Narratology beyond the Human David Herman, 2018-03-01 To what extent and in what manner do storytelling practices accommodate nonhuman subjects and their modalities of experience and how can contemporary narrative study shed light on interspecies interactions and entanglements In Narratology beyond the Human David Herman addresses these questions through a cross disciplinary approach to post Darwinian narratives concerned with animals and human animal relationships Herman considers the enabling and constraining effects of different narrative media examining a range of fictional and nonfictional texts disseminated in print comics and graphic novels and film In focusing on techniques such as the use of animal narrators alternation between human and nonhuman perspectives the embedding of stories within stories and others the book explores how specific strategies for portraying nonhuman agents both emerge from and contribute to broader attitudes toward animal life Herman argues that existing frameworks for narrative inquiry must be modified to take into account how stories are interwoven with cultural ontologies or understandings of what sorts of beings populate the world and how they relate to humans Showing how questions of narrative bear on ideas of species difference and assumptions about animal minds Narratology beyond the Human underscores our inextricable interconnectedness with other forms of creatural life and suggests that stories can be used to resituate imaginaries of human action in a more than human world Masculine Identities Herbert Sussman, 2012-03-14 This book provides an intriguing look at the long history of the changing definitions of what it means to be a man identifying both the continuity and disparity in these ideals and explaining the contemporary crisis of masculinity In the classical Athens of Plato and Pericles erotic relations between adolescents and adult men what we now revile as pedophilia was the marker of manliness a clear example of how concepts of masculinity shift Even within modern western society there are conflicting ideals for men they are expected to be both aggressive and unemotional in business and sensitive and caring as a father and lover Masculine Identities The History and Meanings of Manliness provides a comprehensive consideration of what being a man has meant over time A fascinating read for men and women alike it examines masculine identities that emerged in the past and continue into the present such as the warrior the democratic man the craftsman the self made man of business as well as ethnic forms of manliness The work concludes by examining the contemporary issues of male sexuality same sex identity and the conflicts within men in the modern world Teaching Edith Wharton's Major Novels and Short Fiction Ferdâ Asya, 2021-05-13 This book translates recent scholarship into pedagogy for teaching Edith Wharton's widely celebrated and less known fiction to students in the twenty first century It comprises such themes as American and European cultures material culture identity sexuality class gender law history journalism anarchism war addiction disability ecology technology and social media in historical cultural transcultural international and regional contexts It includes Wharton's works compared to those of other authors taught online read in foreign universities and studied in film adaptations Wild Anthropocene Louise Economides, 2025-04-17 Wild Anthropocene examines four key areas the politics of deep time neoliberalism's socio ecological impacts global population growth and inter species entanglement to demonstrate how literature illuminates progressive solutions to Anthropocene challenges The book argues that technological mitigation of contemporary environmental crises must be complimented by a politics committed to multispecies justice Central to this new politics is the project of reimagining our relationship with time as something other than its status within capitalist praxis The book brings together poetry and fiction written by a diverse range of writers to demonstrate how contemporary literature addresses important connections between social oppression and environmental issues It also critiques techno managerial visions of the future that celebrate humanity's ever growing control over ecosystems by examining multiple sources of wildness temporal environmental and technological that expose the problematic ideology underwriting such aspirations Readers will be introduced to a way of understanding the Anthropocene that while being informed by recent discoveries in earth science and evolutionary biology also makes a strong case for humanities based understanding of environmental politics This interdisciplinary text will be a useful addition to theoretical discussions on the Anthropocene for scholars researchers and students in the environmental humanities literary studies ecocriticism and environmental philosophy WPA, Writing Program Administration, 1989 Otttemiller's Index to Plays in Collections John Henry Otttemiller, Denise L.
