Transgressive Romanticism Larry H. Peer, 2018-04-18 Romanticism is an intuitive grasp of the self and the other in an interdependent imperative non systematic transcendent radically individuated and endlessly interconnective The set of norms Romanticism represents and broadcasts therefore lends itself particularly well to interdisciplinary and cross linguistic study essentially demanding a view coming from and constructed out of more than one discourse field These norms radically transgress not only the cultural and literary inheritance of thinkers and artists beginning in the late eighteenth century but do so in a transnational and comparative way unique in Western history This collection of essays bringing together established scholars and newer academic voices offers fresh perspectives on what Romanticism thought itself to be by suggesting spaces in Romanticism studies needing negotiation and elaboration Presenting a protocol that escapes the circular referentiality of Romanticism studies typically limited to one academic discipline or one language area this volume works through topics and ideas including Hegelian reflections lyric poetry stage drama music political implications and even vampires outlaws and zombies

Reading the Great American Zombie T. May Stone, 2023-08-02 Challenging the human understanding of life and death the zombie figure represents a fragmentation of personhood From its earliest appearances in literature the zombie characterized a human being that was no longer an indivisible whole embodying the ontological debate over which elements of personhood are most uniquely human Through its literary evolution the zombie's missing element gradually approached a finer definition as narratives moved beyond highlighting metaphysically opaque concepts like soul or will Studying over a century of American literary history this book explores how zombies translate cultural concepts and definitions of personhood Chapters detail how literary zombies have long presented narratives of American cultural self examination
