Harry Bauld, 2012-08-21 One of the most stressful aspects of the college application process is the essay. Most students worry about what an admissions officer looks for in a writing sample. But that's the wrong way to approach this vital component, says former Ivy League college admissions officer Harry Bauld. At Brown and Columbia, he saw what prospective students often did wrong and now tells you how to do it right. In this fully revised and updated edition of the classic guide to writing the best essay of your life, Bauld has written an insider's guide to writing an essay that will stand out from the pack. He advises you on how to find your authentic voice, gives you tools and ideas that will spark your imagination, and shows you how to approach themes with originality and panache to make even the most tired topics fresh. He'll tell you straight out what admissions officers aren't looking for, another platitudinous variation on one of the following themes: if you see your initial idea reflected in this list, think again. The trip I had to adjust to a whole new way of life. My favorite things: puppy dogs, freedom, and chocolate chip cookies. The pageant contestant I think World Peace is the most important issue facing us today. The jock. Through wrestling, I have learned to set goals and to work
