municipal governance amidst political competition in Gauteng: Sedibeng's proposed re-demarcation Thembani Mkhize, 2021-08-27 In 2011 the Gauteng Provincial Government proposed that Sedibeng a Category C district municipality located in the province should be restructured Although the original proposal had anticipated that this would happen after the 2016 local elections the issue remains unresolved due largely to fierce party political opposition and vociferous protests against it on the ground This Occasional Paper examines the dynamics particularities peculiarities and challenges of re demarcating the Gauteng City Region While informed by technical reasons the arguments for and against the merger have tended to gravitate more towards party political rationales for why the re demarcation should or should not go ahead Although these debates raise important merits and demerits for the proposal they are difficult to disentangle from the interests of those whose fortunes would be changed by restructuring In this environment municipal demarcation risks being held hostage by party politics with stakeholders such as political parties using any means at their disposal to have things go their way including by scapegoating the Municipal Demarcation Board MDB The case of Sedibeng presents important lessons about attempts to make post transition local government and mechanisms for determining its configuration work for Gauteng It also highlights the need for strengthening and revising demarcation related legislation How can we make sure that the MDB functions effectively with respect to its primary goals A scholarly inquiry into disciplinary practices in

Peterson, 2016-06-01 A detailed account of the incredibly influential Soweto Student Uprising of 1976 The Soweto Student Uprising of 1976 was a decisive moment in the struggle against apartheid It marked the expansion of political activism to a new generation of young activists but beyond that it inscribed the role that young people of subsequent generations could play in their country's future Since that momentous time students have held a special place in the collective imaginary of South African history Drawing on research and writing by leading scholars and prominent activists Students Must Rise takes Soweto 76 as its pivot point but looks at student and youth activism in South Africa more broadly by considering what happened before and beyond the Soweto moment Early chapters assess the impact of the anti pass campaigns of the 1950s of political ideologies like black consciousness as well as of religion and culture in fostering political consciousness and organisation among youth and students in townships and rural areas Later chapters explore the wide reaching impact of June 16th itself for student organisation over the next two decades across the country Two final chapters consider contemporary student based political movements including RhodesMustFall and FeesMustFall and historically root these in the long and rich tradition of student activism in South Africa 2016 marks the 40th anniversary of the 1976 June 16th uprisings This book rethinks the conventional narrative of youth and student activism in South Africa by placing that most famous of moments the 1976 students uprising in Soweto in a deeper historical and geographic context Diverse educational contexts and research on metacognition and motivation to enhance self-directed learning Bernadette Geduld, Byron J. Bunt, Divan Jagals, 2025-02-17

This scholarly book explores the latest education research on metacognition and self directed learning providing practical insights for educators and students As the thirteenth volume in the NWU Self Directed Learning Series it focuses on developing metacognitive skills to enhance self regulation motivation and independent thinking key competencies for success in the 21st century Metacognition plays a vital role in learning helping students plan evaluate and self assess their progress Research shows that students with strong metacognitive strategies achieve better learning outcomes apply knowledge effectively and persist through academic challenges This book offers evidence based teaching strategies to support the development of self regulated learning and motivation in diverse educational settings It examines teaching behaviour and instructional methods that foster metacognitive growth in both basic and higher education With a particular focus on the South African education landscape it extends research in cognitive developmental and applied psychology Researchers and educators will find practical approaches for integrating metacognition into various disciplines making this book a valuable resource for both undergraduate and graduate education programmes Deanship in the Global South Oliver J.J. Seale, 2021-02-08

The university today is a postmodern neo liberal competitive boundary less knowledge conglomerate a far cry from its historical traditional classical and collegial roots There is a body of literature on deanship that points to its evolving nature in the contemporary academe characterised by complexity and change Balancing academic demands simultaneously with the requirements for effective performance leadership and management lies at the heart of this very challenging bridging role nowadays Deans are generally former academics emerging from a traditional collegial space and often catapulted into the relatively unknown domain of executive management with its related problems Deans nowadays are required to be more than collegial intellectual leaders They are also meant to be fiscal and human resource experts fundraisers politicians and diplomats Deanship in the Global South Bridging Troubled Waters is about the deans lived reality as they try to balance the demands of both the academe from which they emerge and the administration to whom they now need to account Their lack of preparation and inadequate support points to the need for a more strategic integrated approach to leadership development within their critical bridging roles between the academe and administration

The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Futures Robert C. Brears, 2023-01-13 While urban settlements are the drivers of the global economy and centres of learning culture and innovation and nations rely on competitive dynamic regions for their economic social and environmental objectives urban centres and regions face a myriad of challenges that impact the ways in which people live and work create wealth and interact and connect with places Rapid urbanisation is resulting in urban sprawl rising emissions urban poverty and high unemployment rates housing affordability issues lack of urban investment low urban financial and governance capacities rising inequality and urban crimes environmental degradation increasing vulnerability to natural disasters and so forth At the regional level low employment low wage growth scarce financial resources climate change waste and pollution and rising urban peri urban competition etc are impacting the ability of regions to meet socio economic development goals while protecting biodiversity The response to these challenges has typically been the application of inadequate or piecemeal solutions often as a result of fragmented decision making and competing priorities with numerous economic environmental and social consequences In response there is a growing movement towards viewing cities and regions as complex and sociotechnical in nature with people and communities interacting with one another and with objects such as roads buildings transport links etc within a range of urban and regional settings or contexts This comprehensive MRW will provide readers with expert interdisciplinary knowledge on how urban centres and regions in locations of varying climates lifestyles income levels and stages development are creating synergies and reducing trade offs in the development of resilient resource efficient environmentally friendly liveable socially equitable integrated and technology enabled centres and regions

Transformative Environmental Constitutionalism Melanie Murcott, 2022-10-24 Given the Anthropocene s converging socio ecological crises particularly the dire issue of climate change social movements are increasingly approaching the courts to advance intersecting struggles for social environmental and climate justice Transformative constitutional regimes in South Africa and elsewhere that incorporate environmental and human rights protections offer potentially powerful legal norms to advance the struggles of these movements Grappling with such norms and with problematic trends in adjudication Prof Melanie Jean Murcott develops a legal theory of Transformative Environmental Constitutionalism as a novel framework within which courts could adjudicate African Ubuntu and its View on Law, Human Rights and Sustainable Development Goals Dorine E. van Norren, 2025-01-22 This innovative account of wellbeing perspectives of South African Ubuntu philosophy sheds new light on sustainability debates. It questions the universality of the UN Sustainable Development Goals. The slogan of the Goals 'Leave no one behind' begs the question of who is behind and who is ahead. Development is caught in the logic of linear sustainable growth of nations and centres around the flourishing of the individual instead of the community. Life is mutual aid would be the African approach which includes a logic of sharing affirming that one's humanity is tied to others. With concrete examples of policies, law jurisprudence on Ubuntu and practice from South Africa, this book is a must read for philosophers willing to think beyond European philosophy, development economists interested in reshaping today's paradigms, innovative human rights lawyers with a social heart, anthropologists who yearn for a dialogue between worldviews of the Global South and science, and all people who seek new meaning in today's society.

State Fragility and Resilience in sub-Saharan Africa John Idriss Lahai, Isaac Koomson, 2020-02-18 This book focuses on the indicators of fragility and the resilience of state-led interventions to address them in sub-Saharan Africa. It analyzes the figure of fragile states as the unit of the analysis and situates the study of fragility, governance and political adaptation within contemporary global and local political, economic and socio-cultural contexts. The chapters offer an indispensable econometrically informed guide to better understanding issues that have an impact on fragility in governance and nation building and affect policy making and program design targeting institutions in various circumstances. These issues as they relate to the indicators of fragility are the contexts and correlates of armed conflicts, on statehood and state fragility, the poverty trap, pandemics and household food insecurity and child labor. Case studies from across 46 sub-Saharan African SSA countries are assessed to offer clear, broad and multidisciplinary views of what the future holds for them and the international donor communities at large. Regarding state-led interventions, the authors utilize insightful statistical methods and epistemologies to explain the correlates of behavioral language frames and conflict de-escalation, on battle-related deaths across the conflict zones within the sub-region, the regional and country-level interventions to end child labor, the institutional frameworks and interventions in the advancement of food security and health. This book will be of interest to scholars of economics, development politics in developing countries, Area and African Studies, peace, conflict and security studies.

Scholarship of education and human rights in diversity Erika M. Serfontein, Charl C. Wolhuter, Shantha Naidoo, 2023-03-01 The objective of this book is to highlight the need and value of imbuing the dynamic intersections between education, human rights and diversity with perspectives from the Global South. The chapters approach key intellectual conundrums of the day from a Global South perspective to reflect a credible scholarly footprint in Africa and in the SADC region. This is deemed timely considering that the field is deeply embedded in western Eurocentric and overall Global North dominance. This book will provide a Southern perspective on education and human rights in diversity by unpacking each of the following key areas in the intersection between education human rights and diversity from a Southern perspective comparative international perspectives citizenship education human rights literacies human rights education pedagogy learner discipline in schools aggression and bullying in schools addressing human trafficking by means of human rights education social justice and the decolonisation of human rights and human rights education

We Cannot Continue Like This Attie S. van Niekerk, Sytse Strijbos, 2022-07-14 We Cannot Continue Like This Facing Modernity in Africa and the West is a scholarly book strongly focused on the context of Africa with two chapters that are written by authors from the Netherlands for the purpose of a North South dialogue The main thesis of the book is based on the insight that the trajectory of modern development ought not to continue as it is It is ecologically unsustainable and continues to enlarge the gap between rich and poor The book centers on an academic analysis of current development practices mostly in Africa It addresses four topics that are often neglected in studies on development and sustainability listening to voices from Africa to counter the hegemony of the Global North recognizing the importance of spiritual issues in the secular affairs of society deriving theory from data that was obtained and analyzed in a systematic way and was compared with existing theories and illustrating the importance of households rather than just governments businesses or academic institutions The manuscript seeks to integrate academic reflection and insights gained from practical involvement with sustainability issues in local communities and low income households with contributions from natural and social sciences and theology The authors respond to the question How can modern science and technology help to solve dilemmas such as unsustainable development
