Cooper, 2006-06-01 This book is a reader that describes discusses and analyzes homeschooling from an array of different and international perspectives We portray the energy of this movement looking at the history of education writ large in a larger social political and religious context Like most movements in education this one is both a reaction to the problems and inadequacies of existing schools and a new direction in schooling that stands on its own This book grew out of the efforts of Associates for Research on Private Education ARPE an international organization of scholars and practitioners affiliated with the American Education Research Association AERA which has spurred interest and research on private schools for over 30 years ARPE publishes quarterly the Private School MONITOR as a means for highlighting the newest developments in the field of private education Governing the Market Robert Wade, 2018-06-05 Published originally in 1990 to critical acclaim Robert Wade s Governing the Market quickly established itself as a standard in contemporary political economy In it Wade challenged claims both of those who saw the East Asian story as a vindication of free market principles and of those who attributed the success of Taiwan and other countries to government intervention Instead Wade turned attention to the way allocation decisions were divided between markets and public administration and the synergy between them Now in a new introduction to this paperback edition Wade reviews the debate about industrial policy in East and Southeast Asia and chronicles the changing fortunes of these economies over the 1990s He extends the original argument to explain the boom of the first half of the decade and the crash of the second stressing the links between corporations banks governments international capital markets and the International Monetary Fund From this Wade goes on to outline a new agenda for national and international development policy
