Government Accountability Office,2006 Metadata-driven Software Systems in Biomedicine Prakash M. Nadkarni,2011-05-27 While the use of database technology is ubiquitous throughout IT and health IT in particular it is not generally appreciated that as a database increases in scope certain designs are far superior to others In biomedical domains new knowledge is being generated continually and the databases that must support areas such as clinical care and research must also be able to evolve while requiring minimal or no logical physical redesign Appropriately designed metadata and software designed to utilize it effectively can provide significant insulation against change Many of the larger EMR or clinical research database vendors have realized this but their designs are proprietary and not described in the literature Consequently numerous misconceptions abound among individuals who have not had to work with large scale biomedical systems and graduates of a health or bioinformatics program may find that they need to unlearn what they were taught in database and software design classes in order to work productively with such systems A working knowledge of such systems is also important for individuals who are not primarily software developers such as health informaticians medical information officers and data analysts This book is in a sense intended to prepare all of the above individuals for the real world Guide to U.S. Government Publications Donna Batten,2006-09 Returning Home from Iraq and Afghanistan Institute of Medicine,Board on the Health of Select Populations,Committee on the Assessment of Readjustment Needs of Military Personnel, Veterans, and Their Families,2013-04-12 As of December 2012 Operation Enduring Freedom OEF in Afghanistan and Operation Iraqi Freedom OIF in Iraq have resulted in the deployment of about 2 2 million troops there have been 2 222 US fatalities in OEF and Operation New Dawn OND 1 and 4 422 in OIF The numbers of wounded US troops exceed 16 000 in Afghanistan and 32 000 in Iraq In addition to deaths and morbidity the operations have unforeseen consequences that are yet to be fully understood In contrast with previous conflicts the all volunteer military has experienced numerous deployments of individual service members has seen increased deployments of women parents of young children and reserve and National Guard troops and in some cases has been subject to longer deployments and shorter times at home between deployments Numerous reports in the popular press have made the public aware of issues that have pointed to the difficulty of military personnel in readjusting after returning from Iraq and Afghanistan Many of those who have served in OEF and OIF readjust with few difficulties but others have problems in readjusting to home reconnecting with family members finding employment
