as a competitive advantage Developing Tailored Supply Strategies Nancy Y. Moore, Clifford Anthony Grammich, Robert W. Bickel, 2007 Purchased goods and services are an increasingly large proportion of public and private enterprise budgets Historically purchased goods and services have accounted for less than a third of an enterprise's budget but today many enterprises spend more than two thirds of their budgets on purchased goods and services Similarly the Air Force and the Department of Defense DoD spend nearly half their budgets for purchased goods and services and an additional sixth on weapon procurement with only a third going to military and civilian personnel costs See pp 1 6 Because of the growing importance of purchasing many enterprises have sought to develop supply strategies for their purchased goods and services This monograph is intended as a resource for procurement personnel developing supply strategies for the Air Force or DoD It does not analyze current military procurement practices but rather synthesizes academic business and professional literature on developing and applying supply strategies Its core is a synthesis of nearly a dozen different processes found in the literature
