The Philosophy of Charlie Kaufman David LaRocca, 2011-05-27 From the Academy Award winning Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind 2004 and Academy Award nominated Adaptation 2002 to the cult classic Being John Malkovich 1999 writer Charlie Kaufman is widely admired for his innovative philosophically resonant films Although he only recently made his directorial debut with Synecdoche New York 2008 most fans and critics refer to Kaufman films the way they would otherwise discuss works by directors Woody Allen Martin Scorsese or the Coen brothers Not only has Kaufman transformed our sense of what can take place in a film but he also has made a significant impact on our understanding of the role of the screenwriter The Philosophy of Charlie Kaufman edited by David LaRocca is the first collection of essays devoted to a rigorous philosophical exploration of Kaufman s work by a team of capable and critical scholars from a wide range of disciplines From political theorists to philosophers classicists to theologians professors of literature to filmmakers the contributing authors delve into the heart of Kaufman s innovative screenplays offering not only original philosophical analyses but also extended reflections on the nature of film and film criticism

Authorship in Film Adaptation Jack Boozer, 2009-06-03 Authoring a film adaptation of a literary source not only requires a media conversion but also a transformation as a result of the differing dramatic demands of cinema The most critical central step in this transformation of a literary source to the screen is the writing of the screenplay The screenplay usually serves to recruit producers director and actors to attract capital investment and to give focus to the conception and production of the film project Often undergoing multiple revisions prior to production the screenplay represents the crucial decisions of writer and director that will determine how and to what end the film will imitate or depart from its original source Authorship in Film Adaptation is an accessible provocative text that opens up new areas of discussion on the central process of adaptation surrounding the screenplay and screenwriter director collaboration In contrast to narrow binary comparisons of literary source text and film the twelve essays in this collection also give attention to the underappreciated role of the screenplay and film pre production that can signal the primary intention for a film Divided into four parts this collection looks first at the role of Hollywood s activist producers and major auteurs such as Hitchcock and Kubrick as they worked with screenwriters to formulate their audio visual goals The second part offers case studies of Devil in a Blue Dress and The Sweet Hereafter for which the directors wrote their own adapted screenplays Considering the variety of writer director working relationships that are possible Part III focuses on adaptations that alter genre time and place and Part IV investigates adaptations that alter stories of romance sexuality and ethnicity
