Despite being written mainly in the third person this book enables the perceptive reader to study a dramatic part of South Africas history through the experiences of the main protagonist Because of his legal background Daniel is able to see how an initially fair legal system is corrupted in order to serve the increasingly desperate needs of the White minority This is a mere backdrop however to a love story that grows closer to tragedy as time passes because the heroine is an alcoholic The arrival of the computer alters the career of the hero dramatically and sends him on some overseas adventures to learn more about the legal implications of the new machine As a leader of a missionary team to Malawi Daniel also gets to grips with people with a totally different background and a differing worldview The book is sensitive to background and atmosphere and the hero encapsulates some of this in a few poems that form part of the main text Jealousy that green eyed monster also rears its head occasionally and further complicates relationships ICT Education Stefan Gruner,2016-10-15 This book constitutes

Law, Language, and Science Diana Jeater, 2006-12-30 This book examines the mentalities of various communities within a district of Southern Rhodesia Zimbabwe Focusing in particular on white administrators and missionaries in the Melsetter District it combines linguistic lexical analysis with historical interpretation in an attempt to reconstruct what whites and Africans actually meant by the words and practices they used in interactions with each other Jeater provides a detailed study of translation work in Mt Selinda an evangelical mission it also examines formal and informal court hearings to contrast the perceptions and meanings ascribed to cases by white adjudicators and by African participants This leads into an initial attempt to map out the birth of ethnography in Southern Rhodesia and to contrast it with anthropology in South Africa By the 1920s Africans expertise in their own languages and culture had been usurped by self-referential white linguists and ethnographers This account suggests that there is a tendency among archive-oriented historians to overestimate how far white missionaries and administrators really understood what Africans said and did In addition to making a contribution to our empirical knowledge of Zimbabwe's history the book focuses on how and why investigators first began to make claims to such knowledge It urges those studying African history to be self-reflective about their practice examining the historical roots of their claims to
