Zimsec O Level Green Books 2014:

Integral Green Zimbabwe Elizabeth Mamukwa, Ronnie Lessem, Alexander Schieffer, 2016-05-23 Integral Green Zimbabwe An African Phoenix Rising by Ronnie Lessem Alexander Schieffer and Liz Mamukwa is the first book in the Integral Green Society and Economy series a series which has three overarching aims The first aim is to link together two major movements of our time one philosophical the other practical The philosophical movement is towards what many today are calling an integral age while the practical is the green movement duly aligned with that of sustainable development The second is to blend together elements of nature and community culture and spirituality science and technology politics and economics thus serving to bring about an integral green vision albeit with a focus on business and economics As such the authors transcend the limitations to sustainable development and environmental economics which are overly ecological if not also technological in orientation and exclude social and cultural elements Thirdly this particular volume focuses specifically on Zimbabwe as well as Southern Africa drawing on the particular issues and capacities that this country and region represents The emphasis on Zimbabwe and Southern Africa transpired not only because two of the editors Lessem and Mamukwa are Zimbabwean in origin but because Zimbabwe is today like a phoenix rising from the ashes and has the opportunity to recreate itself anew

Integral Ubuntu Leadership Passmore Musungwa Matupire, 2016-10-04 The four worlds as we know them today the North West South and East are out of balance The West and the North generally dominate on a global scale while the South and the East lag behind This also happens at individual societal and organisational levels It is clear that there is a need to change the way we lead our organisations in business and the way we think about leading in politics Here is a comprehensive exploration of the Integral Leadership challenges of the twenty first century The author combines the African philosophy of Ubuntu or humanness the cornerstone of African thought and life with the concept of Integral Leadership with particular reference to Lessem and Schieffer's combining in their 2010 book Integral Research and Innovation of nature and community culture and spirituality science and technology and politics and economics This connectedness in the new paradigm of wholeness and relatedness goes beyond the relationships of human beings alone and involves experiences with nature and community Leadership is viewed from an indigenous and exogenous perspective bringing together a newly Integral approach which will also introduce industry ecology and knowledge ecology as an evolution of the Ubuntu philosophy The author offers a unique forum through which to commit to paper the operationalisation of the Integral Ubuntu Leadership model in catalysing development efforts and in CARE ing for communities and societies

Infrastructures for Peace in Sub-Saharan Africa Mediel Hove, Geoff Harris, 2019-06-14 Cultures of violence are characteristic of many countries in sub Saharan Africa and attempts to move towards cultures of peace have often proved difficult and ineffectual And yet the wide variations in levels of violence within and between countries show that it is not inevitable rather it is the result of choices made at individual community and societal levels This book examines the potential of peace infrastructures as vehicles to strengthen and spread progress towards cultures of peace Peace infrastructures vary hugely in sophistication and level The examples examined in this book range from tiny structures which help resolve conflicts between individuals and within community organisations peace committees which serve local communities peace education and peace club programmes in schools mediation mechanisms to prevent election violence and to ministries of peace to coordinate government and non government efforts in peacemaking and peacebuilding The overall finding is that the development of peace infrastructures at all levels has great potential to build cultures of peace 1 It is the only book available which documents the experience and potential of nonviolence in post independence sub Saharan Africa 2 It makes a persuasive case for the development of various peace infrastructures in order to make peace sustainable 3 It explains how strategic planning can be utilised both to bring about change and to institutionalise it

Dialogues in Climate and Environmental Research, Policy and Planning Innocent Chirisa, 2020-07-03 Climate change is the topic of the century. It is a subject of discussion by sceptics, heretics and those that have immersed in it as a serious debate for engagement. In this volume the matter is localised to the plateau bordered by the great rivers of Limpopo to the south and Zambezi to the north. Evidence has it that climate change is inducing immense environmental change hitherto unknown including water stress and droughts, heat waves and flooding. The effects span across all sectors: agriculture, forestry, engineering, construction and other socio-economic dimensions of life. When an issue becomes such topical it becomes political but also courts policy debate. The thrust of this volume is to explore into climate change as an environmental concern begging government attention and requiring prioritisation as a shaper of our future: whether we set to put mitigation or adaptation measures in place or we choose to do nothing about it as sceptics would perhaps suggest. The book explores climate change as a theoretical, policy, technical and practical debate as it affects sectors and rural and urban spatialities in Zimbabwe. Contributions explore such themes as regional research, gender, disaster preparedness, policymaking, resilience, governance, urban planning, risk management, environmental law and the food-water-health-energy-climate change nexus. Military Review, 2019

Emerging Technologies and Marketing Strategies for Sustainable Agriculture Garwi, Jabulani, Masengu, Reason, Chiwaridzo, Option Takunda, 2024-04-09 In the face of escalating environmental challenges and growing concerns about food security the agricultural industry is at a critical juncture. Conventional farming practices deplete natural resources, pollute the environment and contribute to climate change. This unsustainable approach is jeopardizing the future of agriculture and endangering the well-being of communities worldwide. To address these pressing issues an urgent need for transformative solutions that promote sustainability and resilience in agriculture. Emerging Technologies and Marketing Strategies for Sustainable Agriculture offers a compelling solution to the agricultural industry's challenges. The book demonstrates the transformative power of sustainable agriculture and marketing by showcasing inspiring case studies and innovative approaches worldwide. It provides practical insights and strategies for creating a more sustainable and resilient food system empowering farmers, policymakers, educators and consumers to make informed decisions and take action towards a more sustainable future. Chase's Calendar of Events 2014 with CD-ROM Editors of Chase's Calendar of Events, 2013-10-10 4 000 notable birthdays 1 400 historical anniversaries 650 national and international holidays 160 religious holidays and thousands of additional days of note from all over the globe. Sandset,2020-09-02 This book considers the change in rhetoric surrounding the treatment of AIDS from one of crisis to that of ending AIDS Exploring what it means to end AIDS and how responsibility is framed in this new discourse the author considers the tensions generated between the individual and the state in terms of notions such as risk responsibility and prevention Based on analyses public health promotions in the UK and the US HIV prevention science and engaging with the work of Foucault this volume argues that the discourse of ending AIDS implies a tension filled space in which global principles and values may clash with localised needs values and concerns in which evidence based policies strive for hegemony over local tacit and communal regimes of knowledge and in which desires compete with national and international ideas about what is best for the individual in the name of ending AIDS writ large As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology and media studies with interests in the sociology of medicine and health medical communication and health policy

The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Publications,2015-09-10 The African continent is currently in the midst of simultaneously unfolding and highly significant demographic economic technological environmental urban and socio political transitions Africa s economic performance is promising with booming cities supporting growing middle classes and creating sizable consumer markets Despite significant overall growth the continent continues to suffer under very rapid urban growth accompanied by massive urban poverty and many other social problems These seem to indicate that the development trajectories followed by African nations since post independence may not be able to deliver on the aspirations of broad based human development and prosperity for all This report therefore argues for a bold re imagining of prevailing models in order to steer the ongoing transitions towards greater sustainability based on a thorough review of all available options That is especially the case since the already daunting urban challenges in Africa are now being exacerbated by the new vulnerabilities and threats associated with climate and environmental change Clinical Cases in Tropical Medicine

Agricultural Reform in Rwanda Chris Huggins,2017-10-15 International observers have lauded Rwanda as an example of an African country taking control of its own development trajectory and as a market friendly destination for investment A key component of this narrative has been an ambitious programme of agricultural reform involving private firms NGOs and international charities The Rwandan government claims these reforms have been a resounding success tripling crop yields and helping to combat hunger Chris Huggins argues however that Rwanda s liberal modernising image sits poorly with the regime s continuing authoritarian tendencies Featuring in depth case studies of the effects of agricultural reform in three different regions and drawing on hundreds of interviews Huggins shows that the much vaunted liberalization of agriculture has in fact depended on the coercion of Rwandan farmers and in many cases has had a detrimental impact on their livelihoods With the Kagame regime now coming under increasing international scrutiny this work provides a timely look at the impact of market friendly authoritarianism in contemporary Africa making essential reading for students and scholars of development in the fields of sociology anthropology political science and economics

Mean Streets Jonathan Crush,Abel Chikanda,2015-11-16 This book powerfully demonstrates that some of the most resourceful entrepreneurs in the South African informal economy are migrants and refugees Yet far from being lauded they take their life into their hands when they trade on South Africa s mean streets The book draws attention to what they bring to their adopted country through research into previously unexamined areas of migrant entrepreneurship Ranging from studies of how migrants have created agglomeration economies in Jeppe and Ivory Park in Johannesburg to guanxi networks of Chinese entrepreneurs to competition and cooperation among Somali shop owners to cross border informal traders to the informal transport operators between South Africa and Zimbabwe the chapters in this book reveal the positive economic contributions of migrants these include generating employment paying rents providing cheaper goods to poor consumers and supporting formal sector wholesalers and retailers As well Mean Streets highlights the xenophobic responses to migrant and refugee entrepreneurs and the challenges they face in running a successful business on the streets
