Boating, 1995-07 Experimental Museology Marianne Achiam, Michael Haldrup, Kirsten Drotner, 2021-06-28

Experimental Museology scrutinizes innovative endeavours to transform museum interactions with the world Analysing cutting edge cases from around the globe the volume demonstrates how museums can design apply and assess new modes of audience engagement and participation Written by an interdisciplinary group of researchers and research led professionals the book argues that museum transformations must be focused on conceptualizing and documenting the everyday challenges and choices facing museums especially in relation to wider social political and economic ramifications In order to illuminate the complexity of these challenges the volume is structured into three related key dimensions of museum practice namely institutions representations and users Each chapter is based on a curatorial design proposed and performed in collaboration between university based academics and a museum Taken together the chapters provide insights into a diversity of geographical contexts fields and museums thus building a comprehensive and reflexive repository of design practices and formative experiments that can help strengthen future museum research and design Experimental Museology will be of great value to academics and students in the fields of museum gallery and heritage studies as well as architecture design communication and cultural studies It will also be of interest to museum professionals and anyone else who is interested in learning more about experimentation and design as resources in museums The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Spaces, Spatiality and Technology Phil Turner, Elisabeth Davenport, 2005-04-05 separated by the exigencies of the design life cycle into another compartment that makes invisible the prior technical work of engineers that is not directly pertinent to the application work of practitioners More recently and notably after the work of Greisemer and Star the black box has been opened and infrastructure has been discussed in terms of the social relations of an extended group of actors that includes developers Ethical and political issues are involved of accountable computing Writing broadly within this context Day chapter 11 proposes that the concept of surface can assist us to explore space as the product of power and the affective and expressive role for materials rather than the background to this Surfaces are the variously textured sites for mixtures between bodies and are thus the sites for events The notions of folding and foldability and unfolding are discussed at length as metaphors that account for the interactions of bodies in space across time Some of the contributors to this volume focus on ways in which we may experience multiple infrastructures Dix and his colleagues for example in chapter 12 explore a complex of models of spatial context of mixed reality boundaries and of human spatial understanding across a number of field projects that make up the Equator project to explain the ways in which co existing multiple spaces are experienced
