Crystal Structure Analysis for Chemists and Biologists Jenny P. Glusker, Mitchell Lewis, Miriam Rossi, 1996-12-17

The fields of structural chemistry and biochemistry have blossomed in the last seventy years since X ray diffraction was discovered in 1912 Dorothy Hodgkin who obtained a Nobel Prize in 1965 for her X ray diffraction work wrote a great advantage of X ray analysis as a method of chemical structure analysis is its power to show some totally unexpected and surprising structure with at the same time complete certainty The results of all X ray diffraction studies are used by chemists and buiochemists but these scientists need to be able to appreciate the significance and extent to which these results may be used A number of books written for practicing crystallographers cover the theory and applications of X ray diffraction but few are of real practical use to non specialists In Crystal Structure Analysis for Biologists and Chemists the general principles of crystal structure are presented in a highly readable way The book of Glusker who is internationally renowned provides good coverage of theory including data and understanding their significance Pacific Ports Manual ,1920 Manual of Techniques in Insect Pathology Lawrence A. Keeves, Ryo Watanabe, 2013-11-11 The aim of the Handbook is to present readily accessible but scholarly sources of information about educational research in the Asia Pacific region The scale and scope of the Handbook is such that the articles included in it provide substantive contributions to knowledge and understanding of education in the Asia region In so doing the articles present the problems and issues facing education in the region and the findings of research conducted within the region that contribute to the resolution of these problems and issues Moreover since new problems and issues are constantly arising the articles in the Handbook also indicate the likely directions of future developments The different articles within the Handbook seek to conceptualize the problems in each specific content area under review provide an integration of the research conducted within that area the theoretical basis of the research the practical implications of the research and the contribution of the research towards the resolution of the problems identified Thus the articles do not involve the reporting of newly conducted research but rather require a synthesis of the research undertaken in a particular area with reference to the research methods employed and the theoretical frameworks on which the research is based In general the articles do not advocate a single point of view but rather present alternative points of view and comment on the debate and disagreements associated with the conduct and findings of the research Furthermore it should be noted that the Handbook is not concerned with research methodology and only considers the methods employed in inquiry in so far as the particular methods of research contribute to the effective investigation of problems and issues that have arisen in the conduct and provision of education at different levels within the region
