and accomplished what is missing and what might be done next

Investigating the Impact of Information Communication Technology on Self-directed Professional Development of Teachers Emmanuel Mushayikwa, 2011-03-02 The aim of this research was to investigate the perceived impact of ICT on Zimbabwean A level science and mathematics teachers self directed professional development The study was based on a questionnaire survey of 254 teachers throughout the country Supplementary data came from 54 interviews Some observations of teachers using ICT in teacher centres e mail correspondence and field reports also contributed to the database of the study An analysis framework was developed through the use of grounded theory on the interview transcripts The framework yielded 9 themes relating to the teachers use of ICT for their professional development These were 1 perceived professional identity 2 career development 3 Managing the ICT environment 4 theoretical and content knowledge 5 practical knowledge and skills 6 adaptation 7 professional networking and 8 9 perceived benefits to teachers and students Chaos complexity theory was used to identify the major attractors goals for teachers self directed professional development using ICT Two attractors were identified These were personal professional development and classroom practice However an overriding factor common to both attractors was identified as self efficacy The study identified the overarching driver for self directed professional development as the teacher's need to improve their self efficacy A two dimensional model of self directed professional development was suggested The systemic element of the model focused on the self correcting impact of ICT use on professional development whilst the personal element focused on self efficacy as the central stratum for self directed professional development The study concluded by acknowledging the potent role that ICT is playing in the self directed continuing professional development of teachers in Zimbabwe and recommended among other things the inclusion of A level teachers in the development of localised online materials resources for their subjects This will help to enhance relevance of the materials to the Zimbabwean context

Some Developments in Research in Science and Mathematics in Sub-Saharan Africa Lorna Holtman, 2008 Much attention in late developing countries is given to providing access to studies which allow school leavers to enter science and technology related careers These programmes are driven by the belief that graduates will then substantially contribute to the developmental needs of their countries But is providing access to institutions enough Students in developing countries often come from school environments lacking in resources human physical and financial This book in a number of chapters reviews research related to the crucial dimension of epistemological access to the disciplines of import which students need as much as institutional access in order to improve their chances of success A significant feature of this collection s research studies is that their empirical bases are highly localised covering areas such as research methods access curriculum instruction and assessment and the relevance of science and mathematics education in Zimbabwe Uganda Swaziland South Africa Namibia Malawi Ghana and Lesotho This volume provides invaluable insights and will be of relevance to researchers policy makers and lecturers interested in these research outcomes in Sub Saharan Africa It is the outcome of a doctoral research capacity development project the Graduate Studies in Science Mathematics and Technology Education GRASSMATE

Education and Development in Zimbabwe Edward Shizha, Michael T. Kariwo, 2012-01-01 The book represents a contribution to policy formulation and design in an increasingly knowledge economy in Zimbabwe It challenges scholars to think about the role of education its funding and the egalitarian approach to widening access to education The nexus between education democracy and policy change is a complex one The book provides an illuminating account of the constantly evolving notions of national identity language and citizenship from the Zimbabwean experience The book discusses educational successes and challenges by examining the ideological effects of social political and economic considerations on Zimbabwe s colonial and postcolonial education Currently literature on current educational challenges in Zimbabwe is lacking and there is very little published material on these ideological effects on educational development in Zimbabwe This book is likely to be one of the first on the impact of social political and economic meltdown on education The book is targeted at local and international academics and scholars of history of education and comparative education scholars of international education and development undergraduate and graduate students and professors who are interested in educational development in Africa particularly Zimbabwe Notwithstanding the book is a valuable resource to policy makers educational administrators and researchers and the wider community Shizha and Kariwo s book is an important and illuminating addition on the effects of social political and economic trajectories on education and development in Zimbabwe It critically analyses the crucial specifics of the Zimbabwean situation by providing an in depth discourse on education at this historical juncture The book offers new insights that may be useful for an understanding of not only the Zimbabwean case but also education in other African countries Rosemary Gordon Senior Lecturer in Educational Foundations University of Zimbabwe Ranging in temporal scope from the colonial era and its elitist legacy through the golden era of populist universal elementary education to the disarray of contemporary socioeconomic crisis covering elementary through higher education and touching thematically on everything from the pernicious effects of social adjustment programmes through the local deprofessionalization of teaching this text provides a comprehensive wide ranging and yet carefully detailed account of education in Zimbabwe This engagingly written portrayal will prove illuminating not only to readers interested in Zimbabwe s education specifically but more widely to all who are interested in how the sociopolitical shapes education how ideology policy international pressures economic factors and shifts in values collectively forge the historical and contemporary character of a country s education Handel Kashope Wright Professor of Education University of British Columbia Global Perspectives on Teacher Performance Improvement Al-Mahdi, Osama,Purinton, Ted,2022-02-04 In service teacher professional development is central to most empirical conceptions of educational quality As the techniques and strategies for educational reform have spread rapidly throughout the world teacher professional development practices have been borrowed across borders It is important to study the global sharing of information on teacher professional development Global Perspectives on Teacher Performance Improvement examines the implementation of proven high quality teacher professional development practices in unique environments around the world It further explains the power of a globally connected community of teacher quality improvement Covering topics such as mentoring programs education technology and education workforce this book is an essential resource for educational administration and faculty pre service teachers the public education sector government officials educators of both K 12 and higher education researchers and academicians STEM Education in Poverty Brantina Chirinda,Gladys Sunzuma,Perkins Muredzi,2025-07-15 This book is about Science Technology Engineering and Mathematics STEM education in poverty and the lessons we learn from Zimbabwe The world is driving towards the fourth Industrial Revolution 4IR where economic growth has been attributed to STEM education STEM education is vital in this era where both developed and developing countries are undergo rapid changes Globally STEM education has been practised differently in schools and universities University programs new school curricula instructional methods extracurricular programs and professional development programs for in service teachers have been created to cater to STEM subjects STEM education is envisioned to produce critical thinkers inventors creators problem solvers innovators and professionals who will solve the world s ever changing challenges including inequity food insecurity climate change inequality and poverty STEM is essential to modern education Zimbabwe has faced significant economic challenges but has made remarkable strides in STEM education By examining the successes and challenges of STEM education in Zimbabwe we can learn valuable lessons about improving STEM education in underserved communities This book contributes to the international debate surrounding the optimal STEM education for students in underserved schools It incorporates detailed accounts of STEM education in Zimbabwe schools shedding light on the challenges students and educators face in impoverished areas In Zimbabwe STEM education faces significant challenges such as materials and facilities pedagogy policy reform access and relevance Some of the main issues highlighted in this book are the need for more resources including funding teaching materials and adequate laboratories Effective STEM pedagogy is hampered by an education system that emphasises the curriculum and teacher centred focus instead of focusing on how students can be taught or learn Research has shown that in Zimbabwe STEM teachers must apply inventive pedagogies and suitable learner centred STEM teaching approaches As a result there is a need for more STEM related programs and courses in schools and universities to improve the opportunities for students to pursue careers in these fields Another challenge is the need for more awareness about the opportunities and importance of STEM education and interest in STEM subjects among students which can be attributed to a lack of exposure and understanding of the relevance and importance of these fields in today s world While lack of resources and other challenges hinder effectiveness opportunity lies in promising pathways of policy and practice In Zimbabwe there is a varying degree of success in the implemented competence based curriculum which emphasises inquiry based learning and STEM education Finally there is a need for early exposure to STEM based career opportunities and for more collaboration between the government private sector and educational institutions to address these challenges and promote STEM education in Zimbabwe This book uses Zimbabwe as an example to explore STEM education in poverty By examining the successes and challenges of STEM education in Zimbabwe this book offers valuable insights into how STEM education can be integrated into the curriculum in countries with developing and emerging economies This book is an essential resource for anyone interested in improving STEM education in underserved communities

Report of the Presidential Commission of Inquiry Into Education and Training Zimbabwe.

Presidential Commission on Education and Training in Zimbabwe,1999 Teacher in Zimbabwe ,2014 School Science Practical Work in Africa Umesh Ramnarain,2020-06-01 School Science Practical Work in Africa presents the scope of research and practice of science practical work in African schools It brings together prominent science educators and researchers from Africa to share their experience and findings on pedagogical innovations and research informed practices on school science practical work The book highlights trends and patterns in the enactment and role of practical work across African countries Practical work is regarded as intrinsic to science teaching and learning and the form of practical work that is strongly advocated is inquiry based learning which signals a definite paradigm shift from the traditional teacher dominated to a learner centered approach The book provides empirical research on approaches to practical work contextual factors in the enactment of practical work and professional development in teaching practical work This book will be of great interest to academics researchers and post graduate students in the fields of science education and educational policy Zimbabwe Human Rights Bulletin ,2003 Zimbabwe Youth Investment Case Study Munhamo Chisvo,2016 Beyond the Crises: Zimbabwes Prospects for Transformation Tendai Murisa,Tendai Chikweche,2015-12-01 Over the past years few African countries have been the focus of discussions and analyses generating a vast array of literature as much as Zimbabwe The socioeconomic and political crises since the turn of the century have deeply transformed the country from the ideals of a vibrant freshly independent nation just two decades earlier These transformations have necessitated the call for the restructuring of Zimbabwean society polity and economy But this literature remains exclusively within the realm of academic thinking and theorising with no concerted effort to move beyond this by explicitly drawing out the policy implications Beyond the Crises Zimbabwe's Prospects for Transformation is a welcome addition to the academic and policy literature with a much broader and all embracing focus in terms of policy interventions By focusing on different aspects of social and economic justice Murisa and Chikweche go beyond initiating a broad discussion on these two key pillars of human development with a view to suggesting possible future directions of practical solutions and policy development for the attainment of inclusive social and economic justice for Zimbabweans

Moto ,1998 New Leaders, New Dawns? Chris Brown,David Moore,Blair Rutherford,2022-06-17 In late 2017 and early 2018 South Africa and Zimbabwe both experienced rapid and unexpected political transitions In Zimbabwe Robert Mugabe the only leader the country had ever known was replaced in a soft coup by his erstwhile vice president Emmerson Mnangagwa Over a twelve day period in February 2018 South African president Jacob Zuma was prematurely forced from office by his former deputy president Cyril Ramaphosa The widespread popular rejoicing that accompanied their arrival compounded the shock of these sudden transitions New Leaders New Dawns explores these political transitions and the way they were received Contributors consider how the former liberation heroes Mugabe and Zuma could have fallen so low the underlying reasons for their ouster what happened to their liberation movements turned ruling parties and perhaps most importantly what the rise to power of Ramaphosa and Mnangagwa foreshadowed Bringing together fourteen leading international scholars of southern Africa and adopting a political economy framework this volume argues that the changes in leadership are welcome but insufficient While the time had come for Zuma and Mugabe to go there is little in the personal histories or early policy actions of Ramaphosa and Mnangagwa that suggests they will be capable of addressing the profound social economic and political problems both countries face New Leaders New Dawns reveals that despite what these new leaders may have promised a new dawn has not yet arrived in southern Africa Development of Education Zimbabwe.
