Seeking Impact and Visibility Trotter, Henry, Kell, Catherine, 2014-06-12 African scholarly research is relatively invisible globally because even though research production on the continent is growing in absolute terms it is falling in comparative terms. In addition, traditional metrics of visibility such as the Impact Factor fail to make legible all African scholarly production. Many African universities also do not take a strategic approach to scholarly communication to broaden the reach of their scholars' work. To address this challenge, the Scholarly Communication in Africa Programme (SCAP) was established to help raise the visibility of African scholarship by mapping current research and communication practices in Southern African universities and by recommending and piloting technical and administrative innovations based on open access dissemination principles. To do this, SCAP conducted extensive research in four faculties at the Universities of Botswana, Cape Town, Mauritius, and Namibia.

The Mexico City Reader Ruben Gallo, 2009-09-29 Mexico City is one of Latin America's cultural capitals and one of the most vibrant urban spaces in the world. The Mexico City Reader is an anthology of Cronicas, short hybrid texts that are part literary essay, part urban reportage about life in the capital. This is not the City of Palaces of yesteryear but the vibrant, chaotic, anarchic urban space of the 1980s and 1990s: the city of garbage mafias, necrophiliac artists, and kitschy millionaires. Like the visitor wandering through the city streets, the reader will be constantly surprised by the visions encountered in this mosaic of writings: a textual space brimming with life and crowded with flirts, students, Indian dancers, food vendors, fortune tellers, political activists, and peasant protesters. The essays included in this anthology were written by a panoply of writers from well-known authors like Carlos Monsivís and Jorge Ibagüera to younger figures like Fabrizio Mejía Madrid and Juieta García González, all of whom are experienced practitioners of the city. The texts collected in this anthology are among the most striking examples of this concomitant theory and practice of Mexico City, that most delirious of megalopolises. An exciting literary journey. Carolyn Malloy, Multicultural Review.

The University, State, and Market Robert A. Rhoads, Carlos Alberto Torres, 2006 This is an examination of the complex relationships among universities, states, and markets in light of the growing influence of globalization.

Media System and News Selections in Namibia Andreas Rothe, 2010 What is the status quo of the Namibian media system? What radio and TV stations, what newspapers and magazines compete for the attention of the Namibian citizen? What is the situation regarding press freedom and the formal education prospective journalists receive? How do Namibian journalists select news? Is the so far European focused News Value Theory a sensible explanatory approach for that? How does news selection differ from Namibia to Germany, from private to state media in Namibia, from print to broadcasting? These are some of the central issues author Andreas Rothe addresses in this English language version of his diploma thesis.

 wrongdoing she shows that by the 1980s political scandals were a common feature of the national media diet News stories of state embezzlement torture police violence and electoral fraud provided collective opportunities to voice dissent and offered an important though unpredictable and inequitable mechanism for political representation The publicity of wrongdoing also disrupted top down attempts by the ruling Partido Revolucionario Institucional to manage public discourse exposing divisions within the party and forcing government officials to grapple with popular discontent While critical reporters denounced corruption they also withheld many secrets from public discussion sometimes out of concern for their safety Freije highlights

Anderson, Kecia Hayes, Joe Kincheloe, Karel Rose, 2006-03-30 Maintaining that urban teaching and learning is characterized by many contradictions this work proposes that there is a wide range of social cultural psychological and pedagogical knowledge urban educators must possess in order to engage in effective and transformative practice It is necessary for those teaching in urban schools to be scholar practitioners rather than bureaucrats who can only follow rather than analyze understand and create Ten major sections cover the myriad issues of urban education as it exists today Documenting and Researching Southern Africa Dag Henrichsen, Giorgio Miescher, Carl Schlettwein, 2001 Agrarian Crossings Tore C. Olsson, 2017-08-02 In the 1930s and 1940s rural reformers in the United States and Mexico waged unprecedented campaigns to remake their countrysides in the name of agrarian justice and agricultural productivity Agrarian Crossings tells the story of how these campaigns were conducted in dialogue with one another as reformers in each nation came to exchange models plans and strategies with their equivalents across the border Dismantling the artificial boundaries that can divide American and Latin American history Tore Olsson shows how the agrarian histories of both regions share far more than we realize He traces the connections between the US South and the plantation zones of Mexico places that suffered parallel problems of environmental decline rural poverty and gross inequities in land tenure Bringing this tumultuous era vividly to life he describes how Roosevelt's New Deal drew on Mexican revolutionary agrarianism to shape its program for the rural South Olsson also looks at how the US
