Tales from the Marketplace Nigel F. Piercy, 2012-10-02 Tales from the Marketplace Stories of Revolution Reinvention and Renewal is a highly innovative approach to building an understanding of the realities of market led strategic change in companies. It provides an engaging honest and effective understanding of real market strategy in major organizations by focussing on the forces behind value driven strategy. Nigel Piercy provides new and incisive insights into strategy and marketing through business stories that are contemporary and provocative. These new stories depict how major organizations have experienced revolution in their traditional markets created by new types of competitors with new business models. The search for superior value is overtaking traditional brand and relationship strategies. The challenge to companies is reinvention and renewal and the alternative is obsolescence and decline. After all did the major banks really expect to be competing with supermarkets car companies Virgin and internet based companies to provide retail bank services. The book is based on the author's view that Business is exciting turbulent and unpredictable the stories we read and study should be too. From Dell Computers and easyJet to Amazon.com and Skoda Cars it is the most innovative companies that have most to teach us about reinvention and new business models. The inflexible analytical frameworks of the past no longer apply. Stories of reinvention and renewal show the creative strategies developed by companies to cope with threats and exploit opportunities around them. Tales from the Marketplace is essential timely and designed to be highly readable for managers. It also provides an innovative approach for undergraduate and MBA level teachers and students and for participants on executive programmes in marketing and strategic management.

A Successful Transformation? Petr Pavlínek, 2008-04-30 I started researching the dramatic changes in the automobile industry of Central and East European countries in the late 1990s. My interest grew out of my previous work on the post socialist transformation foreign direct investment and regional economic development. While researching the economic and regional development effects of foreign direct investment I was increasingly drawn to the automobile industry because of the speed and depth of its transformation through foreign direct investment and its potentially very significant economic and regional development effects. In addition to working on the Central and East European automobile industry as a whole I became interested in detailed case studies of enterprise restructuring as I wanted to understand its complex nature and the role of different actors in the restructuring of the automobile industry. In order to achieve this goal I visited dozens of automotive enterprises especially in the Czech Republic. Czechia to conduct in depth interviews with key informants. I have also interviewed key informants at ministries automotive associations and academia and collected various secondary data and information. This book is the outcome of this work. In this endeavor I have benefited from various support. The University Committee on Research and Creative Activity at the University of Nebraska at Omaha funded three field work sessions in Czechia to conduct interviews and research for this book.

market since 2008 and the story of how Chinese auto makers developed is the story of the Chinese economy in microcosm. It focuses on China's systemically important automobile sector. This book reveals how local institutions have moderated structural changes at national and global levels and consequently generated significant organizational diversity in the production sphere. This book begins with the intriguing observation that individual Chinese car makers have been evolving in different directions despite a shared context. What factors led to these diverse choices and positioning? It is the central aim of this book to explain the variety of institutional forms used by Chinese car manufacturers in navigating the market transition and answering the challenges posed by globalization.

Location Behaviour and Relationship Stability in International Business Networks Bart Kamp, 2006-12-05 This new book investigates how the relationships of international business networks (one buyer multiple suppliers) develop over time looking at the geographical angle as well as an actor composition point of view. Bart Kamp presents a framework that reveals what business-to-business (b2b) factors explain buyer-supplier co-location patterns, making it possible to predict the geographical behaviour of suppliers and also assesses whether longevity is truly the deep-rooted feature of international b2b network relationships that it is often claimed to be.

Social and Environmental Dimensions of Organizations and Supply Chains Marcus Brandenburg, Gerd J. Hahn, Tobias Rebs, 2017-07-13 This book focuses on environmental and social factors in international supply chains and industry networks. It explores whether socially responsible and environmentally conscious operations are complementary or conflictive to economic targets. The book elaborates on innovative approaches to manage the economic, ecological, and social performance in supply networks from different perspectives. In addition, it links sustainability to operational processes and illustrates specific application contexts. Moreover, it covers the social dimension of sustainability. The rise of sustainability in management forces enterprises to revisit the concept of profitability that drives their operations. Social standards and ecological targets represent critical factors that challenge industry networks. The interplay of these goals requires new insights from scientific research and managerial practice. New approaches and systems are needed to minimize environmental and social harms and to promote sustainability.
