Taboo , 2003 Scripture, Culture, and Agriculture Ellen F. Davis, 2008-10-13 This book examines the theology and ethics of land use especially the practices of modern industrialized agriculture in light of critical biblical exegesis Nine interrelated essays explore the biblical writers pervasive concern for the care of arable land against the background of the geography social structures and religious thought of ancient Israel This approach consistently brings out neglected aspects of texts both poetry and prose that are central to Jewish and Christian traditions Rather than seeking solutions from the past Davis creates a conversation between ancient texts and contemporary agrarian writers thus she provides a fresh perspective from which to view the destructive practices and assumptions that now dominate the global food economy The biblical exegesis is wide ranging and sophisticated the language is literate and accessible to a broad audience Decentering Biotechnology Michael S. Carolan, 2016-04-08 Decentering Biotechnology explores the nature of technology objects and patent law Investigating the patenting of organic life and the manner in which artifacts of biotechnology are given their object ive appearance Carolan details the enrollment mechanisms that give biotechnology its momentum Drawing on legal judgements and case studies this fascinating book examines the nature of object ification as a thought and a thing without which biotechnology as it is done today would not be possible Unable to reject biotechnology per se recognizing that such a rejection would essentialize the very object ive categories shown to be manufactured Carolan ultimately argues for doing biotechnology differently A theoretically sophisticated analysis of the nature of objects and the role of technology as a form of life which shapes the social landscape Decentering Biotechnology engages with questions of power globalization
