Basic Structure of the Skin

1. The skin has three layers of complexity, each in order from the surface (epidermis) down (dermis) and hypodermis. Each skin layer has its own role in the body's defence and protection.

The top layer (epidermis) is the outermost layer. It is the most visible layer of the skin. It is the layer that is most exposed to the environment. It is the layer that is most vulnerable to damage. It is the layer that is most responsible for the skin's appearance.

2. The middle layer (dermis) is the layer below the epidermis.

3. The bottom layer (hypodermis) is the layer below the dermis.

4. The skin is made up of two main types of cells: keratinocytes and melanocytes.

5. The skin is also made up of many different types of structures, including hair, nails, and sweat glands.
