Cohen chapter 4

1. Let  $r_1$ ,  $r_2$ , and  $r_3$  be three regular expressions. Show that the language associated with  $(r_1 + r_2)r_3$  is the same as the language associated with  $r_1r_3 + r_2r_3$ . Show that  $r_1(r_2 + r_3)$  is equivalent to  $r_1r_2 + r_1r_3$ . This will be the same as providing a 'distributive law' for regular expressions.

$(r_1 + r_2)r_3$ : The first expression can be either  $r_1$  or  $r_2$ .
The second expression is always  $r_3$ .
There are two possibilities for this language:  $r_1r_3$  or  $r_2r_3$ .

$r_1(r_2 + r_3)$ : The first expression is always  $r_1$ .
It is followed by either  $r_2$  or  $r_3$ .
There are two possibilities for this language:  $r_1r_2$  or  $r_1r_3$ .

2. Construct a regular expression for all words in which a appears tripled, if at all. This means that every clump of a's contains 3 or 6 or 9 or 12... a's.

$(aaa + b)^$  or  $(b + aaa)^$  or  $((aaa)^3b^)^$  or  $(b^(aaa)^3)^$

3. Construct a regular expression for all words that contain at least one of the strings  $s_1$ ,  $s_2$ ,  $s_3$ , or  $s_4$ .

$(s_1 + s_2 + s_3 + s_4)(s_1 + s_2 + s_3 + s_4)^*$

4. Construct a regular expression for all words that contain exactly two b's or exactly three b's, not more.

$a^*ba^ba^ + a^*ba^*ba^ba^$  or  $a^*(b + \Lambda)a^*ba^ba^$
Note: Nothing was said about 'clumps of b's', so provide for a's in between.

5. Construct a regular expression for:
(i) all strings that end in a double letter.
(ii) all strings that do not end in a double letter.

(i)
 $(a + b)^*(aa + bb)$

(ii)
 $(a + b)^*(ab + ba) + a + b + \Lambda$

Introduction to Computer Theory Daniel I. A. Cohen,1996-10-25 This text strikes a good balance between rigor and an intuitive approach to computer theory Covers all the topics needed by computer scientists with a sometimes humorous approach that reviewers found refreshing The goal of the book is to provide a firm understanding of the principles and the big picture of where computer theory fits into the field Mathematical Reviews ,1998 New Technical Books New York Public Library,1986 Peterson's Guide to Graduate Programs in Engineering and Applied Sciences ,1986 Index of Mathematical Papers ,1985 Grants and Awards National Science Foundation (U.S.), NBS Special Publication ,1968 The Handbook of Multimodal-Multisensor Interfaces, Volume 3 Sharon Oviatt,Björn Schuller,Philip Cohen,Daniel Sonntag,Gerasimos Potamianos,Antonio Krüger,2019-06-25 The Handbook of Multimodal Multisensor Interfaces provides the first authoritative resource on what has become the dominant paradigm for new computer interfaces user input involving new media speech multi touch hand and body gestures facial expressions writing embedded in multimodal multisensor interfaces This three volume handbook is written by international experts and pioneers in the field It provides a textbook reference and technology roadmap for professionals working in this and related areas This third volume focuses on state of the art multimodal language and dialogue processing including semantic integration of modalities The development of increasingly expressive embodied agents and robots has become an active test bed for coordinating multimodal dialogue input and output including processing of language and nonverbal communication In addition major application areas are featured for commercializing multimodal multisensor systems including automotive robotic manufacturing machine translation banking communications and others These systems rely heavily on software tools data resources and international standards to facilitate their development For insights into the future emerging multimodal multisensor technology trends are highlighted in medicine robotics interaction with smart spaces and similar areas Finally this volume discusses the societal impact of more widespread adoption of these systems such as privacy risks and how to mitigate them The handbook chapters provide a number of walk through examples of system design and processing information on practical resources for developing and evaluating new systems and terminology and tutorial support for mastering this emerging field In the final section of this volume experts exchange views on a timely and controversial challenge topic and how they believe multimodal multisensor interfaces need to be equipped to most effectively advance human performance during the next decade ACM SIGACT-SIGOPS Symposium on Principles of Distributed Computing, August 18-20, 1982, Ottawa, Canada ACM Special Interest Group for Automata and Computability Theory,ACM Special Interest Group in Operating Systems,Association for Computing Machinery,1982 Molecular Networking Caroline Desgranges,Jerome Delhommelle,2024-01-29 The book builds on the analogy between social groups and assemblies of molecules to introduce the concepts of statistical mechanics machine learning and data science Applying a data analytics approach to molecular systems we show how individual molecular features and interactions between molecules or communication processes allow for the prediction of properties and collective behavior of molecular systems just as polling and social networking shed light on the behavior of social groups Applications to systems at the cutting edge of research for biological environmental and energy applications are also presented Key features Draws on a data analytics approach of molecular systems Covers hot topics such as artificial intelligence and machine learning of molecular trends Contains applications to systems at the cutting edge of research for biological environmental and energy applications Discusses molecular simulation and links with other important emerging techniques and trends in computational sciences and society Authors have a well established track record and reputation in the field      Understanding Nonlinear Dynamics Daniel Kaplan, Leon Glass, 2012-12-06 Mathematics is playing an ever more important role in the physical and biological sciences provoking a blurring of boundaries between scientific disciplines and a resurgence of interest in the modern as well as the classical techniques of applied mathematics This renewal of interest both in research and teaching has led to the establishment of the series Texts in Applied Mathematics TAM The development of new courses is a natural consequence of a high level of excitement on the research frontier as newer techniques such as numerical and symbolic computer systems dynamical systems and chaos mix with and reinforce the traditional methods of applied mathematics Thus the purpose of this textbook series is to meet the current and future needs of these advances and encourage the teaching of new courses TAM will publish textbooks suitable for use in advanced undergraduate and beginning graduate courses and will complement the Applied Mathematical Sciences AMS series which will focus on advanced textbooks and research level monographs About the Authors Daniel Kaplan specializes in the analysis of data using techniques motivated by nonlinear dynamics His primary interest is in the interpretation of irregular physiological rhythms but the methods he has developed have been used in geophysics economics marine ecology and other fields He joined McGill in 1991 after receiving his Ph D from Harvard University and working at MIT His undergraduate studies were completed at Swarthmore College He has worked with several instrumentation companies to develop novel types of medical monitors      The World of Mathematics James R.
