Powers,Xiaosui Xiao,2008-11-12 When the SARS virus began its spread from southern China around the world in spring 2003 it caught regional and international health officials by surprise The SARS epidemic itself lasted for only a few months whereas its treatment in communicative terms keeps providing us with important lessons that can prepare us all for the much larger pandemic that many are predicting will eventually occur While the medical aspects of SARS are now relatively well understood the discursive rhetorical dimensions are much less so As an international epidemic SARS arrived in a number of distinctive societies with the result that different communities handled the crisis in different ways some far more effectively than others Accordingly the 12 chapters in The Social Construction of SARS are studies of how a major health related crisis was understood and dealt with from a communicative perspective in such diverse places as Hong Kong mainland China Singapore Taiwan Canada and the United States during the SARS outbreak Congressional Record

Congress,1946 Looking For Memories Mike Robertson,2024-02-05 Like some people recently retired Mark had taken on a diversion that pretty well takes up much of his time At one time he collected baseball cards a pastime that required him to acquire cards through trades with fellow enthusiasts or winning cards through arcane competitions when the application of Facebook allowed him to accumulate cards more easily Several years later on an airplane flight from Montreal to New York City Mark glimpses a television show being shown on a computer laptop belonging to a woman sitting in a seat across the aisle of that flight Mark thinks and then becomes convinced that one of the actresses playing a woman in that show is in fact his first girlfriend That realization results in a search for the identity of that woman through a variety of methods and sources an effort that culminates in a rendezvous with his memory Pathways of Life Elbert

Wilson,2020-10-19 Remember when farm families did their own butchering mothers stayed home folks churned their own butter canned vegetables and meat shucked corn thrashed wheat used a washboard walked to church and school and had corncob fights When girls or at least my sisters curled their hair with curling irons heated in the chimney of a kerosene lamp When kids learned to work on the farm both at home and for the neighbors and considered it a privilege just to be allowed to participate When at school the two big challenging recess games for boys were mumble peg and marbles When kids who had brothers in the service during World War II shared the worry and agony with their parents to learn of some neighbor families whose son never came home When parents hung little flags in their doors or windows that contained a star for each son in the service like the two stars on our flag for my brothers Alvin and Howard When we shared in rationing and we painstakingly saved the foil from cigarette packages and turned it in for the war effort When grandma came to visit and brightened up life by making room in her suitcase for chewing gum for the kids and chewing tobacco for herself When grandma taught me to catch a chicken and wring its head off all for the promise of her homemade chicken and noodles When we visualized the scenes when glued to the radio listening to Tom Mix Gene Autry Jack Armstrong Inner Sanctum and Lucky Strike Hit Parade We thought we had almost everything looking back we had a pretty good quality of life At times I find myself wishing for the return to the more simple ways of life

Poles Apart Alison Goldsworthy, Laura Osborne, Alexandra Chesterfield, 2021-09-09 Why do people become divided What steps can we all take to reduce hostility and bring about understanding Poles Apart has the answers In Poles Apart an expert on polarisation a behavioural scientist and a professional communicator explain why we are so prone to be drawn into rival often deeply antagonistic factions They explore the shaping force of our genetic make up on our fundamental views and the nature of the influences that family friends and peers exert They pinpoint the economic and political triggers that tip people from healthy disagreement to dangerous hostility and the part played by social media in spreading entrenched opinions And they help us to understand why outlooks that can seem so bizarre and extreme to us seem so eminently sensible to those who hold them Above all they show what practical and effective steps we can all take to narrow divisions build respect for others and create a greater degree of common understanding

Poles Apart is an extraordinary achievement fresh deeply authoritative and entertaining on every page Everyone talks about polarisation but no one does it like Goldsworthy Osborne and Chesterfield You'll finish this book wiser kinder and more hopeful than when you started it Jamie Susskind author of Future Politics A fascinating and thought provoking analysis of the divisions between us how we bridge them how we reshape the world and ourselves too Essential reading Cathy Newman presenter of Channel 4 News and author Asks the best question I have ever heard And critically offers solutions A must read Rory Sutherland Vice Chairman of Ogilvy UK and author of Alchemy Technology may have connected the world but it's now being exploited to divide and polarise us This is a pivotal moment for this book to be written read and understood Peter Gabriel musician September 30, 1956. pp. 423-898 United States.
