Film Noir and the Cinema of Paranoia Wheeler Winston Dixon, 2019-07-29 Film Noir and the Cinema of Paranoia is an overview of 20th and 21st century noir and fatalist film practice from 1945 onwards The book demonstrates the ways in which American cinema has inculcated a climate of fear in our daily lives as reinforced starting in the 1950s by television and later videocassettes the web and the Internet to create by the early 21st century a hypersurveillance atmosphere in which no one can avoid the barrage of images that continually assault our senses The book begins with the return of American soldiers from World War II liberated from war in the Pacific by the newly created atomic bomb which will come to rule American consciousness through much of the 1950s and 1960s and then in a newer more small scale way become a fixture of terrorist hardware in the post paranoid ear of the 21st century Film Noir and the Cinema of Paranoia is constructed in six chapters each highlighting a particular raising of the cinematic stakes in the creation of a completely immersible universe of images Selling points Expands the definition of noir to include numerous lesser known works Deals with Red Scare films of the 1950s in the US Examines the dark side of the customarily given to a group of black and white American films mostly crime thrillers made between 1940 and 1959 Today there is considerable dispute about what are the shared features that classify a noir film and therefore which films should be included in this category These problems are partly caused because film noir is a retrospective label that was not used in the 1940s or 1950s by the film industry as a production category and therefore its existence and features cannot be established through reference to trade documents The Historical Dictionary of Film Noir is a comprehensive guide that ranges from 1940 to present day neo noir It consists of a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography a filmography and over 400 cross referenced dictionary entries on every aspect of film noir and neo noir including key films personnel actors cinematographers composers directors producers set designers and writers themes issues influences visual style cycles of films e g amnesiac noirs the representation of the city and gender other forms comics graphic novels television and videogames and noir s presence in world cinema It is an essential reference work for all those interested in this important cultural phenomenon
