Deification in Eastern Orthodox Theology Emil

Bartos,2007-01-01 In recent years Eastern Orthodox thought has had an increasing influence on key aspects of contemporary Western Christian thought particularly as regards the doctrine of the Trinity and mystical spirituality However the foundations and fundamental presuppositions of Eastern Christianity s theological system have remained largely unstudied and thus unknown in the West In this important study Emil Bartos examines the doctrine of deification which provides the conceptual basis for the way Staniloae and other Orthodox theologians understand the major doctrines of the Christian faith The idea that God became man that man might become God sounds almost heretical to many Western ears yet this affirmation is repeated countless times in the writings of the Eastern Fathers Beginning with the apophaticism that lies at the heart of Eastern theology Bartos examines each of the key doctrines of anthropology christology soteriology and ecclesiology as they relate to deification in Staniloae s thought Bartos study represents not merely a contribution to contemporary dialogue between Eastern and Western theologians but also a much needed introduction to an aspect of Christian thought down the centuries that is largely neglected in the Christian West

Innovation in the Orthodox Christian Tradition? Trine Stauning Willert,Lina Molokotos-Liederman,2016-05-23 The relationship between tradition and innovation in Orthodox Christianity has often been problematic filled with tensions and contradictions starting from the Byzantine era and running through the 19th and 20th centuries For a long period of time scholars have typically assumed Greek Orthodoxy to be a static religious tradition with little room for renewal or change Although this public perception continues the immutability of the Greek Orthodox tradition has been questioned by several scholars over the past few years This book continues this line of reasoning but brings it into the centre of contemporary discussion Presenting case studies from different periods of history up to the present day the authors trace different aspects in the development of innovation and renewal in Orthodox Christianity in the Greek speaking world and among the Diaspora

Hope for the Oppressor Patrick Oden,2019-07-26 The liberating work of God calls the oppressed out of oppression and the oppressor out of oppressing The challenge in seeking a thorough liberation of oppressors is to help them understand their need for freedom and how to seek this freedom in their own contexts Patrick Oden provides a holistic biblical historical and theological analysis that diagnoses the underlying motivations and inclinations that lead to oppression Part one addresses the context of oppression in which most participants in oppression do not actively seek to harm others but are caught up in systems that tend toward the diminishment of others Part two examines the biblical and early Christian response to oppression discovering a thread that avoids condemning participation in society generally while also cautioning the people of God about being co-opted by society Part three discusses how oppressors can withdraw from oppression through a constructive analysis of four contemporary theologians Wolfhart Pannenberg Jürgen Moltmann Sarah Coakley and Jean Vanier each of whom contributes to a widening vision of liberated and liberating life in which the once oppressed and former oppressor can find peace together in community

International Handbook of Inter-religious Education Kath Engebretson, Marian de Souza, Gloria Durka, Liam Gearon, 2010-08-17 This Handbook is based on the conviction of its editors and contributing authors that understanding and acceptance of as well as collaboration between religions has essential educational value The development of this Handbook rests on the further assumption that interreligious education has an important role in elucidating the global demand for human rights justice and peace Interreligious education reveals that the creeds and holy books of the world's religions teach about spiritual systems that reject violence and the individualistic pursuit of economic and political gain and call their followers to compassion for every human being It also seeks to lead students to an awareness that the followers of religions across the world need to be and to grow in dialogical relationships of respect and understanding An essential aim of interreligious education is the promotion of understanding and engagement between people of different religions and therefore it has great potential to contribute to the common good of the global community Interreligious education has grown from the interfaith movement whose beginning is usually identified with the World Parliament of Religions held in Chicago in 1893 This was the first time in history that leaders of the eastern and western religions had come together for dialogue and to consider working together for global unity
