The Lover's Dictionary David Levithan, 2011-01-21 How does one talk about love Is it even possible to describe something at once utterly mundane and wholly transcendent that has the power to consume our lives completely while making us feel part of something infinitely larger than ourselves Taking a unique approach to this age old problem the nameless narrator of David Levithan's The Lover's Dictionary constructs the story of a relationship as a dictionary Through these sharp entries he provides an intimate window into the great events and quotidian trifles of coupledness giving us an indelible and deeply moving portrait of love in our time

The Chivalric Romance and the Essence of Fiction Dani Cavallaro, 2015-12-11 Ranging from Chretien de Troyes to Shakespeare this study proposes that the chivalric romance is characterized by a centerless structure self conscious fictionality and a propensity for irony The form is tied to historical reality yet represents the archetype of imaginative literature declaring its fictional status without claiming to embody fixed truths Through use of irony the chivalric romance precludes conclusive interpretations inviting readers to inhabit multifold fantasy worlds while uncompromisingly showing that an ideal world is only a fiction Thus the reader is enjoined to confront the suspension of truth in their own lives

Away With Words Katrina Grella, 2016-04-27 Away With Words chronicles the progression of a relationship between Miles and Deidra Carlton an unlikely couple who fall in love with the way each chooses to proclaim their love for one another Miles uses words and their etymologies to communicate while Deidra photographs flowers to reveal her emotions that relate to Victorian era meanings Miles' arrogant devotion for words and Deidra's passion for photography creates a nearly unspoken bond between the two where their love for each other seems to grow beyond a definition or the perfect angle Their love does not conform to the margins of the novel playing with Hybrid and Experimental Fiction

Mixed Feelings Katja Garloff, 2016-11-15 Since the late eighteenth century writers and thinkers have used the idea of love often unrequited or impossible love to comment on the changing cultural social and political position of Jews in the German speaking countries In Mixed Feelings Katja Garloff asks what it means for literature and philosophy to use love between individuals as a metaphor for group relations This question is of renewed interest today when theorists of multiculturalism turn toward love in their search for new models of particularity and universality Mixed Feelings is structured around two transformative moments in German Jewish culture and history that produced particularly rich clusters of interfaith love stories Around 1800 literature promoted the rise of the Romantic love ideal and the shift from prearranged to love based marriages In the German speaking countries this change in the theory and practice of love coincided with the beginnings of Jewish emancipation and both its supporters and opponents linked their arguments to tropes of love Garloff explores the generative powers of such tropes in Moses Mendelssohn G E Lessing Friedrich Schlegel Dorothea Veit and Achim von Arnim Around 1900 the rise of racial antisemitism had called into question the promises of emancipation and led to a crisis of German Jewish identity At the same time Jewish Christian intermarriage prompted public debates that were tied up with racial discourses and concerns about procreation heredity and the mutability and immutability of the Jewish body Garloff shows how modern German Jewish writers such as Arthur Schnitzler Else Lasker Sch ler and Franz Rosenzweig wrest the idea of love away from biologist thought and reinstate it as a model of sociopolitical relations She concludes by tracing the relevance of this model in post Holocaust works by Gershom Scholem Hannah Arendt and Barbara Honigmann
