Her Neighbor's Wife Lauren Jae Gutterman,2019-10-04 At first glance Barbara Kalish fit the stereotype of a 1950s wife and mother Married at eighteen Barbara lived with her husband and two daughters in a California suburb where she was president of the Parent Teacher Association At a PTA training conference in San Francisco Barbara met Pearl another PTA president who also had two children and happened to live only a few blocks away from her To Barbara Pearl was the most gorgeous woman in the world and the two began an affair that lasted over a decade Through interviews diaries memoirs and letters Her Neighbor's Wife traces the stories of hundreds of women like Barbara Kalish who struggled to balance marriage and same sex desire in the postwar United States In doing so Lauren Jae Gutterman draws our attention away from the postwar landscape of urban gay bars and into the homes of married women who tended to engage in affairs with wives and mothers they met in the context of their daily lives through work at church or in their neighborhoods In the late 1960s and 1970s the lesbian feminist movement and the no fault divorce revolution transformed the lives of wives who desired women Women could now choose to divorce their husbands in order to lead openly lesbian or bisexual lives increasingly however these women were confronted by hostile state discrimination typically in legal battles over child custody Well into the 1980s many women remained ambivalent about divorce and resistant to labeling themselves as lesbian therefore complicating a simple interpretation of their lives and relationship choices By revealing the extent to which marriage has historically permitted space for wives relationships with other women Her Neighbor's Wife calls into question the presumed straightness of traditional American marriage

German Literature in a New Century Katharina Gerstenberger, Patricia Herminghouse, 2008-10-01 While the first decade after the fall of the Berlin wall was marked by the challenges of unification and the often difficult process of reconciling East and West German experiences many Germans expected that the new century would achieve normalization. The essays in this volume take a closer look at Germany's new normalcy and argue for a more nuanced picture that considers the ruptures as well as the continuities. Germany's new generation of writers is more diverse than ever before and their texts often not only speak of a Germany that is multicultural but also take a more playful attitude toward notions of identity. Written with an eye toward similar and dissimilar developments and traditions on both sides of the Atlantic this volume balances overviews of significant trends in present day cultural life with illustrative analyses of individual writers and texts.

God's Wounds Jeff B. Pool, 2011-07-28 God's Wounds: Hermeneutic of the Christian Symbol of Divine Suffering Volume II: Evil and Divine Suffering is the second of a three volume study of Christian testimonies to divine suffering. The larger study focuses its inquiry on the testimonies to divine suffering themselves seeking to allow the voices that attest to divine suffering to speak freely. The goal is then to discover and elucidate the internal logic or rationality of this family of testimonies rather than defending these attestations against the dominant claims of classical Christian theism that have historically sought to eliminate such language altogether from Christian discourse about the nature and life of God. This second volume proceeds on the basis of the presuppositions of the symbol: those implicit attestations that permit the possibility of divine suffering that which constitutes divine vulnerability with respect to creation. The author investigates two divine wounds or modes of divine suffering to which the larger family of testimonies normally attest: 1) divine grief or suffering due to human sin or betrayal by the beloved human and 2) divine self sacrifice or suffering for the beloved human in its bondage to sin or misery so as to establish the possibility of redemption and reconciliation.

God's Wounds: Hermeneutic of the Christian Symbol of Divine Suffering, Volume Two Jeff B. Pool, 2010-01-01 This book constitutes the second volume of a three volume study of Christian testimonies to divine suffering. God's Wounds: Hermeneutic of the Christian Symbol of Divine Suffering vol 2: Evil and Divine Suffering. The larger study focuses its inquiry into the testimonies to divine suffering themselves seeking to allow the voices that attest to divine suffering to speak freely then to discover and elucidate the internal logic or rationality of this family of testimonies rather than defending these attestations against the dominant claims of classical Christian theism that have historically sought to eliminate such language altogether from Christian discourse about the nature and life of God This second volume of studies proceeds on the basis of the presuppositions of this symbol those implicit attestations that provide the conditions of possibility for divine suffering that which constitutes divine vulnerability with respect to creation as identified and examined in the first volume of this project an understanding of God through the primary metaphor of love God is love and an understanding of the human as created in the image of God with a life though finite analogous to the divine life the imago Dei as love The second volume then investigates the first two divine wounds or modes of divine suffering to which the larger family of testimonies to divine suffering normally attest 1 divine grief suffering because of betrayal by the beloved human or human sin and 2 divine self sacrifice suffering for the beloved human in its bondage to sin or misery to establish the possibility of redemption and reconciliation Each divine wound thus constitutes a response to a creaturely occasion The suffering in each divine wound also occurs in two stages a passive stage and an active stage In divine grief God suffers because of human sin betrayal of the divine lover by the beloved human divine sorrow as the passive stage of divine grief and divine anguish as the active stage of divine grief In divine self sacrifice God suffers in response to the misery or bondage of the beloved human s infidelity divine travail focused on the divine incarnation in Jesus of Nazareth as the active stage of divine self sacrifice and divine agony focused on divine suffering in the crucifixion of Jesus of Nazareth as the passive stage of divine self sacrifice
