passionate intensity The majority of the population that is concerned about climate change seems paralyzed into inaction while the minority of deniers seem to be able to consistently derail any sort of meaningful change The author Bill Hulet suggests that faith duty self actualization and follow your bliss should be replaced by what he calls practical philosophies These are world views that give meaning and direction to life in the same way that faith and duty did for past generations but which do not come through slavish devotion to either revealed religion or nationalism Instead they are created through reasoned discussion among an engaged citizenry This process which he calls the community of the dialogue allows people to create meaning while at the same time retaining personal freedom and a commitment to rationality Hulet illustrates this way of creating meaning through examples drawn from the ancient Greco Roman schools of Stoicism and Cynicism as well as the Eastern philosophies of Buddhism and Daoism Mr Hulet draws upon both the example of Mahatma Gandhi and his own personal experience as an activist to illustrate the opportunities and pitfalls that face people in their quest to create a better world As well he offers a suggestion about how a new mass movement could be created that would use the community of the dialogue and symbolic acts to engage the public in work to build a better world A practical as well as theoretical book Walking the Talk offers hope for people who not only despair about nature but humanity as well It is possible for the best to have passionate intensity too
