The Killdeer And Other Stories From The Farming Life:

The Killdeer and Other Stories from the Farming Life Michael Cotter, 2015-02 Even after dark if you are quiet and attentive you can hear a Killdeer far off Sandbars mud flats and grazed fields are where you find them They are commonplace So much so that you might miss them if not for the unique sound they make as they fly overhead or dart back and forth on the ground as if wondering which way to go next So it is with Michael Cotter's stories They are like a comfortable pair of slippers Not flashy at all but each time you put them on and walk in them you are so glad you did They appear so ordinary but the way they wrap around your soul surprises you And like slippers you thought you'd never buy Michael's stories surprise you Even though they are not flashy energetic or dramatic in ways we have come to expect in this digital age they are grounded in universal truths with timeless characters They provide us with a sense of memory wisdom and peace that celebrates the human spirit and revels in the common man woman boy and girl that is in us all When Michael tells his stories it's as if time stands still We are reminded of who we really are down deep after the television is turned off the radio is silenced and we have put our egos on the shelf to rest a spell Rex Ellis Director of Museum programs Smithsonian Institution Washington D C The New Oxford Book of Canadian Short Stories in English Margaret Atwood, Robert Weaver, 1995 A survey of Canada's leading writers features forty seven stories with new pieces by writers in the original Oxford Book of Canadian Short Stories Included are short stories by W P Kinsella Morley Callaghan Timothy Findlay Matt Cohen Alice Munro and Margaret Atwood Building Sustainable Worlds Theresa Delgadillo, Ramon H. Rivera-Servera, Geraldo L. Cadava, Claire F. Fox, 2022-07-12 Latina o x places exist as both tangible physical phenomena and gatherings created and maintained by creative cultural practices In this collection an interdisciplinary group of contributors critically examines the many ways that varied Latina o x communities cohere through cultural expression Authors consider how our embodied experiences of place together with our histories and knowledge inform our imagination and reimagination of our surroundings in acts of placemaking This placemaking often considers environmental sustainability as it helps to sustain communities in the face of xenophobia and racism through cultural expression ranging from festivals to zines to sanctuary movements It emerges not only in specific locations but as movement within and between sites not only as part of a built environment but also as an aesthetic practice and not only because of efforts by cultural political and institutional leaders but through mass media and countless human interactions A rare and crucial perspective on Latina o x people in the Midwest Building Sustainable Worlds reveals how expressive culture contributes to and sustains a sense of place in an uncertain era The Last of the Husbandmen Gene Logsdon, 2008 Part morality play and part personal recollection The Last of the Husbandmen is both a lighthearted look at the past and a profound comment about the present state of farming life It is a novel that captures the spirit of those we have chosen to work the land they love BOOK JACKET The Vermonter, 1928 Gray Lady and the Birds: Stories of the Bird Year for Home and School Mabel Osgood Wright, 2021-11-05 In Gray

Lady and the Birds Stories of the Bird Year for Home and School Mabel Osgood Wright deftly intertwines narrative and naturalism offering a series of vignettes that illuminate the dynamic relationship between humans and avian life through the changing seasons Written in a lyrical prose that evokes the charm of early 20th century children s literature the book not only serves as an educational guide on birdwatching but also as a celebration of nature s beauty Each story is meticulously crafted to inspire a sense of wonder and stewardship for the environment reflecting the broader literary movement of the time that favored nature writing and environmental awareness Mabel Osgood Wright renowned for her contributions to nature literature and as a pioneering author of children s books drew upon her own profound passion for ornithology and ecology influenced by the naturalist movement emerging in her era Her background in both literature and the sciences uniquely positioned her to articulate the intricate connections between humanity and the avian world promoting conservationist ideals long before they became mainstream I highly recommend Gray Lady and the Birds to educators parents and nature enthusiasts alike This engaging collection not only provides captivating stories but also imbues readers with a deeper appreciation for avifauna encouraging a lifelong fascination with the natural world Mennonite Life
