The Old Men at the Zoo Angus Wilson, 2015-07-30 Set in a near future the novel was first published in 1961 and is set in the period 1970-73 this is Angus Wilson's most allegorical novel about a doomed attempt to set up a reserve for wild animals Simon Carter secretary of the London Zoo has accepted responsibility and power to the prejudice of his gifts as a naturalist But power is more than just the complicated game played by the old men at the zoo in the satirical first half of this novel it lies very near to violence and in the second half real life inexorably turns to fantasy the fantasy of war This tense and at times brutal story offers the healing relationship between man and the natural world as a solution for the power dilemma

The Humane Medievalist Jack Arthur Walter Bennett, 1982 Britain in Europe, 2024-11-25 A Cultural History of British Euroscepticism M. Spiering, 2014-12-03 Why are the British so Euro sceptic Forget about tedious treaties party politics or international relations The real reason is that the British do not feel European This book explores and explains the cultural divide between Britain and Europe where it comes from and how it manifests itself in everyday life and the academic world Directors in British and Irish Cinema Robert Murphy, 2019-07-25 A guide to directors who have worked in the British and Irish film industries between 1895 and 2005 Each of its 980 entries on individuals directors gives a resume of the director's career evaluates their achievements and provides a complete filmography It is useful for those interested in film making in Britain and Ireland British Cinema Amy Sargeant, 2019-07-25 Although new writing and research on British cinema has burgeoned over the last fifteen years there has been a continued lack of single authored books providing a coherent overview to this fascinating and elusive national cinema Amy Sargeant's personal and entertaining history of British cinema aims to fill this gap With its insightful decade by decade analysis British Cinema is brought alive for a new generation of British cinema students and the general reader alike Sargeant challenges Rachel Low's premise that few of the films made in England during the twenties were any good by covering subjects as diverse as the art of intertittling the narrative complexities of Shooting Stars and Brunel's burlesques Sargeant goes on to examine among other things the differing acting styles of Dietrich and Donat in the seminal Knight Without Armour to early promotional campaigns in the 1930s whereas subjects ranging from product endorsement by stars to the character of the suburban wife are covered in the 1940s The 1950s includes topics such as the effect of post war government intervention to Free Cinema and Lindsay Anderson's infuriating lapses of rigour together with a much needed overview of Michael Balcon's contribution to British cinema For Sargeant the 1960s provides an overview of the tentative relationship between film and advertising and the rise of young Turks such as Tony Richardson Ken Loach Donald Cammell and Nicolas Roeg American Zoo David Grazian, 2017-12-05 A close up look at the contradictions and wonders of the modern zoo Orangutans swing from Kevlar lined fire hoses Giraffes feast on celebratory birthday cakes topped with carrots instead of candles Hi tech dinosaur robots growl among steel trees while owls watch animated cartoons on old television sets In American Zoo sociologist David Grazian takes us on a safari through the contemporary zoo alive with its many contradictions and strange wonders Trading in his tweed jacket for a zoo uniform and a pair of muddy work boots Grazian introduces us to zookeepers and animal rights activists parents and toddlers and the other human primates that make up the zoo's social world He shows that in a major shift away from their unfortunate pasts American zoos today emphasize naturalistic exhibits teeming with lush and immersive landscapes breeding programs for endangered animals and enrichment activities for their captive creatures In doing so zoos blur the imaginary boundaries we regularly use to separate culture from nature humans from animals and civilization from the wild At the same time zoos manage a wilderness of competing priorities animal care education scientific research and recreation all while attempting to serve as centers for conservation in the wake of the current environmental and climate change crisis The world of the zoo reflects how we project our own prejudices and desires onto the animal kingdom and invest nature with meaning and sentiment A revealing portrayal of comic animals delighted children and feisty zookeepers American Zoo is a remarkable close up exploration of a classic cultural attraction

Englishness M. Spiering,2023-12-11 Faced with the demise of their country on the world stage with the Americanization of their society and with the prospect of integration into Europe many people in postwar Britain and in particular in England began to look more closely at their national identity Using literature as a source material this study investigates postwar images of Englishness as they are defined in relation not only to Americans and Europeans but also to other foreigners the Arabs and the Russians In the context of the Anglo American novel particular regard is given to Englishness in Evelyn Waugh's The Loved One and David Lodge's Changing Places Subsequently the book focuses on that peculiarly English genre the invasion story tales in which Englishness comes under direct attack from evil plotters from abroad While the history of the genre is discussed at some length detailed attention is paid to images of Englishness in Angus Wilson's The Old Men at the Zoo united European forces invade a Euro recalcitrant Britain Anthony Burgess 1985 Arab infiltrators prepare to Islamize the English and Kingsley Amis Russian Hide and Seek after a period of occupation the Russians attempt to give the English back their Englishness Old Lines, New Forces Robert K. Morris, 1976 Draws together a dozen essays by the foremost contemporary critics of the British novel to examine its growth in the sixties The collection of critical pieces is devoted to major minor and rising novelists who are cultivating the seedbed of contemporary fictional talent in England today Four Contemporary Novels Kerry McSweeney, 1983-01-01 Four Contemporary Novelists offer accounts of the fiction of Angus Wilson Brian Moore John Fowles and V S Naipaul The author has charted the development of each writer identified dominant themes controlling techniques and informing sensibility explained what each has tried to accomplish and compare theory to practice provided an appropriate context for appreciation and evaluation of all parts of each canon and made qualitative discriminations The Classic British Telefantasy Guide Paul Cornell, Martin Day, Keith Topping, 2015-07-30 The Classic British Telefantasy Guide is derived from the second edition of The Guinness Book of Classic British TV with various corrections and a revised introduction to bring it up to date It was written when the Internet barely existed and at a time when few books had been published on the subject This is however by no means a new or completely revised version of the original material too much time has passed and if we were to start reworking and correcting the text now it would probably never be finished Instead Classic British Telefantasy is an electronic reprint of some of the authors earliest work repacked for a new format and perhaps a new age Modernism and World War II Marina MacKay, 2007-01-18 World War II marked the beginning of the end of literary modernism in Britain However this late period of modernism and its response to the war have not yet received the scholarly attention they deserve In this full length study of modernism and World War II Marina MacKay offers historical readings of Virginia Woolf Rebecca West T S Eliot Henry Green and Evelyn Waugh set against the dramatic background of national struggle and transformation In recovering how these major authors engaged with other texts of their time political discourses mass and middlebrow culture this study reveals how World War II brought to the surface the underlying politics of modernism's aesthetic practices Through close analyses of the revisions made to modernist thinking after 1939 MacKay establishes the significance of this persistently neglected phase of modern literature as a watershed moment in twentieth century literary history Roman in Englisch-deutscher Perspektiven Susanne Stark, 2000 The Novel in Anglo German Context focuses on cross currents and affinities between fiction written in English and fiction written in German and the thirty one contributors to this volume cover authors from the eighteenth century to the present day The essays collected in this book approach the theme of Anglo German cultural cross fertilisation from a number of different angles These include the reception and translation of foreign authors the examination of exile writers the comparative exploration of aspects which are crucial to both German Austrian or Swiss and British or Irish novelists at a given point in time the fictional depiction of the respective other culture Anglo German images in the novel as well as the role of the novel in the curricula of German and British secondary education The topics chosen by the contributors offer stimulating views on a wide range of subject areas and the volume is essential reading for anyone with a broad interest in Anglo Irish German Austrian and Swiss literature the development of fiction as well as Anglo German literary and cultural relations
