Decolonisation in Universities Jonathan Jansen, 2019-08-01 In this collection of case studies and stories from the field South African scholars come together to trade stories on how to decolonise the university Shortly after the giant bronze statue of Cecil John Rhodes came down at the University of Cape Town student protestors called for the decolonisation of universities It was a word hardly heard in South Africa's struggle lexicon and many asked What exactly is decolonisation This edited volume brings together the best minds in curriculum theory to address this important question In the process several critical questions are raised Is decolonisation simply a slogan for addressing other pressing concerns on campuses and in society What is the colonial legacy with respect to curriculum and can it be undone How is the project of curriculum decolonisation similar to or different from the quest for postcolonial knowledge indigenous knowledge or a critical theory of knowledge What does decolonisation mean in a digital age where relationships between knowledge and power are shifting The book combines strong conceptual analyses with novel case studies of attempts to do decolonisation in settings as diverse as South Africa Uganda Tanzania and Mauritius Such a comparative perspective enables reasonable judgements to be made about the prospects for institutional take up within the curriculum of century old universities African Perspectives on Reshaping Rural Development Mafukata, Mavhungu Abel, Tshikolomo, Khathutshelo Alfred, 2019-11-22 Development studies in developing regions such as Southern Africa rely heavily on materials developed by Europeans with a European context European dominance in development studies emanates from the fact that the discipline was first developed by Europeans Some argue that this has led to distortions in theory and practice of development in Southern Africa This book wishes to begin Africa's expedition to develop proper material to de Westernize while Africanizing the context of the scholarship of rural development African Perspectives on Reshaping Rural Development is an essential reference source that repositions the context of rural development studies from the Western centric knowledge system into an African context in order to solve African centered problems Featuring research on topics such as food security poverty reduction and community engagement this book is ideally designed for planners researchers practitioners policymakers government officials academicians and students seeking clarity on theory and practice of development in Africa

Architecture, State Modernism and Cultural Nationalism in the Apartheid Capital Hilton Judin, 2021-04-08 This book is the first comprehensive investigation of the architecture of the apartheid state in the period of rapid economic growth and political repression from 1957 to 1966 when buildings took on an ideological role that was never remote from the increasingly dominant administrative legislative and policing mechanisms of the regime It considers how this process reflected the usurpation of a regional modernism and looks to contribute to wider discourses on international postwar modernism in architecture Buildings in Pretoria that came to embody ambitions of the apartheid state for industrialisation and progress serve as case studies These were widely acclaimed projects that embodied for apartheid officials the pursuit of modernisation but carried latent apprehensions of Afrikaners about their growing economic prospects and cultural estrangement in Africa It is a less known and marginal story due to the dearth of material and documents buried in archives and untranslated documents Many of the documents drawings and photographs in the book are unpublished and include classified material and photographs from the National Nuclear Research Centre negatives of 1960s from Pretoria News and documents and pamphlets from Afrikaner Broederbond archives State architecture became the most iconic public manifestation of an evolving expression of white cultural identity as a new generation of architects in Pretoria took up the challenge of finding form to their prospects and beliefs It was an opportunistic faith in Afrikaners who urgently needed to entrench their vulnerable and contested position on the African continent The shift from provincial town to apartheid capital was swift and relentless Little was left to stand in the way of the ambitions and aim of the state as people were uprooted and forcibly relocated structures torn down and block upon block of administration towers and slabs erected across Pretoria This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of architectural history as well as those with an interest in postcolonial studies political science and social anthropology

Universities, Sustainability and Society: Supporting the Implementation of the Sustainable Development Goals Walter Leal Filho, Amanda Lange Salvia, Luciana Brandli, Ulisses M. Azeiteiro, Rudi Pretorius, 2021-05-03 In order to yield the expected benefits sustainability initiatives need to be undertaken by means of a close cooperation between universities on the one hand and societal partners on the others The principle of co creation and co execution of sustainability initiatives increases the value for all by mutual learning and the sharing of expertise and resources But pursuing sustainability initiatives with a community and societal involvement is not simple There is a perceived need for a better understanding of how universities can interact with society in order to support the implementation of the UN Sustainable Development Goals This book is an attempt to address this need by a novel approach which focuses on current potentials and challenges across a wide range of fields and expertise The book focuses on how the theory and practice of sustainable development interact and shows the need for a continuation of the dialogue among sustainability academics and practitioners so as to address the issues matters and problems at hand The spectrum of themes addressed on this book also entails how environmental values and ethics are applied and the relationship between social biological and cultural diversity It also includes a broad disciplinary approach to sustainability including education research and case studies and the links with human environment relations in a sustainable development context Inclusion as Social Justice

, 2020-07-13 Inclusion as Social Justice Theory and Practice in African Higher Education discusses the extent to which education enables equitable social access for diverse student populations in the context of historical sidelining of indigenous knowledge systems and epistemic injustice of colonial epistemologies in Africa The goal is to theoretically unpack the social differentials and micro inequities that practically disempower diverse students in African higher education To this end the book features aspects of diversity such as gender rurality refugee status and disability in general with hearing and visual impairment as prime illustrations It is argued that despite the ethically defensible and socially just policy and structural interventions for transforming higher education meant to redress the legacy of colonial injustices urban universities present epistemological equity challenges for students from rural communities Similarly the opaque fate of students displaced from their home countries and currently studying in universities in host countries is analyzed The book illustrates the access case for gender and disability in higher education using empirical studies and examples from Tanzania Kenya Ethiopia Zimbabwe and South Africa Challenges facing students in higher education in these countries and the strategies the students devise to succeed in the institutions are analyzed Injuries and Health Problems in Football C.
