Continuing Sequences From Patterns

Draw the fourth term of each sequence and answer the questions.

How many sticks would be needed to make the 6th term?

- The image shows four identical sets of house outlines arranged horizontally. Each set consists of a single house outline on the left and three adjacent house outlines on the right, designed for tracing practice.

How many sticks would be needed to make the 5th term?

- The image shows a sequence of four bar graphs, each consisting of three vertical bars. The first graph has heights of 2, 2, and 1. The second graph has heights of 3, 3, and 2. The third graph has heights of 4, 4, and 3. The fourth graph has heights of 5, 5, and 4. Each bar is outlined in black and filled with a light beige color.

Which term is made with 35 sticks?

- 4)                       

Can a term be made using 5-1 sticks? Explain your reasoning.

How many sticks are needed for the 10th term?

- The diagram illustrates four stages of filling a 2x2 grid with shaded cells. Stage 1 shows a single shaded cell in the top-left position. Stage 2 adds a second shaded cell directly below the first. Stage 3 adds a third shaded cell directly to the right of the second. Stage 4 shows all four cells in the grid shaded.

Can a term be made using 19 white tiles? Explain your answer.

How many dots will be needed for the 12th term?

- The diagram illustrates the construction of a staircase. It consists of three horizontal rows of small squares. The first row has 4 squares. The second row has 3 squares, starting from the second square of the first row. The third row has 2 squares, starting from the third square of the first row. This represents a staircase with 2 steps, where each step is 1 square wide and 1 square high.

This pattern is different from the others.
Can you explain how?

Pattern Recognition Rudolf Mester, Michael Felsberg, 2011-09-02

This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 33rd Symposium of the German Association for Pattern Recognition DAGM 2011 held in Frankfurt Main Germany in August/September 2011. The 20 revised full papers and 22 revised poster papers were carefully reviewed and selected from 98 submissions. The papers are organized in topical sections on object recognition, adverse vision conditions, shape and matching, segmentation and early vision, robot vision, machine learning and motion. The volume also includes the young researcher's forum, a section where a carefully selected ensemble of young researchers present their Master thesis work.

Pattern Recognition Michael Goesele, Stefan Roth, Arjan Kuijper, Bernt Schiele, Konrad Schindler, 2010-09-17

On behalf of the organizing committee we would like to welcome you to Darmstadt and DAGM 2010, the 32 Annual Symposium of the German Association for Pattern Recognition. The technical program covered all aspects of pattern recognition and to name only a few areas ranged from 3D reconstruction to object recognition and medical applications. The result is reflected in these proceedings which contain the papers presented at DAGM 2010. Our call for papers resulted in 134 submissions from institutions in 21 countries. Each paper underwent a rigorous reviewing process and was assigned to at least three program committee members for review. The reviewing phase was followed by a discussion phase among the respective program committee members in order to suggest papers for acceptance. The final decision was taken during a program committee meeting held in Darmstadt based on all reviews, the discussion results and if necessary additional reviewing. Based on this rigorous process we selected a total of 57 papers corresponding to an acceptance rate of below 45%. Out of all accepted papers 24 were chosen for oral and 33 for poster presentation. All accepted papers have been published in these proceedings and given the same number of pages. We would like to thank all members of the program committee as well as the external reviewers for their valuable and highly appreciated contribution to the community.

Neural Organization Michael A. Arbib, Péter Erdi, János Szentágothai, 1998

In Neural Organization Arbib, Erdi and Szentagothai integrate structural, functional and dynamical approaches to the interaction of brain models and neurobiological experiments. Both structure-based bottom up and function-based top down models offer coherent concepts by which to evaluate the experimental data. The goal of this book is to point out the advantages of a multidisciplinary, multistrategied approach to the brain. Part I of Neural Organization provides a detailed introduction to each of the three areas of structure, function and dynamics. Structure refers to the anatomical aspects of the brain and the relations between different brain regions Function refers to skills and behaviors which are explained by means of functional schemas and biologically based neural networks Dynamics refers to the use of a mathematical framework to analyze the temporal change of neural activities and synaptic connectivities that underlie brain development and plasticity in terms of both detailed single cell models and large scale network models In part II the authors show how their systematic approach can be used to analyze specific parts of the nervous system the olfactory system hippocampus thalamus cerebral cortex cerebellum and basal ganglia as well as to integrate data from the study of brain regions functional models and the dynamics of neural networks In conclusion they offer a plan for the use of their methods in the development of cognitive neuroscience

An Introduction to Neural Networks Kevin Gurney, 1997-08-05 Though mathematical ideas underpin the study of neural networks the author presents the fundamentals without the full mathematical apparatus All aspects of the field are tackled including artificial neurons as models of their real counterparts the geometry of network action in pattern space gradient descent methods including back propagation associative memory and Hopfield nets and self organization and feature maps The traditionally difficult topic of adaptive resonance theory is clarified within a hierarchical description of its operation The book also includes several real world examples to provide a concrete focus This should enhance its appeal to those involved in the design construction and management of networks in commercial environments and who wish to improve their understanding of network simulator packages As a comprehensive and highly accessible introduction to one of the most important topics in cognitive and computer science this volume should interest a wide range of readers both students and professionals in cognitive science psychology computer science and electrical engineering

Solution of Partial Differential Equations on Vector and Parallel Computers James M. Ortega, Robert G.
