Teaching the Middle Ages through Modern Games Robert Houghton, 2022-10-24 Games can act as invaluable tools for the teaching of the Middle Ages The learning potential of physical and digital games is increasingly undeniable at every level of historical study These games can provide a foundation of information through their stories and worlds They can foster understanding of complex systems through their mechanics and rules Their very nature requires the player to learn to progress The educational power of games is particularly potent within the study of the Middle Ages These games act as the first or most substantial introduction to the period for many students and can strongly influence their understanding of the era Within the classroom they can be deployed to introduce new and alien themes to students typically unfamiliar with the subject matter swiftly and effectively They can foster an interest in and understanding of the medieval world through various innovative means and hence act as a key educational tool This volume presents a series of essays addressing the practical use of games of all varieties as teaching tools within Medieval Studies and related fields In doing so it provides examples of the use of games at pre university undergraduate and postgraduate levels of study and considers the application of commercial games development of bespoke historical games use of game design as a learning process and use of games outside the classroom As such the book is a flexible and diverse pedagogical resource and its methods may be readily adapted to the teaching of different medieval themes or other periods of history American/Medieval Goes North Gillian R. Overing, Ulrike Wiethaus, 2019-10-07 One of the great virtues of American Medieval Goes North is its wide range of contributors with fascinatingly diverse relationships to the main terms of analysis There are academic scholars poets filmmakers tribal elders teachers at various levels there are Indigenous people people from settler colonial cultures expats immigrants Their analytic and imaginative encounters with the North catch at the intensely symbolic and political charge of that locus At a time when Medieval Studies cannot afford to ignore the period's popular uptake cannot continue with business as usual in the face of white supremacists brazen appropriations of the Middle Ages this volume points to new possibilities for grappling with the uneasy relationships between the American and the medieval Prof Carolyn Dinshaw New York University

Ethics and Medievalism Karl Fugelso, 2014 Essays on the modern reception of the Middle Ages built round the central theme of the ethics of medievalism Ethics in post medieval responses to the Middle Ages form the main focus of this volume The six opening essays tackle such issues as the legitimacy of reinventing medieval customs and ideas at what point the production and enjoyment of caricaturizing the Middle Ages become inappropriate how medievalists treat disadvantaged communities and the tension between political action and ethics in medievalism The eight subsequent articles then build on this foundation as they concentrate on capitalist motives for melding superficially incompatible narratives in medievalist video games Dan Brown's use of Dante's Inferno to promote a positivist transhumanist agenda disjunctures from medieval literature to medievalist film in portrayals of human sacrifice the influence of Beowulf on horror films and vice versa portrayals of war in Beowulf films socialism in William Morris's translation of Beowulf bias in Charles Alfred Stothard's Monumental Effigies of Great Britain and a medieval source for death in the Harry Potter novels The volume as a whole invites and informs a much larger discussion on such vital issues as the ethical choices medievalists make the implications of those choices for their makers and the impact of those choices on the world around us Karl Fugelso is Professor of Art History at Towson University in Baltimore Maryland Contributors Mary R Bowman Harry Brown Louise D Arcens Alison Gulley Nickolas Haydock Lisa Hicks Lesley E Jacobs Michael R Kightley Phillip Lindley Pascal J Massie Lauryn S Mayer Brent Moberley Kevin Moberley Daniel Raymond Nadon Jason Pitruzello Nancy M Resh Carol L Robinson Christopher Roman M J Toswell
