Traveling through a familiar landscape now fraught with danger, Magnus finds himself a stranger in a world ruled by men like Jeb, hard-hearted practical men quick to make life or death decisions. In a world rewritten with a harsh code of justice and a new set of rules where people barter for their existence with food and weapons, survival is the bottom line. But when Magnus and Jeb stumble across a murder during their journey, they will have to decide whether finding the truth about a single death can weigh in the balance against the need to survive. IRISH INDEPENDENT Veteran BBC reporter William Carver is in Cairo bang in the middle of the Arab Spring. The only story in the world according to his editor. But it isn't. There's another story more significant and potentially more dangerous and if no one else is willing to tell it, then Carver will whatever the consequences.

A Single Source tells two stories which over a few tumultuous months come together to prove inextricably linked. There are the dramatic world-changing events as protests spread across North Africa and the Middle East led by a new generation of tech-savvy youngsters challenging the corrupt old order. And then there are two Eritrean brothers desperate enough to risk everything to make their way across the continent to a better life in Europe. The world is watching, but its attention span is increasingly short. Carver knows the story is a complex one and in the age of Facebook, Twitter, and rolling news, difficult stories are getting harder to tell. If everyone is a reporter, then who do you believe? Draws you in from the first line and keeps you guessing until literally the very last.

A riveting coming-of-age story with the precision of a Hitchcock noir by a masterful new voice in Italian literature. Suspenseful and elegiac as beautiful as it is horrifying.

Karen Dionne A densely layered psychological mystery

Chicago Tribune Reads like a collaboration between Daphne du Maurier and Megan Abbott

The Irish Times Over the course of one oppressively hot summer in the small town of Ponte in northern Italy, one family's secrets are revealed and the community is torn apart by a terrible crime.

Sixteen-year-old Elia Furenti lives with his parents in a secluded house, a tight-knit family whose rhythms are dictated by the shifts in his father's emotional state. When the closure of the nearby factory leaves Elia's father without a job, however, home becomes an increasingly fraught environment. With the summer heat pressing down, Elia's father begins to spiral, his moods becoming increasingly dark and erratic while Elia's mother refuses to acknowledge that anything has changed. Meanwhile, a forbidden relationship blossoms as Elia seeks refuge from the silence and tension at home. Events reach a breaking point one moonlit night when a young woman climbs into a van and is taken into the deep dark woods.
