Fees Must Fall Susan Booyesen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa More broadly it radically questioned the socio political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business the ruling elite and the liberation movement The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and its double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co opted students into their ranks to create co responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt Student voices dissect colonialism improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa feminism worker rights and meaningful education In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt Creating the New African University , 2023-05-25 Creating the New African University grapples with the existence of African universities particularly in post independent Africa where Higher Education Institutions HEIs are supposed to live up to the expectations of being adaptive in dealing with prevalent complex dynamic contemporary and future challenges facing African societies The book tackles the issue of what ought to be done for African universities to maintain a structure and identity that ensures their relevance in Africa s development through generating and transforming knowledge into actions for the common good It engages issues within the context of how post colonial transformative obligations have been managed in light of the prevalent epistemological and pedagogical underpinnings that form the foundations of these universities as they seek to break from the clutches of colonial legacies This book further highlights an urgent need to do away with silos and embrace a multidisciplinary interdisciplinary transdisciplinary and cross disciplinary dialogical approach towards knowledge generation Such an approach is essential in efforts aimed at enhancing the sustainable reconfiguration of university structures and functions whilst linking knowledge produced to diverse social economic and political facets of African societies in ways that promote and sustain competitiveness in a rapidly globalising world beset with technological advancements The Next Twenty-five Years David Lee Featherman, Marvin Krislov, Martin Hall, 2009-12-18 A must read for anyone who cares about the future of higher education in diverse democracies South Africa Can Work Frans Rautenbach, 2017-08-18 What will it take to turn South Africa around In this insightful and provocative book Frans Rautenbach proposes a complete overhaul of policy thinking and provides fresh arguments that effectively address South Africa's unemployment, race problems and lack of education. Rautenbach examines the fundamental problem of rent seeking to which he proposes two antidotes: the free market and decentralisation of government. Along the way he tackles holy cows such as affirmative action, trade unions, labour law and welfare payments. He also addresses contentious topics such as racism, white privilege, political correctness, state funding of higher education and mounting evidence that trade unions substantially suppress employment growth. Written by a labour lawyer with a proven track record in a range of policy issues, South Africa Can Work speaks effectively to a cross section of readers of all disciplines and brings sorely needed good news. From School to Higher Education? Michael Cosser, Jacques Du Toit, 2002. This substantive report is essential reading for those involved in higher education planning and policy making.

Service-Learning Paradigms Kenneth Colburn, Jr., Rona Newmark, 2007-07. The papers in this volume have been selected primarily from the presentations at the International Symposium on Service Learning cosponsored by Stellenbosch University in South Africa and the University of Indianapolis in the United States. It aims to explore service learning paradigms for the 21st century. New Paradigms for Theory Research and Curriculum Development, New Paradigms for Teaching and Learning and Paradigms for Intercommunity and Interdisciplinary Collaboration. This volume provides clear evidence that the paradigm of service learning has gone global and international. Service learning has become the new coin of the academic and civic realm for issues of connecting teaching, scholarship and community services. Discrimination in an Unequal World Miguel Angel Centeno, Katherine S. Newman, 2010-09. Is globalization making our world more equal or less? Proponents of globalization argue that it is helping and that in a competitive world no one can afford to discriminate except on the basis of skills. Opponents counter that globalization does nothing but provide a meritocratic patina on a consistently unequal distribution of opportunity. Yet despite the often deafening volume of the debate there is surprisingly little empirical work available on the extent to which the process of globalization over the past quarter century has had any effect on discrimination. Tackling this challenge, Discrimination in an Unequal World explores the relationship between discrimination and unequal outcomes in the appropriate geographical and historical context. Noting how each society tends to see its particular version of discrimination as universal and obvious, the editors expand their set of cases to include a broad variety of social relations and practices. However, since methods differ and are often designed for particular national circumstances, they set the much more ambitious and practical goal of establishing a base with which different forms of discrimination across the world can be compared. Derived from a broad array of methods, the book draws many important lessons on the new means by which the world creates social hierarchies, the democratization of inequality and the disappearance of traditional categories. ETDP SETA Scarce & Critical Skills Guide 2010/11, Electronic Government and the Information Systems Perspective Andrea Kö, Enrico Francesconi, Adeleh Asemi, Gabriele Kotsis, A Min Tjoa, Ismail Khalil, 2023-07-28. Cost-sharing and Accessibility in Higher Education: A Fairer Deal? Pedro N. Teixeira, D. Bruce Johnstone, Maria J. Rosa, Hans Vossensteyn, 2007-11-23 Higher education finances lie at the crossroads in many Western countries Hence worldwide the most common approach to the need for increasing revenue was to use some form or forms of cost sharing or the shift of some of the higher educational per student costs from governments and taxpayers to parents and students This raises several important challenges to higher education systems First there is the political and social controversy associated with most forms of cost sharing particularly with tuition fees Secondly there are important issues in terms of the broad context of social policy such as the role of families and students and the relationship that the state establishes with each of them Third there is the comparison of alternative instruments of cost sharing and the direct and indirect effects of each of them notably in terms of educational equality Overall underlying cost sharing debates are fundamental questions about social choice individual opportunities and the role of government in society

Knowledge Beyond Colour Lines

Monwabisi K. Ralarala, Salochana Lorraine Hassan, Rajani Naidoo, 2021-05-25 Knowledge remains timely in education The need for academics to contemplate its relevance worth use and everything in between deems a continuous intellectual project rather than a conundrum to be solved This book takes the South African context by the horns as it challenges the often dormant and traditionalist ways in which higher education spaces see knowledge Through original research and the voices of academics and students this book argues for repurposing knowledge generation knowledge sharing and critical pedagogy so that more inclusive teaching and learning environments can be both imagined and sustained The contentious tensionalities that this creates for LoLT and SoTL in particular are unlocked so as to trouble the South African higher education landscape with the intent to proffer alternative pathways for a knowledge beyond colour lines Prof Shan Simmonds PhD NWU This edited volume bristles with fresh scholarly approaches and insights of an emergent generation of engaged scholars grappling with the issues and problems of higher education in South Africa The issues dealt with here are varied and encompassing They are treated with intellectual delicacy and probing sensitivity articulacy informed data and bold conclusions They serve well Prof Kwesi Kwaa Prah Emeritus Professor of Sociology University of the Western Cape Founder of the Centre for Advanced Studies of African Society *Youth and Higher Education in Africa.
