The Making Of The Wren Library Trinity College:

The Making of the Wren Library David McKitterick, 1995-07-27 An illustrated history of the Wren Library at Trinity College Cambridge The Library of Trinity College, Cambridge Philip Gaskell, Robert Robson, 1971 Directory of Rare Book and Special Collections in the UK and Republic of Ireland Karen Attar, 2016-05-31 This directory is a handy on volume discovery tool that will allow readers to locate rare book and special collections in the British Isles Fully updated since the second edition was published in 1997 this comprehensive and up to date guide encompasses collections held in libraries archives museums and private hands The Directory Provides a national overview of rare book and special collections for those interested in seeing quickly and easily what a library holds Directs researchers to the libraries most relevant for their research Assists libraries considering acquiring new special collections to assess the value of such collections beyond the institution showing how they fit into a unique and distinctive model Each entry in the Directory provides background information on the library and its purpose full contact details the quantity of early printed books information about particular subject and language strengths information about unique works and important acquisitions descriptions of named special collections and deposited collections Readership Researchers academic liaison librarians and library managers The Library of Richard Porson P. G. Naiditch, 2010-12-28 In writing this book three questions chiefly interested me What books and pamphlets did Richard Porson own From whom did he acquire these materials What has become of his holdings Answering the first question was relatively easy For over two hundred years students have known that after his death Porsons library was divided into two unequal parts The larger portion was sent to auction the smaller part together with Porsons papers was separately sold to Trinity College Cambridge To treat the problem I have examined all of the microfilm set of the Sotheby auction catalogues from 1783 to 1808 save when catalogues were not marked or the markings were too faint to decipher notably Jan 1 1785 May 29 1786 Jan 22 and May 1 1797 June 1788 Jan 13 1789 May 26 1791 June 22 1795 Jan 1796 1800 Nov 14 1803 through Dec 3 1804 twenty three catalogues April 18 and May 29 1805 April 14 30 May 19 June 5 July 2 10 15 1806 or when the microfilm is imperfect Likewise I have seen in London most of Christies book catalogues from 1782 to 1808 and in Los Angeles much of the Frank Marcham collection at UCLA coll 416 boxes 10 34 Finally I have seen almost all of Porsons books at Trinity and a few other places From 1786 to 1808 Porson purchased hundreds of books and pamphlets The records allow us to trace his purchases at forty seven auctions Of these Leigh perhaps books entrusted to him for review and books for which he subscribed Addressing the second question is complicated by three factors First there is the imperfection of the records The archives of most houses do not survive even the L S house files are on occasion imperfect or incompletely legible Secondly clerks wrote down what they heard Often enough they heard Pawson or Pauson and it was needful to establish identity Thirdly there are difficulties in the way of determining specific editions these range from the existence of multiple editions or impressions to incompleteness of library records and of descriptions of volumes of tracts William Stanley Jevons and the Making of Modern Economics Harro Maas,2005-04-04 This book examines William Stanley Jevons's role in revolutionizing nineteenth century economics Handbuch deutscher historischen Buchbestände. Großbritannien und Irland. Bernhard Fabian,Vincenc Streit Vlasta Faltyšová Pavel Pohlei, The Iconography of Sir Isaac Newton to 1800 Milo Keynes,2005 Catalogue and iconography of the extraordinary wealth of images of Sir Isaac Newton both before and after his death Sir Isaac Newton 1642-1727 is rare among figures of the past for the number of authentic paintings engravings and images of him which survive He was painted by some nine different artists in the latter part of his life and after his death both portraits and sculptures continued to proliferate the amazing demand for representations of his image demonstrating his immense fame This iconography lavishly illustrated in both colour and black and white and involving the disciplines of History of Art and History of Science catalogues 231 icons in two sections and is thus an invaluable guide to the images Part I contains 122 portraits and Part II 109 sculptures about fifty of which were produced before his death the rest from then until 1800 Essays on the History of Trinity College Library, Dublin Anne Walsh,Vincent Kinane,2000 Commissioned with the purpose of laying the groundwork for a full scale comprehensive history of the 400 year old library these 14 contributions explore core historical issues such as the buildings the staff and their conditions of employment the early collections and their book bindings the fun What the Victorians Made of Romanticism Tom Mole,2020-06-09 This insightful and elegantly written book examines how the popular media of the Victorian era sustained and transformed the reputations of Romantic writers Tom Mole provides a new reception history of Lord Byron Felicia Hemans Sir Walter Scott Percy Bysshe Shelley and William Wordsworth one that moves beyond the punctual historicism of much recent criticism and the narrow horizons of previous reception histories He attends instead to the material artifacts and cultural practices that remediated Romantic writers and their works amid shifting understandings of history memory and media Mole scrutinizes Victorian efforts to canonize and commodify Romantic writers in a changed media ecology He shows how illustrated books renovated Romantic writing how preachers incorporated irreligious Romantics into their sermons how new statues and memorials integrated Romantic writers into an emerging national pantheon and how anthologies mediated their works to new generations This ambitious study investigates a wide range of material objects Victorians made in response to Romantic writing such as photographs postcards books and collectibles that in turn remade the public's understanding of Romantic writers Shedding new light on how Romantic authors were posthumously recruited to address later cultural concerns What the Victorians Made of Romanticism reveals new histories of appropriation remediation and renewal that resonate in our own moment of media change when once again the cultural products of the past seem in danger of being forgotten if they are not reimagined for new audiences The Visual Worlds of Life Writing Kerstin Maria Pahl,2025-01-04 An Open Access edition is available The Visual Worlds of Life Writing brings into conversation the two most popular genres in long eighteenth century England portraits and biographies As key instruments of social formation when Britain was forging the nation Linda Colley they were wielded alike by Whigs and Tories the aristocracy and the commercial middle classes high class artists and grub street writers They were most persuasive however when used jointly portrait prints ideally accompanied by Brief Lives sold by the thousands National histories were re issued to include pictures Portraitists were required to stage their sitters as though taken from real life situations Embedded into such interplay between texts and images was an aesthetic claim doing biography was a multimedia enterprise Far from being just words on a page eighteenth century life writing came with frontispiece portraits illustrations or elaborate title pages Biographers directed their readers to existing portraits of their subjects to enhance the reading experience Portraits made of calligraphic writing blurred the boundaries between text and image As a thorough reassessment of visual culture s role in producing biographies this book offers an in depth analysis of the rhetorics of portraiture and life writing an historical account of their sister arts tradition and an inquiry into the social function of profiling people

Book Ownership in Stuart England David Pearson, 2021-01-26 This volume provides a wide ranging account of the development and importance of private libraries and book ownership through the seventeenth century based upon many kinds of evidence including examination of thousands of books and a list of over 1 300 known owners from diverse backgrounds It considers questions of evolution contents and size and motives for book ownership during a century when growing markets for both new and second hand books meant that books would be found in varying numbers in the homes of all kinds of people from the humble to the wealthy Book ownership by women and by non professional households is explicitly explored Other topics include the balance of motivation between books for use or for display the relationship between libraries and museums and cultures of collecting While presenting a wealth of information in this field conveniently brought together this volume also advances methodologies for book history and makes extensive use of material evidence such as bookbindings It challenges received wisdom around priorities for studying private libraries and the terminology which is appropriate to use In addition the list of owners detailed in the Appendix make this book a work of permanent reference alongside its value in advancing book history

Architects and Intellectual Culture in Post-Restoration England Matthew Walker, 2017-10-13 Architects Builders and Intellectual Culture in Restoration England charts the moment when well educated well resourced English intellectuals first became interested in classical architecture in substantial numbers This occurred after the Restoration of the Monarchy in 1660 and involved people such as John Evelyn Robert Hooke Sir Christopher Wren and Roger North Matthew Walker explores how these figures treated architecture as a subject of intellectual enquiry either as writers as designers of buildings or as both In four substantial chapters it looks at how the architect was defined as a major intellectual figure how architects acquired material that allowed them to define themselves as intellectually competent architects how intellectual writers in the period handled knowledge of ancient architecture in their writing and how the design process in architecture was conceived of in theoretical writing at the time In all Walker shows that the key to understanding English architectural culture at the time is to understand how architecture was handled as knowledge and how architects were conceived of as collectors and producers of such knowledge He also makes the claim that architecture was treated as an extremely serious and important area of intellectual enquiry the result of which was that by the turn of the eighteenth century architects and architectural writers could count themselves amongst England's intellectual and cultural elite
