Lost Steps Alejo Carpentier, 1960 The Lost Steps Andr  Breton, 1996-01-01 The Lost Steps Les Pas perdus is Andr  Breton's first collection of critical and polemical essays Composed between 1917 and 1923 these pieces trace his evolution during the years when he was emerging as a central figure in French and European intellectual life They chronicle his tumultuous passage through the Dada movement proclaim his explosive views on Modernism and its heroes and herald the emergence of Surrealism itself Along the way we are given Breton's serious commentaries on his Modernist predecessors Guillaume Apollinaire and Alfred Jarry followed by his not so serious Dada manifestoes Also included are portraits of Marcel Duchamp Francis Picabia and Breton's mysterious friend Jacques Vach  as well as a crisis by crisis account of his dealing with Dada's leader Tristan Tzara Finally Breton offers a first glimpse of Surrealism the movement that was forever after identified with his name and that stands as a defining force in twentieth century aesthetics Mark Polizzotti editorial director of David R Godine Publisher is the author of Revolution of the Mind The Life of Andr  Breton He is also the translator of Jean Echenoz's Double Jeopardy Nebraska 1994 and Cherokee Nebraska 1994 and of Andr  Breton's Conversations The Autobiography of Surrealism Mary Ann Caws is Distinguished Professor of French at Hunter College and at the City University of New York Her most recent work is Robert Motherwell What Art Holds She is the translator of Andr  Breton's Mad Love Nebraska 1987 and Communicating Vessels Nebraska 1990 Pasos Perdidos, Los: The Lost Steps A. Carpentier, 1998-02-01 Lost Steps PB A Carpentier, 2000-01-01 The Ends of Literature Brett Levinson, 2001 The Ends of Literature analyzes the part played by literature within contemporary Latin American thought and politics above all the politics of neoliberalism The why of contemporary Latin American literature is the book's overarching concern Its wide range includes close readings of the prose of Cortázar, Carpentier, Paz, Valenzuela, Piglia and Las Casas of the relationship of the Boom movement and its aftermath of testimonial narrative and of contemporary Chilean and Chicano film The work also investigates in detail various theoretical projects as they intersect with and emerge from Latin American scholarship cultural studies deconstruction psychoanalysis and postcolonial studies Latin American literature both as a vehicle of conservatism and as an agent of subversion is bound from its inception to the rise of the state Literature's nature, role and status are therefore altered when the Latin American nation-state succumbs to the process of neoliberalism as the too strong state dictatorship yields to the too weak state the market and as the various practices of civil society and public life are replaced by private or privatized endeavors However neither the end of literature nor the end of the state can be assumed The end of literature in Latin America is in fact the call for more literature it is the call of literature in particular that of the Boom The end of the state likewise is the demand upon this state The book then analyzes the ends in question as at once their purpose, direction, future and conclusion Also key to the study is the notion of transition Within much recent Latin American political discussion la transición refers to the passage from dictatorship to democracy as well as to the failure of this shift the failure of post-dictatorship The author argues that the movement from literary to cultural studies while issuing from intellectual and aesthetic circles is an integral component of this same transition The thematization of the bond between these two displacements hence of Latin America's voyage into post-transition forms a fundamental portion of the text

Alienation and Conversion in Alejo Carpentier's The Lost Steps and Walker Percy's The Moviegoer Barbara Ann Molnar, 1998 Studies and Essays on Romance Literatures Rodica Grigore, 2025-05-17 Adopting the challenging perspective of Comparative Literature with respect to some important books of the 20th century this collection of essays embodies a symbolic journey trying to find some new and unexplored meanings of certain famous novels short stories or poems decoding images characters and plots in a particular way Covering a wide range of writers from the Romanian poet Lucian Blaga to the Portuguese Fernando Pessoa or from the rather unknown Romanian representative of the avant garde Urmuz to the great Latin American novelists Clarice Lispector Alejo Carpentier Julio Cortázar Gabriel García Márquez or Guillermo Cabrera Infante the studies included in this volume re-read some masterpieces of Romance literatures in the attempt to highlight the deep and often hidden truth of these authors' great books This quest also tries to metaphorically cover the distance between the two sides of the Atlantic encompassing the initiatory experience often lived both by the above mentioned writers and their characters Sacred Surrealism, Dissidence and International Avant-Garde Prose

Vivienne Brough-Evans, 2016-05-05 Vivienne Brough Evans proposes a compelling new way of reevaluating aspects of international surrealism by means of the category of divin fou and consequently deploys theories of sacred ecstasy as developed by the Collège de Sociologie 1937-39 as a critical tool in shedding new light on the literary oeuvre of non-French writers who worked both within and against a surrealist framework The minor surrealist genre of prose literature is considered herein rather than surrealism's mainstay poetry with the intention of fracturing preconceptions regarding the medium of surrealist expression The aim is to explore whether International surrealism can begin to be more fully explained by an occluded strain of dissident surrealist thought that searches outside the self through the affects of ekstasis Bretonian surrealism is widely discussed in the field of surrealist studies and there is a need to consider what is left out of surrealist practice when analysed through this Bretonian lens The Collège de Sociologie and Georges Bataille's theories provide a model of such elements of dissident surrealism which is used to analyse surrealist or surrealist-influenced prose by Alejo Carpentier Leonora Carrington and Gellu Naum respectively representing postcolonial feminist and Balkan locutions The Collège and Bataille's dissident surrealism diverges significantly from the concerns and approach towards the subject explored by surrealism Using the concept of ekstasis to organise Bataille's theoretical ideas of excess and inner experience and the Collège's thoughts on the sacred it is possible to propose a new way of reading types of International surrealist literature many of which do not come to the forefront of the surrealist literary oeuvre This is the Canon Joan Anim-Addo, Deirdre Osborne, Kadija Sesay, 2021-10-28 A vital and timely introduction to some of the best books I've ever read Perfectly curated
