Commissions Matthew Dyson, James Lee, Shona Wilson Stark, 2016-11-03 This book brings together past and present law commissioners judges practitioners academics and law reformers to analyse the past present and future of the Law Commissions in the United Kingdom and beyond Its internationally recognised authors bring a wealth of experience and insight into how and why law reform does and should take place covering statutory and non statutory reform from national and international perspectives The chapters of the book developed from papers given at a conference to mark the fiftieth anniversary of the Law Commissions Act 1965 The Oxford Guide to the Bantu Languages Lutz Marten, Ellen

Hurst-Harosh, Nancy C. Kula, Jochen Zeller, 2025-08-19 This volume brings together leading scholars from Africa Europe the Americas and beyond to provide a detailed account of the languages of the Bantu family which cover an area from Cameroon and Kenya in the north to South Africa in the south The Bantu family is part of the Niger Congo phylum and one of the world's biggest language groups comprising around 500 languages The family includes major languages with large numbers of speakers such as Zulu Kinyarwanda and Swahili the most widely spoken and taught African language as well as many community languages and several endangered languages Bantu languages feature prominently in the complex and multilingual language ecologies that are characteristic of the linguistic situation in much of Africa and they provide rich evidence for the study of theoretical and comparative linguistics language contact and language change They play an important role in education commerce culture and artistic expression in the media and public discourse in governance and social justice and are central to the future of the continent and the well being of its communities The first part of The Oxford Guide to the Bantu Languages provides background and context with chapters exploring the history of research in the field language and prehistory in Bantu speaking Africa and typology and variation Chapters in the second part offer broad comparative overviews of Bantu phonology morphology syntax semantics and pragmatics socio and applied linguistics before Parts III VII cover more specific topics in Bantu linguistics across a variety of subfields ranging from structural issues such as the augment and melodic tone to historical and sociolinguistic topics such as Bantu languages in the diaspora and language policy and standardization The chapters in the final part offer individual structural overviews of a range of languages from across the Bantu speaking area The book will be an essential resource for students and researchers specializing in the Bantu languages and for typologists and comparative linguists more broadly

Marine Ecosystem Assessment for the Southern Ocean: Meeting the Challenge for Conserving Earth Ecosystems in the Long Term Monica M. C.

Muelbert, 2024-12-24 National and international agencies need assessments of change in ecosystems and their drivers in order to sustain natural systems to maintain the delivery of services and to meet the challenge for conserving Earth ecosystems in the long term In marine systems change may arise directly from human activities e g fisheries indirectly from local or global activities cascading effects through food webs from fisheries or changing environments from climate change and or ocean acidification or from naturally varying processes A particular challenge for managers is to identify how dangerous future climate change will be for ecosystems and their services and whether mitigation or adaptation may be needed in advance in order to achieve the conservation requirements For regions of international attention particularly those that have the attention of many management or policy oriented bodies a standardized process is needed to harmonize the scientific information on the status and trends in ecosystems used by the different bodies That process also needs to ensure the information is available in a timely manner For example assessments of change in habitats species and or food webs in the Southern Ocean are currently compiled separately for at least ten different international organizations or processes A Marine Ecosystem Assessment for the Southern Ocean MEASO aims to harmonize that information for policy makers This assessment began with an international conference in April 2018 <http://www.measo2018.aq> where it was agreed to undertake the first MEASO over 2018-2019 with the view to provide the outcomes to relevant bodies such as the Scientific Committee for the Conservation of Antarctic Marine Living Resources soon after

Media Analysis and Public Health Lesley Henderson, Shona Hilton, Judith Green, 2020-06-29 This volume showcases new approaches to studying public health in traditional and emerging media suggesting that we need more analyses that focus on the production of media and on power dynamics as well as studies of audience reception of media messages The collection asks a variety of questions about the role of media in analysing public health Contributors ask who is influential in producing the stories we see in the press and on social media Who benefits and who is damaged by media debates on health topics They investigate the role of big business in seeking to shape public opinion and consumption in print and online media how issues such as hand washing come to be framed over time by newspapers how conflicts over immunisations get covered how health promotion messages do their work and the positive role of online media in helping foster drug safety Together they reach the conclusion that since mass media is a crucial element of civic society more in depth understanding of how it works and what impacts it has on public health is essential Given the crucial role of the media in shaping health debates pushing certain issues up the policy agenda defining problems for audiences and presenting potential solutions this book's analysis will be of interest to all those studying how the media shape policy as well as public health researchers with an interest in mass communication This book was originally published as a special issue of Critical Public Health
