Lerch,2017-10-12 National and global efforts have failed to stop climate change transition from fossil fuels and reduce inequality We must now confront these and other increasingly complex problems by building resilience at the community level The Community Resilience Reader combines a fresh look at the challenges humanity faces in the 21st century the essential tools of resilience science and the wisdom of activists scholars and analysts working on the ground to present a new vision for creating resilience It shows that resilience is a process not a goal how it requires learning to adapt but also preparing to transform and that it starts and ends with the people living in a community From Post Carbon Institute the producers of the award winning The Post Carbon Reader The Community Resilience Reader is a valuable resource for community leaders college students and concerned citizens J.M. Coetzee and Neoliberal Culture Andrew Gibson,2022-08-11 This book presents J M Coetzee s work as a complex nuanced counterblast to contemporary global neoliberal economics and its societies Not surprisingly given his many years in South Africa and Australia Coetzee writes from a global Southern perspective Drawing on a wealth of literature philosophy and theory the book reads Coetzee s writings as a discreet oblique but devastating engagement with neoliberal presumptions It identifies and focuses on various key features of neoliberal culture its obsession with self enrichment mastery growth its belief in plenitude endless resources its hubris and obsession with self promotion its desire for ease and easiness well being euphoria its fetishization of managerial reason and the culture of security its unrelenting positivity its belief in illusory goods and trivial progressivisms By contrast Coetzee s writings explore the virtues of irony and self reduction He commits himself to difficulty discomfort patient and austere if bleak inquiry rigorous questioning and radical doubt Destitution and failure come to look like a serious dignified form of life and thought The very tones of Coetzee s books run counter to those of our neoliberal democracies They point in a different direction to an age that has gone astray 'One Planet' Cities David Thorpe,2019-04-30 This book addresses the crucial question of how the essential needs of the growing human population can be met without breaking the Earth s already stretched life support system With four out of five people predicted to be urban dwellers by 2080 One Planet Cities proposes a pathway to genuine sustainability for cities and neighbourhoods using an approach based on contraction and convergence Utilising interviews with key players including the Global Footprint Network World Future Council WWF mayors and government officials and case studies from across the globe including Europe North and South America Australia South Africa China and India David Thorpe examines all aspects of modern society from food provision to neighbourhood design via industry the circular economy energy and transport through the critical lens of the ecological footprint and relevant supporting international standards and indicators Recommendations on managing supply chains and impacts how the transition to a world within limits might be financed and a deep examination of the Welsh Government s pioneering efforts follow It concludes with an imagined vision of what a genuinely sustainable future might be like and an appeal for one planeters everywhere to step up to the challenge This book will be of great interest to practitioners and policymakers involved in governance administration urban environments and sustainability alongside students of the built environment urban planning environmental policy and energy Earthling Dean Wallraff,2023-11-25 Climate Change is the most important ethical problem humanity is facing right now We are in the process of harming the Earth in ways that will diminish the quality of life for many future generations Our old human centrism our national tribalism and our short term perspectives must give way to new ways of thinking that give moral standing to other animals and that take global and long term perspectives In the year 3000 humankind will look back to the present century which dramatically altered the planet s climate and ecosystems Will they curse us as destroyers of the earthly paradise humankind enjoyed until now To avoid this we need to change our approach to ethics economics sustainability politics and law Earthling A New Ethics for the Anthropocene addresses sustainability economics politics and law as important factors in climate ethics It aims to both help with understanding these issues and present potential solutions for the problem THE ART OF COFFEE DAVID SANDUA, In The Art of Coffee we are invited on a journey through the fascinating world of coffee exploring its rich history to the most modern brewing techniques This book is not just for coffee lovers but also for those curious about the cultural and social roots of this beloved beverage From the coffee farms around the world to the steaming cups in the most sophisticated cafes The Art of Coffee shows us how coffee has evolved and integrated into our daily lives Through an engaging and detailed narrative we will learn about different bean varieties roasting methods and the secrets of a great espresso Additionally the book includes interviews with experts and baristas providing a unique insight into the coffee industry With full color illustrations and photographs each page is a visual delight that perfectly accompanies the wealth of information presented The Art of Coffee is a celebration of one of the world s most cherished drinks and an essential guide for any enthusiast wishing to delve into the art and science behind an excellent cup of coffee Decarbonization of Cities in Asia Vincent S. Cheng,Guo-Jun Li,2023-09-12 This book provides best practices for decarbonizing cities in East Asia in which buildings are the major contributor to carbon emissions Beyond the global commitment through the Paris Agreement to make collective efforts on climate action and accelerated policies investment and development at the country and city level to combat climate change are occurring at an unprecedented rate Rapid urbanization and increasing energy demand for large and dense Asian cities require smart and sustainable strategies to balance development with decarbonization A poly centric approach is needed where a combination of policy market and technology driven changes can aid the transition towards development of carbon neutral cities With practical examples in the implementation of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals green financing climate action roadmap and policy deployment of renewable energy and low to zero carbon buildings readers can find the motivation considerations and implementation pathways to facilitate the transition into the new normal It is the hope of the authors to encourage readers to see successful pathways in transitioning into a carbon free industry and overcoming the effects of climate extremes Environment and Sustainability in a Globalizing World Andrea J. Nightingale,2019-03-27 From the Foundations in Global Studies series this student friendly text follows a two pronged approach to help readers understand the globalizing processes relating to environment and sustainability which are examined in a range of disciplines including environmental studies geography global studies political science international affairs comparative politics and other disciplines First it presents foundational material that gives students the conceptual underpinnings required for rigorous analysis Following the Introduction and Overview Part One presents a brief historical overview of the concerns revolving around environmental sustainability in the modern era The text then covers key concepts and theoretical constructs that define the global context for sustainable environmental practices such as the key thinkers and theories pertaining to sustainable environmental practice and the key international agencies and treaties involved in global discussions The first part then explores the various models and ways to measure sustainability the range of environmental domains at play in the sustainability dialogue and the controversies surrounding them Part Two employs case studies to examine theory and practice at work in particular situations The case studies have been selected with an eye toward comprehensiveness of coverage across disciplines and across regions

Sustainable Action Christian Berg, 2019-11-13 In this timely exploration of sustainable actions Christian Berg unpacks the complexity in understanding the barriers we face in moving towards a sustainable future providing solution perspectives for every level from individuals to governments and supra national organizations offering a lucid vision of a long term and achievable goal for sustainability While the 2030 Agenda has already set ambitious targets for humanity it offers little guidance for concrete actions Although much is already being done progress seems slow and some actions aiming at sustainability may be counterproductive Different disciplines societal actors governmental departments and NGOs attribute the slow progress to a number of different causes from the corruption of politicians to the wrong incentive structures Sustainable Action surveys all the fields involved in sustainability to provide action principles which speak to actors of different kinds not just those professionally mandated with such changes It offers a road map to all those who might not constantly think about systems change but who are concerned and want to contribute to a sustainable future in a meaningful way This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of sustainability issues as well as those looking for a framework for how to change their systems at work to impact the quadruple bottom line environment economy society and future generations
